Hey Tom...
Im not so sure that it was your mouth that got your club vaporized! Ive been doing some searching and have discovered that numerous other club founders have experienced the same mysterious disapperance of their clubs.
All MAY not be lost. Perhaps there was a server glitch that lost data but there probably are back-up files to restore lost data.
Try sending an inquiry to the Yahoo! customer care center regarding your club. They might at least be able to tell you what actually happened.

Hey Hey -- Audio Filter built, pix in the photos area! This one's more suited to the VFO crowd, chops off nearby highs & lows for a one-on-one with the contact you're working. Took me 3 or 4 hours total to build, but that's with television blaring, daughter "helping" and other sundries to interrupt the project. This thing's made by Vectronics, and when I called to check on the status of the order (backordered for a couple months) I got MFJ and y'all know that name! Simple project and highly recommended. Get it with the box though unless open PC boards & wires are part of your shack's design.

Had to dart out to Rat Shack to pick up a couple more accessories for it - a cable to connect it to the radio, an adapter for the speaker jack, and a 9v battery. Powered 'er up, and works like a champ! I even installed the slide switch the right way (the instructions had left that detail out). For a few hours and less than $40 it was well worth the money!

This type of filter is exactly what I need for my Yaesu FT-840. The IF Shift works ok, but a nice audio notch filter will make talking to Bobtail on 20m much easier on my ears. The 840 is nice, but the filtering leaves much to be desired.

Too bad Yaesu couldn't have put $20.00 additional into their rig from the factory.

I FEEL a lot older sometimes, hi hi! Saw an article in the July QST on a "junk box shorty forty" antenna, the only thing the author did was change the dimensions of the coil from the ARRL Antenna Handbook. Wish I understood all the math behind that stuff, I have a long way to go with fully understanding skyhooks!

Feeling old I know what you mean I`m only 5 years behind ya but some mornings I feel like I 20 years ahead of ya.LOL ...

As for the math on antenna`s your way way ahead of me on that stuff I`m still learning from some of your post I read .
But I`m pretty good at figuring thing out like the radio you see me use in my pic`s the Ranger 2950 I remodifide it my self because the guy I bought it from didnt have some of the mods setup right so I looked at the blue print for the gut`s of the radio and presto it worked better . Well so the meters tell me and everyone says I sound real good .

Plus being at my age I`m sorta out of that "I need MORE POWER" phase on AM I run my 2950 right at 4 watts well with a swing of up to 20 watts
then 40 on SSB

Well to make a long story real short I might try out some new kind of antenna someday even if the antron 99 works good .

well talk to ya later

Well, from what I hear about A-99s they're great all-around antennas (literally). Yours should last you a lifetime. With 40w out sideband, that's easily enough to work the world with. As for a new antenna, I've had a Create Design 4-element beam that I wasn't allowed to put up after I moved, and then I lost most of the parts in a trash pickup mistake. From that time forward I went with wires and have been quite happy with 'em! They're extremely portable, nearly invisible, and directional if I want 'em to be. Who cares if it's only in 2 directions at a time, it's DX most of the time anyway. I'm just "squeezing" the signal into a figure 8 and whether it's a single hop up the Coast or halfway around the world, DX is DX!

Speaking of which, the clouds they are a-gathering and time to fold it all up for another day. Hit into NJ & Delaware this afternoon, good enough for the air time I've had!

From: kj7gs

I don't think I threw in any posts yet about a linear-loaded shortened dipole, pictures in the photos area. Credit where credit's due, this is straight out of the ARRL Antenna Book. It's made from 450-ohm ladder line, 67-70% of 468/f (half-wave dipole), or about 12' 1" plus a couple of inches so you can strip the ends and tie & solder them together. After that's done, find the center and chop & strip for a feed point, and directly opposite of the feedpoint chop about a 1 or 2" gap. Now you'll have two halves of the ladder line held together only by the plastic spacer. If you chopped at a "window", grab some electrical tape and a wire tie and put the halves back together. The feedpoint can then get hooked directly to more ladder line or coax, and hoist it like a sloper at about a 60-degree angle. Into a tuner the transmission line goes, and tuner into radio of course. Great roll-up antenna for limited space and out in the field!

The LLSD worked well enough for me to work Bobtail from Southern California on 20 meters. The conditions weren't ideal, but at least we made a contact for about 1/2 an hour or so with 50-75 watts output.

I've made one for 10 meters also and it works great. It's a little narrow on bandwidth, but it covers the FM subband just fine for a local net I check into.

For $20.00 invested in 100' of 450 ohm ladder line, it sure paid off in performance. Thanks to the information from Bobtail on how to build it, I have a great couple of antennas (Bobtail made the 20 meter version for me, but what are brothers for, hehehe?). I copied the design for 10 meters, though.

Since it works this well on 10 meters, it's great for 11 meters, too. My SWR analyzer shows a 2:1 maximum ratio at the band edges. For those who use the upper channels on SSB, you will get a better match through the smaller range of frequencies (1.2-1.5:1).

If you're in the mood to build a wire antenna for a limited space, this would be a good project.

Hey ya'll ...

I checked out this site and couldnt find the one item I would have thought would be there. Marine grade pulleys.

When I was putting up my Carolina Windom 80, I hunted EVERYWHERE for stainless steel pulleys to use in the installation. Ended up at a marine store here in town . Paid BIG BUCKS but it WAS what I wanted to use.
I have the Windom off the side of my tower on a 10ft stand-off. One end goes in to my back yard terminating on a fence post and the other end terminates in a large pine tree in my front yard.
This is where I utilized the pulleys. I use a spring anchored to the tree with the support line attached and then going upward through several stainless pulleys before exiting the tree in to free air space.
This set-up allows the tree to move in the wind with much of the motion absorbed in the spring as it sways, thus greatly lessening tension on the support line and antenna wire.
It has worked very well so far. It was worth the extra expense for the stainless pulleys and hardware.

Hey 155,

Mostly I'm on 15m, 20 is too crowded (even though better DX) and 10 like you said has limited openings. DX is hot in the late afternoons into W. Europe, I float around the band searching for it and sometimes get lucky.

I'll be out of pocket until the 25th. Got a conference to go to. Wish I could take a QRP station with me but probably won't have time.

Well when I did have the HALLICRAFTER fired up I listened to mostly 40meters (liked to listen to the people on sideband)But I never really tried 15 or 20 meters

Well when it cools down here later I`ll turn on the SW receiver being a tube type I don`t want to have it on now (my time) because it gets real hot in here about 90 to 100 degrees but later on it always cools down

But then I do have a couple small computer fans kicken around but anyways have fun at the conference well I should say if your going there for fun that is

I used to have an old Hammerlund receiver, also tube-type, along with a Johnson Viking II transmitter but for CW only. Tell ya what, REAL radios glow in the dark!!! Very nostalgic to see that design on the ceiling at night, tapping out Code to someone that might be using a homebrew setup or a "Big Gun" rig, you just didn't know. Nowadays you just flick a switch, but back then you had to WORK for your signal! Maybe that's the difference between ham/CB and the Internet. Sure, I can "chat" worldwide via cyberspace, but contacts are earned by radio.

I really don't think anyone with FRS capability will try to modify their radio for exotic DX modes. But they are fun to use! The drawback is that most people look at them as having the same privacy as cellphones and therefore they "own" the frequency if they were there first. Way not true -- FRS freqs are shared, not owned! The trick is to be polite enough to make friends instead of enemies on these things. A CBer or ham has an advantage there with knowing how to use radio.

Personally I'd rather use NiMH batteries. They are a little more costly than NiCAD bat's but are normally more powerfull and last longer. They also don't have the memory effect that NiCAD's do.

If you use those frs radios alot then Alkaline will turn out to be a terrible choice.

been there done that. I even made a crossband repeater for cb-frs. The only problems you'd have with making a repeater for either is the legal radios have no way to split the frequencies to tx on one freq and rx on the other freq. But if you use a 2950 or a modified 70cm ham radio to work on frs then a repeater is a piece of cake.

The other problem is on the cb you really need to have some sort of tone squelch or it opens the repeater up constantly from skip etc.

Just some things I've played with before and figured out. The easiest thing to build was the crossband repeater. pretty simple circuit and a radio for each band and your in business. I might have the schematic to make it laying around here somewhere.

What I'd like to see is a beam made for these things! I wonder if a parasitic element or two could be attached near the radio to re-shape the pattern and allow for some greater distance!

Tell ya what, it's a real challenge to try getting a conversation going on those things. The manufacturers have taken advantage of the "need" for privacy and put the little coded channels in so no one else hears what you're saying. Myself, I want the world to hear me and throw a comment in when I'm talking to a family member in the mall! And yes, that's the beauty of the ham world and most of the time the CB world, always someone to talk to, day or night. With FRS I really think it involves tact and diplomacy, most people really don't know radio etiquette. I had a couple good conversations, but ya gotta be real supportive and polite to keep them talking. The ones that actually carry on a conversation are almost worth logging as a successful contact! Hmmm, contests anyone? Heh heh heh...

I often hear advice given about putting your coax (transmitter end) in a glass jar when there's lightning in the area. There's an interesting couple of paragraphs in "The Doctor is IN" section of the September QST. In a word, DON'T! Unplug your coax & just toss out the window if possible. If lightning is in the area, once you pull the coax from the rig, the glass jar is NOT your friend...

FRS gets active on Friday nights here where I live. Most of the activity involes high school kids using different chanels for whatever. One group does use a tone on their channel. Most of them haven't discovered what the tones are for on these radios. The weekends are busy here. I monitor the channels by using a handheld scanner, if they are using a tone, I use my 250 to check for that, most are the cheaper radios on the market that don't have the tone capability.

I also catch a lot of people traveling though using these radios. I haven't talked to any one doing this, but the conversations are interesting!

From: kj7gs
Topic: 1 Message: 94

Saw an interesting post on another board regarding K-40s vs a center-loaded Wilson. This happened at a Radio Shack and unfortunately the CBer listened to a salesperson who "proved" that K-40s were better by hooking it up side by side and testing SWR. Much lower SWR over a broad bandwidth. Don't get me wrong, I used to own a K-40 and they do work. BUT the reason for its broadbandedness is because of lower coil "Q" which means reduced antenna efficiency. The center-loaded coils will also have better current distribution which also helps the signal get out. And that's why Monkey Made, Coily, Megatron, etc. get such rave reviews over the base-loaded antennas. Just some heads-up advice before y'all get taken...

I'm sure the store security folks were wondering what this guy was doing in the electronics department laughing his head off with no one around him! Big, loud arrow pointing at the skinny coil on that thing, nice big letters--AMPLIFIER!!! Yeah, I suppose if you s-t-r-e-t-c-h the truth out enough and take the coil out you'll make the bad antenna even worse. So by that definition my antenna tuner is an amp, my coax is an amp, my microphone...

Owl hav ta git me one of them thar amplifars!
Another misconception that is not realized is a little control on many CBs called "Mic gain"
Many folks tend to think that this is a built in "booster" the same as an amplified mic.
Not so!

This control is no more than an attenuator which reduces the existing maximun level of a stock mic or an after-market amplified mic.
When an amplified mic is being used, especially in mobile applications, the radio's mic gain can be useful for reducing unwanted background noise ... but this is no different than just turning the microphones own control down!

Live audio of W6NUT in Southern CA can be found at www.435.org. If you're studying for your ham license, this one is a wonderful example of a horrible example. Few or no callsigns, proliferous profanity, ham newcomer beware! This stuff would not last long on most repeaters, the control op would quickly shut it down if operated like this. But if you're thinking the ham world is a pristine place, think (and listen) again...

At one point in time, there was a group of "bucket" mouths in the W5 area that operated in the 1.8mHz region (I think) that were real bad about doing this. Why the FCC and other hams either permitted this to take place and/or continue, I have never been able to figure out. If any one got on their frequency and said something about it, these guys would use all kinds of language responding to thier comments. As far as I know it is still going on, and does give all hams a bad name. Maybe someone will locate these guys and stick a few pins in their coax.

From: kj7gs
Topic: 1 Message: 100

If you're familiar with Beverage antennas, then the picture in the Photos area is the OTHER kind!!! Built it last night, cost was two bucks for the tape, the rest was free or nearly free. Best way to string the cans together is clear tape, only about 4 cans at a time (keeps the whole thing straight), then tape section to section, 22 cans per side. Then flip the entire thing over and run tape with fishing line under the tape up the entire length. The top can will have to be oriented with the hole on the opposite side of the fishing line -- makes it easier to attach the alligator clips (I used ladder line and a tuner). Make sure there's a bit of extra fishing line over the top so you can tie both sides together for the support. Lots of extra line at the bottom of each segment for anchoring depending on how high the center (feedpoint) will be going.

Tuned up nicely on 11 & 10 meters (that's all I had time to look at). The diameter of the cans should make it pretty broadbanded. Will test out the DXing on it when time allows...

Haven't heard any regulars using FM. Every now and then I run across it above 27.600mhz. Not many folks like FM because it isn't very effecient. You figure an RCI 2950 will only put out around 10-12 watts FM but will toss out well over 35w PEP in SSB mode. Not to mention the FM receiver section in every radio I've seen is far less sensitive than AM or SSB in the same radio.

So your basically putting out half as much power trying to talk to a station that can hear about half as good as it can if it were in AM or SSB mode.

Leave FM for local rachet jawing where you don't need as much power. :)

I get that question a lot! No one's ever asked me what I'm doing -- except my wife, but we won't go there! Actually I have kind of an "L" shaped yard and the antenna went up in the back where the neighbors would have to look pretty hard to see it. All the antennas are hoisted when transmitting, down & stored when not, and the signal stays pretty clean so unless the neighbors really get nosey it's all pretty much hidden and no questions asked. I kinda like it that way!

The people behind this are some real sick minds.

My generation is part of the "Baby-Boomer" generation from the Pearl Harbor days.

All of us now know what our parents experienced when the Japanese attacked on December 7th, 1941.

It is ironic that today's date, 911, is also the number for our national emergency system. Every time 911 is used by all, this date in history will be remembered.

Nope, I really don't, to tell you the truth. The only country I know of that really "ragchews" is Australia on 20m and I haven't been on that band in a while now. Everybody else that talks DX is only in it for quick contacts to fill the log book. As for recent events I've been watching TV more than the radio knobs so if anything I'll be hooking up to the shortwave side of things. You get some real interesting stuff when you hear other countries' points of view -- but that probably belongs on your other forum!!!

Wish we could do some DX ragchewing but so many folks like to see how far their radios reach that it's a pretty rare event unless you have a specific schedule set up.

I'm thinking of buying a couple of 9' whips & coax for another antenna experiment. Where to get mag-mounts though, and how much do they run? They don't need to be so strong you need radioactive stickers on them, I just want to be able to mount & go. Hmmm, I wonder if they're typically wide-banded enough to reach into the 10m band for some QRP work. Thoughts on this???

You'd need a really big magnet for a single mag mount and that isn't going to be easy to find. There are plenty of places to get a "tri magnet" mount. HRO sells them for 39.95 (Model#: MM3401) using 3 5" magnets with a standard 3/8x24 connection for antenna.
I'm not sure what you were refering to being broadbanded enough, the magnet or the whip. The magnet would have no effect no matter what band you use it on (within reason) The 9' whip will work on 10m quite well.
You might want to shorten it for better SWR but should give you decent SWR readings as is.(as long as you don't add a spring)

kc2elo, I'm not sure that I'd need such heavy-duty magnets. Don't need the whips clonking everything overhead. I'd probably just use the whole system while stationary so I wouldn't even need a spring -- just a coax connection between stinger and ground and something to hold the stinger vertically and maybe withstand a good breeze.

As for 10m operation, if I used the voice part of the band I'd probably just buy a separate set of stingers.

Hey Don,

I think that I WOULD lean toward the tri-magnet mount that kc2elo mentioned. Those whips, as long as they are, tend to be a bit "weebly wobbly" if not just plain top-heavy. Mounting TWO of them to single magnet mount may not provide sufficiant anchoring even when stationary.

in place sitting still.

First off, That Eagle 2000 that I barely had the gumption to pray for fell into my lap for $150.00 in perfect working order!!!
My work has taken off this year, getting me out of debt with a good prospective future. (I'm a remodeler) Our Lord has me also working on my church, several forums, a 17-year old suicidal boy, and some integration issues. For all this He is day by day anointing me with the necessary gifts to operate in. And I'm a nobody. Just a carpenter with a dissolving marriage (pretty much over) and a pretty good heart.
The odd thing is that all this was borne out of trials and troubles in my life that caused me to seek God for answers and guidance. I',m not worthy of His attention, but when you're pure love, who can you ignore???
I believe bible prophecy and I can see us on the timeline. I know God allowed the attack on us to happen and there is much more to come in the future. But ya know what He said? He said; "turn your hearts towards me and I will heal your land"..."I will go in before you (the battles)" ..."I have not given you the spirit of fear, but the spirit of ADOPTION, where you will call me Abba, Father." ..."not the spirit of fear but of power, of love, and of a sound mind."
It's time for us all to wake up; the bell has tolled and the count has begun. Don't trust in our great military; we COULD be defeated. Trust in God, who cannot! This battle is not of flesh and blood, but spiritual, like it or not!
And I'm back out...peace!

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2001-10-07 05:04:20 UTC
From: kj7gs
Topic: 1 Message: 142

Saw an interesting set of articles in Popular Communications blasting the FCC for not allowing emergency communications outside of the 155-mile limit, accusing the agency of antiquated rules and an inability to think. The FCC?s response had been that CB was not a parallel service to amateur radio and that since so many other wireless methods of transmitting emergency information were available, no change to the Citizen?s Band rules would be made.

I saw Uncle Charlie as being painted into a corner on this one. If it?s an emergency, it?s an emergency, you do what you have to do to save a life. But to open this one up meant defining emergency; defining what constitutes a trained operator; showing channel 9 as being parallel to amateur radio; and further-reaching implications such as PRB-1 protection, authorized propagation and use of amplifiers too to get the job done. Far easier to stay away from this one and just say no (although I think the other-methods argument is a bit weak).

I think the person submitting this petition to the FCC should have known this was coming. Sure, it?s worth a shot, but if you don?t like the answer, it?s foolish to be asking the question. He should be glad that channel 9 wasn?t just taken out of the CB service and made into a ham frequency to accommodate his request. He should be glad that REACT wasn?t shut down as an illegitimate operation in light of the ?parallel service? the amateur community provides. And he should be glad he still has a channel 9 designated for emergency purposes, at least informally.

The authors of the Pop? Comm articles mentioned that they would make an emergency call regardless of the rules associated with their CB?s use, and I?d have to agree, I?d do the same thing in the saving of a life. But I also believe in common sense and the FCC?s simply wanting to shy away from the plethora of other issues that law would create. One emergency call in the midst of all the other DXing out there is gonna be let off the hook in a heartbeat! And I?d take the Notice of Violation in one hand and the ?hero? headline in the other and somehow life would still have meaning?

Would welcome any other opinions on this one!

Yahoo Groups offers a more advanced structure and options for members to customize message preferences and other features.

Although Yahoo! Clubs is suppose to merge with Yahoo! Groups, there isn't any definate time frame for the transition. Basically, I'm tired of waiting for Yahoo to act, so I am going to make the transition myself with the creation of the new group "FreebandDXer" I hope that you will all join me at the "grand opening" of FreebandDXer Radio Group! I think you will find the environment much more pleasing!

I agree 100% with you. Realistically, it's a moot issue! What person in their right mind would NOT go ahead,in an emergency situation, and communicate over 155 miles to save a life or just simply assist someone in trouble.

Whether life threatening or not, I'd do it in a heartbeat! I think the FCC, while rejecting any notion of granting such a petition, would have to realize the significance of such transmissions.
I can't beleive they would persue enforcement in any way. But ..... ya never can tell!

Cell phones are no doubt a better method of communication .... when and if they work!

There may be that time when only an HF signal may connect with someone. I have read articles in the past about people trapped in the mountains and were rescued as a result of their calls for help on their CB.
Oh yea .... the person who responded was 6-7 states away!

On the ham bands, ANYTHING goes when it comes to life threatening radio traffic. Any band, any power, regardless of your license class ... and as you said Don, whatever it takes!

Saw a fascinating article in the November issue of QST about a 2-wire portable beam you can toss in the trees and get 5 dB gain from. The one in the article is for a tri-bander, but I'm quite sure it could be adapted for single band use. Should be quite easy to build, you just need a wooden dowel or 2x2 pine strip, insulators, wire and rope/fishing line. The neat thing about it is that you can angle it 10 degrees from vertical and use a single support, and move the anchor around on the bottom for 360-degree coverage. I see another project in the making!

I wonder if a 3-wire monobander would be a better one to build. More gain, and it wouldn't be that much of a problem to just swap out one for another if you're just hauling an antenna into a tree. For 5 dB gain I think I'd just stick with a half-square, up to 11 dB over salt water (that's what the book says anyway).

If your going to build one why not build a ladder its multy band and the db is around 11 and it will go anywhere.

That's what I was trying to find out. Yes, you can make a vertical out of a ladder, or even use an extension ladder as a portable "tower" for field use, but I think "Hitmanvan" may have been referring to a multi-wire beam that looks like a really wiiiide ladder if you use your imagination. The "rungs" are of course the wires at various lengths as the directing elements, and the driven elements are again varying lengths of wire going out from a single feedpoint with spacers to separate them. Don't know if you can visualize it or not, but I'm not sure I want to build one. I like the idea of 5 dB gain but I can get nearly that same figure at a much lower height and without having to stretch it out to "middle C". What can I say, I like my half-squares! Now if I find a huge roll of wire & some 2x2's somewhere and have nothing to do for a day, that's another story...

Remember the linear-loaded short dipole (pix in the photos area)? I mailed one out to my brother, a ham out in California, and he had an engineer run it through a complete analysis. Turns out he liked it so much that he's going to start using it in some of his commercial applications.

Can't remember what magazine I saw it in, I think a September issue of QST or CQ, but there was an article on a linear loaded quad design. The design makes for some loss to go with the gain, but apparently not much loss & still a worthwhile endeavor.

Bought a Firestick II three-footer + NMO-mount adapter for the mobile this morning. For helically-wound antennas, .05 wavelength looks to be the absolute minimum (the 2' model), and 3' is the longest I could get away with. This design is supposed to be very close to the efficiency of a 102' whip, reduced bandwidth traded off for increased efficiency. I doubt if I was giving up much for the 4' model, I believe the efficiency curve is gradual right down to a 2' dropoff and it may do just as well - or better - than its base or center-loaded cousins. Any other opinions/tests done on this kind of antenna? I haven't gotten it yet and all I have to go on is the reading material...

Next thing I'm curious about: this thing is rated at 650 watts which I'll never use. But I wanted it because I think the wire will be thicker (a little more bandwidth) and I think the diameter of the coil will be bigger (less coupling & more efficient). BUT I don't know if I'm right on this one. Anyone out there with input???

I've never believed the ratings of Firestick's and/or the look alikes but you do have a point. The wires are a little larger than on the really cheap whips like the firestick so there will be a minor difference in bandwidth.

That's one thing I haven't found on their web site -- gain figures. I suppose it's just as well, I probably wouldn't believe them either. Their "tech talk" section seems to have to have quite a few flaws in it (hey, I bought the antenna, didn't I?) but a continuously-loaded antenna supposedly is comparable to its full-length counterpart. It still hasn't arrived, I'm hoping for some time this coming week. Had to buy some more 12v wire, the stuff coming out of the back of the CB is a tad to short to reach around to the battery.

I don't think the SWR would be a problem (famous last words), but I would think the elevated ground plane at the apex of the roof would provide reasonable downward angle needed to keep the radiation angle low. That would put the feed point at about a half wavelength high which would be good enough to talk around town at the very least. Hmmm, if it works, these antennas are cheap enough to just buy another one and have a permanent semi-stealth antenna up there.

I forgot how long you said the one you are getting is but most likely you'll be better off to get a spring for that mount. Anything over 3 foot fiberglass will have quite a bit of drag and will wreak havoc on that lip mount without a spring.

Like I've said before it will work. The using the roof to help form the right angle for the radials is a pretty good idea too. Since you won't really have to worry about supporting the radials be sure and put up as many as you can. Securing the wires wouldn't take much more than tucking the ends under a shingle to hold it down. The hardest part other than getting on the roof would be to make a mount for the antenna to sit on the roof which shouldn't really be a problem either.

I think I might have told you about the antenna I put up just for fun in another forum but here's the description of my current "monitoring" antenna for anyone who hasn't heard.

I decided to make use of an old 102" SS whip I had laying around and screwed a mobile mount to a 25' pole and attached a 6' firestick I had laying around at about a 45 degree angle to the bottom of the mount. I used the 102" whip as the verticle section and it performs quite well. It's sort of a cross between a ground plan and a verticle dipole. The SWR is about 1.2:1 at center frequency. The receive isn't as strong as an Imax-2000 or A-99 etc but I can still hear everything around town with out as much noise from South America etc when skip rolls in. The few tests I've done on transmit have been pretty nice too. I've gotten strong signal reports from as far as 20-30 miles on quiet nights from mobiles. I've also had no problems talking with my wife while I'm in the car at work 8 miles away while she's at home using this antenna except during the noisiest days, and even then I can still hear her 95% of the time.

Using a mobile antenna as a base antenna is an excellent cost effective way to get on the air at home. The lack of gain in the antenna compared to a base antenna is minimal in most cases and the price (free in my case) can't be beat.

Almost posted the problem before I resolved it a few minutes ago, but it?s a good exercise in ?sleuthing? RF problems. It started with a fairly quiet band in the wee hours of the morning, but a mysterious background noise level that showed up an S7 on the meter. Switching to other bands yielded the exact same S7 noise level, although I could definitely hear some stations in there. There?s a factory across the street from me so initially suspected something going on electrically over there. Next step was to check for front end overload so turned off the computer and peripherals. No drop in that S7 whatsoever, on that or any other band. Disconnected the antenna to see if it was truly in-house, and sure enough, same S7 noise level. OK, no antenna connection, no computer/line problems, it HAS to be internal, and THAT could get expensive!

Except if it?s just the RF gain turned up from that overpowering station I was listening to last night. Of course by the time I figured that one out, the background noise had already come up naturally. Sayonara S. Pacific.

To make a mount it sort of depends on what you have laying around I guess. It also depends on if you want to nail into the roof or just want something to sit on top. If you don't mind nailing into the roof a couple of pieces of flashing or tin could be fastened together to form an upside down "Y" shape that a mobile mirror mount etc could be mounted to. A coffee can could be cut down a few sides to look sort of like a flower and have a stud mount in the bottom. This could either be nailed to the roof to secure it or have a few holes drilled in the bottom close to the lip (bottom pointed skyward) and tie/solder counterpoise wires to it. Then use the wires or extend them with insulators to reach a tie off point to hold the mount securely against the roof.

Just an idea or two... if you don't like those ideas exactly hopefully I gave your brain a kickstart for a better idea.

Pins 1-4 are the exact same on the 2950 as any of the Cobra/Galaxy/etc 4 pin mic's.
1. shield
2. audio
3. PTT
4. receive

Pins 5 and 6 are for the channel controls and would not be used unless you outfit the cobra power mic. with additional switches/buttons.

Pin 5 connected to ground will change freq/channel up.

Pin 6 connected to ground will change freq/channel down.

If you have a 2950DX be carefull of the wiring because pin 4 has been changed to provide +8V on TX for their echo mic's. Which is also a good way to not have to replace 9v batteries non stop on amplified mics. Just modify the mic to pull the +8v from pin 4 instead of through a battery and you'll never have to replace a microphone battery again. The 1 volt difference will not hurt anything either.

If you would like to have +8v for a mic on an older 2950/2970 then install a 22 gauge wire from the collector of Q38 to pin 4 of the mic jack. This will provide an 8V source to pin 4 each time the unit is keyed

From: kj7gs
Topic: 1 Message: 186

This one had me almost throwing out my NMO mount! Could NOT get anything better than an infinite match on the Firestik. So started incrementally from transmitter to antenna, checking the SWR into a dummy load first, then continuity from center conductor to antenna base, then outer conductor to antenna base. And therein lay the problem -- no continuity to ground! The outer base was not connecting to the inner base, and there seemed to be no fixing it the way it was constructed. Not only that, part of the screw-in "ring" had lodged itself in the new NMO adapter and I could do nothing to unscrew it. Ended up throwing the entire NMO mounting bracket in the trash.

Then stared at it for a while and took a vise grip to the ring still lodged in the adapter. Bingo, it came out w/no damage. Screwed it back into the NMO mount and Bingo again, solid connection for some reason w/shield. Dug the whole thing out of the trash and put it back on the car. Not perfect, 1.4 SWR on Ch 19 and up to 2 on 1 & 40 but I'll take the 90% power out and run with it and figure out how to reduce the standing waves at a later point. Right now I've got a working mobile antenna and that's the important thing!

Moral of the story: best way to figure out an antenna problem is to throw it all in the trash. Only then can you think clearly since nothing else can possibly go wrong!

Hi 155. Thanks. Yes ... I live on e-bay, and do daily searches. The few I have found in the past year just went for more than I am willing to pay. The last Skipper73C auction saw the 30-year old rig go for over $200. That's $100 more than it should go for. Collectors item aside, the radio was flawed by design.... the radio could crank out 15-watts AM, which would overdrive the companion Skipper 300 (which I already own) ... which makes no sense at all. And if you de-tuned it (a very fragile process), you would lose your "ears."

The radio is a disaster. I only want one so that I have a complete set. But I sure as hell am not going to pay $200 for one.

But, the fun is in the chase. I'll catch a deal one day.

Max distance I ever got was from Cheyenne, WY out to Yambe Island off the coast of Tanzania. I make regular contacts into W. Europe.

How high up? That's the beauty of this thing, you don't need more than 9 feet of height above average terrain. The lower the antenna the lower the take-off angle. Great attenuation of "local" signals, meaning more gain for DX. Keep the "tails" just above the ground for best results. Too high and it starts acting like a regular dipole.

It works just like phased antennas on a truck. Pattern would be broadside to the antennas in a figure eight, but again the beauty of it is that the signal's concentrated toward the horizon, not straight up. Plenty of DX in one direction you want unless you want to move it, and you can do that with a mast. I'm happy right where the antenna is, myself.

BTW no special skills, just a basic knowledge from the ham books and a love of radio!

I originally got the design from a friend of mine back in Guam about 10 years ago. I had a yagi and he had a half-square, and he was making just as many if not more contacts than me for hundreds of dollars less than what I paid for my installation. When I moved, constant housing restrictions and missing parts forced me to get rid of my expensive gear and I remembered this little gem and gave it a try. The results were such that I don't need a beam, I've got one already, cheap, stealth, easy to put up, cheap, efficient, and cheap!

The 15m version was in one of the ham magazines about a year or two ago. The 40m version was in the ARRL Antenna Compendium No. 5 according to my '99 Antenna Handbook. You can also find instructions at various places around the internet.

make one to listen rather than to talk, but i wondered if something could be done like that for CB?

Sure, why not? It's the same principle whether on 40 or 10 or 1.2GHz for that matter, yes? Two 1/4-waves with a half-wave phasing line between them, top-fed for best current distribution, and the contacts I made were on 10m, w/even shorter "tails" than an 11m half-square would be.

Worth a try!

Picked up Sweden again on 10m this morning on the half-square. Nice 5x5 signal report. Don't have any vertical to compare it to, but if I'm pulling in a great signal from halfway around the world, who cares? Good luck with your setup, Wedstal, I'm sure you'll be pleased with it.

Picked this up from a post on the QRZ website.
For dB gain to power conversions, multiply by 1.26 for each dB of gain. For example an antenna w/2 dB gain at 100w out would be 100 x 1.26 x 1.26 = 158.76w Effective Radiated Power. Handy, huh?

When you say you bonced a signeal into Syberia, how do you know you got there, someone return your call? I'm not being silly here either, I would like to know. I have gone to Barnes and Nobel to order a good booki on wire antennas. I'm serious about wanting the design of a good 11 meter setup. The problem I have had with my antron is that it punches through, but not always. I get a lot of propogation, we call it haqsh and trash because it prevents us from calling out, and receiving, Most of the stuff we get at this time of the year sounds as if it is coming from Mexico, at least the language spokn is Spanish. If the design of the half square antenna will help cut through this garbage, i will more than be happy to report my findings. And one more thing. I am a legal eagle, no leniers, no footwarmers here, if I can't do it on the legal power, then I will not do it. But, a good antenna can overcome the lack of power. I also have sideband, a plus for any CB operator. It has more of a legal punch, and it too, allows one to be heard better.
Also, do you know anyone who would like to sell a used HF receiver, without the mic, I can't talk, but I can monitor, and I have several portable radios which have seen better days, and I would like to work my way up to a better receiver.

Well, 73's

I looked up the RA9 part of the callsign in a prefix listing I keep by the radio. The list can just be copied off of the ARRL website. Better information can be picked up on QRZ.com which showed Asiatic Russia and a home address. From there I went to MapQuest to pinpoint the city he was in. I also keep a globe near the radio to check what areas the lobes are covering.

Since the CB band is pretty crowded you have the equivalent of a constant ham pileup to get through! Good on ya for working the antennas instead of the amp -- in addition to staying legal you get the added benefits of reciprocity and learning that much more about the hobby. Your best bet is with a beam, but the poor man's alternative (wires) is cheap and can be very easy to set up. The key is in the radiation angle, and 15 degrees can bring you a lot more power to the intended site than lotsa power at a high angle. The reciprocity is something an amp can't provide, you can't work 'em if you can't hear 'em!

If you would have asked me a few months ago my brother out in CA was selling his rig. You may want to check your local ham club's website, they often have info on nearby hamfests.

For 10 and 11 both, you'll want a broadbanded antenna. If you have to have an antenna shorter than a 1/4 wave whip, go for a large, air-wound coil as high up the radiating element as possible. You'll be spending more for these, but they will give you the most efficiency & smallest amount of loss. Good luck with the purchase!

The one mentioned in the ARRL Antenna Book uses the "reel-in" kind you see on pulleys connected to buildings going out to a pole or across the street to another building if you're in the city. A simple wire connection from the center conductor of the feedline is connected to the clothesline (made of heavy gauge stranded electrical wire w/Teflon/vinyl insulation) and into a tuner for an "invisible" stealth antenna. Nothing fancy and works just fine. I did kind of a vertical version in Wyoming by jamming a wire into the tuner and hanging it straight out a second story window. Talked into New York on it on 20m. A clothesline would do the same thing only horizontally!

Good luck with the project.

I'm still here, just haven't been on the air for a while so nothin' to write about. Was re-positioning the wires/fishing lines in the back yard and one side had gotten a little too wedged in the trees and had to pull it down. Of course the local stores are out of the 80# test stuff and coupling that (pardon the pun) with the honey-do list that's accumulated, I haven't been able to get the half-square put up again. Will keep trying.

I'm also trying to figure out how to put the Firestik out in the back yard as a base antenna. I have an all-metal central air conditioning unit that I want to mount it on, but all I have is a lip-mount from the vehicle, no magnetic mounts. Any suggestions?

CB antenna for 10m use wouldn't be a problem with a base/center loaded antenna - you just shorten the radiating element a bit and you're in business. The continuously-loaded coil is another matter though -- narrow bandwidth and if it's cut for the CB band it won't make it into 10m territory, at least with the one I've got. I was hoping to reach into the code/data portion but no can do.

Have you looked at eBay? They have a lot of listings for used HF gear. Try to stay with solid state gear, as the older tube stuff may not work as well and won't have the nice filters and general coverage (ham only). I just sold a nice Yaesu FT-980 and bought an FT-840. The 840 doesn't have all the bells/whistles, but it's small and cheap!

Will try to post a picture of it at a later point, but the Firestik is a helically-wound coil with an adjustment screw at the top. I'm not sure exactly how it works, but the top section I think is a short rod which might be one of the variables in adjusting the impedance of the thing. Anyway it's in an NMO adapter mount, and I just stuck the lip-mount into one of the vents for a connection to the metal and there seems to be enough ground plane there for it to tune up fairly well in the CB range. One other weird thing -- the tuner won't match it in either! If I put the screw all the way in, yes, it will make it w/less than 2:1 match into 10m but no way will it make it into the phone portion.

Hmmm. Ok. Do you know if the manufacturer has a web site where I might see a diagram or something?

It would seem that since it's a helical wound wire on perhaps a fiberglass rod covered with PVC or something, that it could be shortened enough for 10m resonance.

I once had a similar antenna that had a cap on the top and all I did was trim the wire to resonance on a meter and then cut the fiberglass rod and reinstalled the cap. Perhaps the design you have is more sophisticated since that 15 year old antenna I no longer have?

Hope you can find a way to prune it, though.

Picture in "Bobtail's Stuff" as to what I've got and how it's mounted, don't know where any cut-away views would be. My guess is that it's a typical helically-wound coil with a metal rod at the top, and since the screw in that rod changes its shape, it allows a frequency adjustment. Seems like the upper limit for resonance is in the freeband somewhere.

Ok, I took a look at the pictures you posted. My guess is that the metal rod is screwed into a threaded collar at the top of a fiberglass rod. If you can shorten the fiberglass rod and the threaded metal rod, you may be able to tune it for 10m.

Maybe a fun project, but it may not be worth all the effort. Will a physically shortened 1/4 wave radiator behind a structure radiate efficiently enough to warrant the labor?

Wouldn't know how to shorten the rod without making it impossible to get the resonant freq. back into the CB band. I think I'm just stuck with what I've got.

As for your second paragraph, I can't tell whether any signal is being blocked by the house. I'm still working on a 13:1 SWR problem that popped up in the last few days! It's been raining so I wonder if some rain has been getting into the base.

Hope your Antron is holding together. Had a low dipole up during a typhoon when I was stationed in Guam, it did just fine. All the electricity was out on the island and I had brought a generator to a friend's place while we were "locked down". Thought I'd pass this along to those folks who like experimenting with ground-plane verticals. Did you know that you DON'T need an extensive radial system to operate a ground-mounted system? I learned this from an article in CQ, ALL you need is TWO radials, each between 1/12 and 1/8 of a wavelength long, and a coil connected to them to tune the whole thing to resonance. The currents in those radials will be equal and opposite, and therefore cancel each other out. Radials (when resonant) don't radiate, but you've got to bring the impedance up to 50 ohms and an antenna will only have 20 ohms or so at ground level. This tosses the "120-plus" theory right out the window! BTW radials also have NO effect on radiation angles or operate as a "reflecting screen". This also from that article. Not sure why the ARRL Antenna Book says that a 45-degree downward angle on an elevated system will lower the radiation angle though. Would like to hear some other thoughts on this one.

I've always read that lowering the angle on the radials lowered the impedance from around 75ohms when at 90deg to closer to 50ohms when at roughly 45deg. Never heard of a 1/4 wave ground plane antenna having a higher or lower radiation angle using different anlges on the radials. Strange....

Could you post the article on the web so we can all look at it? I have an ide it might help me with my wire antenna.

I think I stand corrected here, don't know where I got the information originally, but I looked it up and you're right on the money -- it lowers impedance, not radiation angles. And now the article makes sense with radials having nothing to do with them. Good info, thanks!

The article is called, "What on Earth?" and it's in the January issue of CQ. It seems to directly contradict the ARRL Antenna book (the one I've got anyway) until you realize that it just doesn't cover the alternative, or at least only barely goes into coils being used on the radials as well as the radiating element.

Because of my home-owners assosiation I cant put up an outside antenna, so I have to put one up in the attick and I am not sure which type or method to use. I have seen a few on the internet- including the old fashion dipole- and I am not sure how well they work. I have thought about using a mobile whip and attatching chicken wire for the ground plane, but again, I'm not sure how well that will work. Does anyong have any experience with the attick method?

Well, first of all anything that gets you on the air is good!
Second, you may want to just experiment with both of your suggestions. You may want to try a half-square if you have the room, i.e. two quarter-wave radials connected by a half-wave wire at the top, fed in one of the corners. Center conductor would go to the horizontal wire, shield to one of the vertical wires. Talked around the world on 10m with mine. There are other indoor antennas you can build too, along with several "stealth" outdoor antennas if that's an option for you.

Good to see your post, thanks for stopping by!

I posted this on another Group, I usually only let my "secrets" out on this board. Anyway the question was about attic antennas, and here was my answer, adapted from back issues of CQ and QST for use in the CB world...

If you only have a small amount of room, may I suggest a quarter-wave whip or helically-wound coil. The ground plane section could consist of as little as two wires straight out from either side, 2' length each, tuned to resonance with a 1" length, 3" diam. coil, spaced the wire diameter.

A dirt-cheap dipole can be made from 46.68 ft of Radio Shack 300-ohm ribbon line. Split the ribbon to 17 feet (that's your dipole), then attach a wire tie to the "feedpoint" so it won't split from there. Staple it (lengthwise of course) to the rafters, and the remaining 29.68 feet being an exact electrical half wavelength at 27.185 MHz, won't need a tuner or balun attached. Hook the transmitter end of the feedline to a PL-259 and you're all set. If you need more feedline than that, connect it to 50-ohm coax instead of a PL-259.

An interesting thing happened this week in K.C., the FCC came to town to monitor the CB transmissions. They were listening to see if they could hear any loud traffic, you know, those using extra power and the like. We seem to only have one local active channel, and it is noted for it's loudness, and running power, but it most assuredly did get quiet over the week-end. Now, how long will there be peace on the channel is anyone's guess.

I do believe you were correct, that GMRS Group probably is the one for me. There is a little more I would like to know on how they work with REACT, that's something I would love to get involved with. 911 just doesn't seem to have as much impact as it used to have on the cell phone, so perhaps REACT will work better. I am also interested in finding repeaters for the Kansas City area, and radios whch will take the right antennas for those radios. I know Hams work on two meters to look for tornadoes, I don't see why they should have all the fun, just kidding.

Post something in the other Group, i would love to hearfrom you.

Hi All
Last week I posted a message looking for a radio doctor and got a message from Eric putting me in contact with one in NY State by the name of Tom after a few emails I sent him my radio to have a look at well it got there yesterday morning.By mid-day I got a e-mail telling me what was up with it and how much it was going ot cost this morning it was fixed and not only did he fix it but also did a up grade on it as well I can't say more than that but if I had another radio that needed a repair I would sent it to him as he did more than I asked for and went out of his way to help me. And if anyone asked me for a good doctor I would sent them his way as for the cost it was well worth it plus He cares about his work to the point of giving you 110% instead of just the ones who do in the door do the job and get it out the door and get your money.
Here is his web site if you need a repair look him up he will try to help you and give you 110%

This is my first Philco portable radio. It was leather bound, with a metal grill, and had a moon faced dial. AM only. It ran off 6 C cell batteries. I have her sister which is tubed, but this is a transister radio. There was only one power source, and those were the batteries. Unlike her sister who is much older, was run off battery or DC Current. It was a Christmas gift given to me in the early '60's, 60 or 61 I am thinking. I have seen it in radio books, but have yet to find another like this one. Oh, and the asking price is cheap, 25 dollars is the worth, so you can imagine how much this radio cost my folks in the '60's. If anyone knows of such a radio, please contact me in the Club.

If you don't have Norton antivirus then don't even go on line untill you do I am getting hit on an average of 8 times a day from different sources and that is opening mail from people that I do know. The problem is wide spread and getting worse every day. That also does not count the endless attacks that hit your computers from all over the globe that your not aware of untill you get Norton or another firewall that throws these people out and from getting info and loading viruses and getting information through other ports(The back door on your computer.) I have been always aware of these backdoor attacks because of a firewall called Netbuster that I have had for over two years installed. Norton does slow down your computer However the headache and heartbreak of loosing and stealing information passwords or preventing a crash is worth every penny of Norton. You can purchase it on line for only 9.00 without the support. I did not need the support. If you want the support then your looking at around 80.00 for the same program. which ever one you get is worth it because it saves you money in the long run.

I have this Washington Base CB Radio hooked up to outdoor antenna. When I key down and speak the arrow only points to 1 on the RF meter. Is this supposed to happen? Now If I go on SSB the arrow almost goes all the way across the meter.
I have had this rig for about a year and haven't had any luck. The antenna is 18ft "bandit Brand" antenna. I have posted pictures of the antenna if that helps any.

Thanks

From: tom47dx052
Topic: 313 Message: 313

Hi to members of this list.
(please forward this mail to all other forums)

I would like to introduce you to a new idea for the whole 11-Meter Community.

The original idea was to organize a worldcontest between the many club-stations from different clubs and Countries on the air - using the triple zero in callsign.

But after some talks we realized that it was not so good an idea afterall, and the main-argument was that it will only give the uppertunity for one clubstation from each DXCC to paritipacte in such a contest.

So we ended up with a total new concept that also are the ultimative challenge for all operators, independent or from clubs and groups and ofcourse clubstations.

It is the one and only World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-Meter.

The contest is open for all - IF you are a World Wide Field Day Team with a minimum of 2 operators.

The contest is a Field Day - " a day in the field". This means, that you are not allowed to use a normal QTH and normal power supply (110/230 voltage).
You have to bring your antenna and own power, for instance generators or batteries out to a spot in the Field.

The organizers of the yearly World Wide Field Day Contest is not a club or group it is the non-profit and neutral organization WWFD.DK that have created a CONTESTBOARD where all seriuos Clubs and Group can get a seat.

The main Idea with this contest is to give the teams an exseptional opportunity to compare their skills and possibilties against other teams in a friendly and neutral competetion between clubs, groups and indedependent operators.

The contest will be held every year, first weekend in September begin Saturday at 12:00 GMT and end Sunday 12:00 GMT - in this year the dates are 7-8 September.

If you will like to know more about this World Wide Field Day Contest please visit the internetsite www.WWFD.dk here you can read all about the rules and how to join.

Best wishes
on the behalf of WWFD CONTESTBOARD

Hey WT,

If this was a normal ham contact, it would have lasted less than a minute esp. if he was working the station thru a pileup. Amazing what a little wire can do! Wonder if he ever got that QSL card...

Hey WT,

No, nothing happened, but glad to be back in the saddle and back on the radio! I've got some fishing line to put back up over the trees but once that's done the wires are going back up. Speaking of which, I'm missing Field Day, will just have to catch it next year.

From: kj7gs
Topic: 323 Message: 323

Found an interesting note in the June issue of QST on use of 75-ohm cable TV coax with ANY 50-ohm antenna. Obviously the antenna you use will vary in impedance due to height above ground, ground conductivity, and resonance of the antenna, but figuring 50 ohms, divide one into the other and you get 1.5 which is an acceptable SWR. One other little tidbit, the impedance of the line will vary depending on length, with an exact half wavelength (remember to calculate your velocity factor) reflecting the antenna impedance and showing a perfect match! And the best news is that this little rule applies to ANY transmission line -- zip cord, 300-ohm twin lead, 450-ohm ladder line, or open-wire with spacers, as long as you calculate the correct velocity factor and use multiples of 1/2 wavelength. And it explains an earlier article I saw on an easy roll-up 300-ohm twin lead project for camping or portable use.

An RF wattmeter and an SWR meter will tell you the right answers of course, but I'll take a stab at it --

On AM, does the needle move when you speak? It could be showing a "dead key" wattage out if you're just keying the mike and not saying anything. My guess is that on SSB it's just showing full wattage out when you key up -- in other words, I think your rig is running the way it should, especially if you're reporting normal results with it.

On AM I key and the RF Indictator just points to 1. If I speak into the mic nothing changes. On sideband when I speak the meter goes up pretty high but only if I speak quite loudly. Shouldn't when I deadkey the meter should go all the way up as it should?

Well, your SSB sounds normal, don't know whassup with the AM side though -- does it do the same thing through a dummy load? On my Pro 510 I get only one LED if the SWR is too high.

Don't got a dummy load.....But why does my power meter only go up when I speak into the microphone. When I speak at normal tone the meter only goes up a little on ssb. Isn't it supposed to go up to peak power even if you just dead key?

The meter won't rise on a "dead key" on SSB. I'm not an electronics whiz but that's the way it's supposed to work, something to do with limiting the audio so that it just hits the max on voice peaks. It may help to have a speech processor or power microphone if you're softspoken like I am. Yelling will also work, but you can't get on the air if you have laryngitis!

Still can't answer the question as far as the AM side goes, but it appears that your SSB side is working the way it should. I crank my speech processor up quite a bit when I'm on the air. It compresses my voice pattern so that it appears louder to the radio and gets through the pileups and background noise a little bit better.

Good luck and 73,

IMHO the best way is to just get a power mike if you're mobile or desktop mike if you've got a base setup. Tom, help me out if you would, are the "Dynamike" knobs speech processors or speech limiters? The ham radios will almost all have speech processor circuits, but I haven't had much experience with extra audio power in the CB world.

I`m not sure my self if you can just buy a speech processors alone.

I`v looked at alot of stuff todo with my rci 2950 radio and never really noticed this kind of stand alone circuit before.

The contact lasted only ten SECONDS. It was just an exchange of call signs, signal reports and first names. I sure wish it lasted longer, but there were many other stations waiting to make contact. Most people on the air trying to work this person were running over 1,000 watts. That just makes this contact all the more thrilling, whan all I have is 50 watts and some patience.

All I ask is you don`t change the home web page and You MUST give me you personal e-mail address and/or yahoo messanger id

Thats all

The reason for this is I might august 5th be going back to work and my time on the PC is very limited all ready and between ME,Don(KJ7GS) we should keep things running OK

And because this is an open message if theres ANY abjections anyone could let me know but I dought it because YOU (RBRANCH_800) have been a real good member in our group and it looks like you could do more for our group

Hey welcome to the group. If you have any questions or problems just contact KJ7GS WhiskeyTango or me. Nice set up you got there.... I bet you have made alot of DX contacts with the tower setup. Do you do any Shortwave or scanner listening?

Thanks for the welcome! Yes I have made a lot of DX propagation with the Astroplane up on the tower. It seems to work very well and I also have a set of Sho-Gunn Smokin' Gunn II's that I am going to put on top of the tower and shoot the Astroplane out the top before long. I hope to make quite a few more contacts once the beams go up.
Thanks again for the warm welcome and stop by the website for a visit sometime!

2 years... I guess they certainily must get of reception reports in the mail. I have 2 QSL cards from pirate stations. One from Radio Geronimo which did a twice a year broadcast which I just happened to tune into on accident. Another from WMFQ which is not really a card but a sheet of paper. I have to frame the Geronimo one. How many QSL cards do you have?

I've received a number of ham QSL cards over the years but there are some real "prizes" (to me anyway) that I keep forever. Yambe Island, Slovenia, Sweden, and now Svalbard, who knows what else is going to come in. For a while there I was really active w/contacts deep into Europe every time I was on. That reminds me though, I need to send some cards back out...

Well Radio Geronimo is a Britan based pirate station. However being it was a special broadcast they were being relyed by Alpha Lima International's powerfull transmitters based in the Netherlands. Normally Geronimo is a pirate station which broadcasts in low power like most US pirates and is usually just recieved by people in the UK and other parts of Europe.

They said they will put me on some sort of "list" to inform me of special broadcasts either VIA e-mail oe snail mail. Alfa Lima broadcasts occasionally using high power which is usually heard here in the US. I sent out a reception report to them and I am waiting for a reply. I recall WMFQ coming in pretty strong... however pirates usually don;t give out there location so I have to imagine they are somewhere in the Northeast like alot of pirates are. WMFQ's slogan is "are you sick of people like Salamoiak who don't QSL?" I only bother QSLing the "on once and leave' pirates because they tend to send QSL cards.

Hi to all

Now there is only 1 months to the "take-off" for the first World Wide Field Day on 11-meter.

For the time being there are 46 teams ready to a friendly competition - these 22 clubs are represented:

AT - BB - CE - DQ - DR - DT - DX - EL - FAT - FGB - HP - ID - IR - JR - KP - LD - MU - RC SD - SO - SP - TW

So the First Field Day Contest on 11-meter will not only be a friendly competition between the teams but also between the many clubs.

The only purpose for the neutral and non-profit organazation WWFD.DK, is to organize the yearly Field Day Contest and we believe that this contest will gain the friendship among the people of the 11-meter Community.

YOU can still register a team to participate, you can represent your club or you can participate if you are a independed operator - just register online on www.wwfd.dk

Please read the rules before you register your team.

(you are welcome to forward this message to other forums)

Best wishes
Tom

367. WAKE UP CALL

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2002-08-13 09:34:15 UTC
From: Tom 47DX052
Topic: 367 Message: 367

Hi all.
(feel free to translate and forward this message around)

Ask your self these questions:

Do YOU honestely believe that you belong to the best Radio Group in the world.?

If yes - than YOU should WAKE UP and form a team and represent your Radio Group in the upcomming World Wide Field Day Contest.

WHY?

Because it is a great uppertunity for YOU to get YOUR Radio Groups Callsign on the air in the first World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-meter ever.

The whole idea of The World Wide Field Day Contest is to give YOU and YOUR Radio Group a chance to achieve several things - one of the things is that YOU will be together socially with some of your radiofriends in the team.

Another important thing that YOU will get, is the possibilty to show YOUR skills in the other end of a pile-up.

It is also important that YOU will have a super chance to be in a friendly competion with other teams from many other Radio Groups world wide.

Do YOU believe that there are to many contest on the Radio and bassicly is a waste of time.?

I kindly ask you to consider that the World Wide Field Day Contest is totally different from the contests that normally take place on our band.

The World Wide Field Day Contest is organized by the neutral and non-profit organization WWFD.DK - please study the website and feel free to ask questions.

The website is on www.wwfd.dk

Hi All (again)
(feel free to translate and forward this message around)

For a couples of days ago I did send out a WAKE UP EMAIL:-) and I asked a few questions - one of them was.

"Do YOU believe that there are to many contest on the Radio and bassicly is a waste of time.?"

I did also pre-answered the question this way:

"I kindly ask you to consider that the World Wide Field Day Contest is totally different from the contests that normally take place on our band."

That really did WAKE UP some of you:-) and I have received a lot of remarks and question that all is like this:

" There are so many contest and it will always mean a lot of QRM all over our band - so why do you say that the World Wide Field Day Contest is TOTALLY different?"

Okay maybe my pre-answering of my own question could be misunderstod - sorry - that was absolutelly not my intentions - So I wil try explain the difference a litle more clear.

Yes - there are a lot of contest in our band, nearly all clubs and groups have their own World Wide contest, and a lot of other kind of Contest are made. It is also normal that the majority of the participaters in these contests are members from the Clubs and Groups that organize a contest - absolutely nothing wrong in that - I also know that many clubs allow non-members to participate.

BUT the fact is that the 11-meter community never before had any uppertunity to find a "real" World Wide Champion of a contest on 11meter band. - And it is here you have the "TOTALLY difference".

The World Wide Field Day Contest is for ALL clubs and groups - and ofcourse also for independed operators. The only purpose for the club-neutral and non-profit organization WWFD.DK is to organize the yearly World Wide Field Day Contest.

The World Wide Field Day Contest is therefore the ultimative challange for the whole 11-meter Community, WWFD.DK give YOU and YOUR Club the possibilty to be a particpater in a "real" World Wide Contest - the uppertunities to find several kind of winners are nearly without limitation.

Let me give you some other important facts:

WWFD.DK are not under any commercial control.
WWFD.DK is NOT a radioclub
WWFD.DK do NOT seek for members
WWFD.DK have serious intentions to be a proffesionel partner for existing clubs.

About the QRM-problem - WWFD.DK has made some contest-rules, also about frequenzies, WWFD.DK will not support that ALL frequenzies are allowed to use in the 24 hours contest - the only allowed is 27.600-27.800 and also 26.965-27.405 and the only mode allowed is SSB and FM

If you will learn or study more about WWFD.DK - feel free to study the website www.wwfd.dk

Hi
(you are welcome to translate and send this mail around)

If you already have made a team for the first World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-meter - please login on www.wwfd.dk you actually now have your own page that you can edit online - after the contest you can also upload your proofs (photos etc.)

I am also happy to report that now more than 55 Teams are ready to pariticipate in the first World Wide Field Day on 11-meter, starting on Saturday the 7. September 12:00 GMT and finish the 8. September 12:00.

If you are considering to make a team you still have the oppertunity - it is very easy to participate - just register you Team online on www.wwfd.dk - remember to study the site and read the rules - rules are now in 4 language: English, French, Italian and German.

Hi all,

Concerning the upcomming World Wide Field Day Contest 2002:

We will make 4 beautifull full-coloured certificates for all private operators parcipating in the contest (=working FD-stations).

Private operators can optain a certificate, when over 50% of all active FD-stations has been worked.

Please also notice, that we offer a special "Allways"-certificate, which be claimed by all, that has worked more than 50% of all FD-stations EVERY year from this year (2002).

This might be interesting in 5, 10 or 15 years from today :-))

This certificate initiative hopefully motivates many operators to work the FD-stations year after year.

Read more about the first World Wide Field Day on 11-meter on www.wwfd.dk

Hi ALL (please forward this message to all forums)

Now there is only 6 days to the first World Wide Field Day Contest, untill now there is more than 65 teams from 26 division ready. All the teams will use a callsign/FD001 or higher. All the teams will give out progresivenumbers, you will find most of the QSL-info from the teams on www.cluster.dk or on www.wwfd.dk

The contest begin Saturday the 7.september 12:00 UTC and end Sunday the 8.september the allowed frequenzies are from 27.600 - 27.800 and from 26.965 - 27.405 allowed modulation is SSB and FM

If you would like participate in the contest as "normal operator" (from your home-OTH) you are more than welcome, you have the possibility to claim a ceritificate if you work minimum 50% of the teams that participate in the World Wide Field Day Contest - if you do that please give out progessivnumbers to all the teams you work. And please also check out the rules on www.wwfd.dk under RULES and under "NON-FD operators"

In this last moment you stll have the uppertunity to form a team and participate read more about it on www.wwfd.dk

If you have any question please send them to our secretary Tom@...

I would like to use this uppertunity to give my big thanks to all the Teams, and I hope that they all will have a nice day out in Field. I wish them all good luck.

Hello Tom (WT155) The group owner here

Just thought I'd send a note asken if you know anyone interested in CB radio and DXing on the 11 meter band the bring them over our way

scanner listeners welcome to

Like they say "THE MORE THE MARRIER"

Plus if you think of ways to better our group let Whiskeytango155 , Kj7GS or swler007 know and we will take it into account and before I go If you got a cool picture of your setup and want it posted as the opening picture for the group post your pictures HERE in this album

"Group web photo's for web page display" and they will be rotated from time to time

Thank You for being a member and happy DXing ;-)

Had a nearly correct answer e-mailed to me, I forgot the parabola mentioned but it may be close. For such a high gain the antenna has to be HUGE in relation to the wavelength.

And that should be a clue to the answer which is...

...the 200-inch telescope at Mt. Palomar. Yes, light wavelength is measured in angstroms but it is part of the RF spectrum. It seems to show a theoretical limit to the amount of gain an antenna can have.

Hmmm, stacked parabolas???

Topic: 408 Message: 408

Good day all,
I am lookin for a site that will help me make a directional antena.
What I would like to do is have 11 meter on the vertical, and 10 meter on the horizontal.
Curently I am running a Eagle 2000, with an old "ringo" i found in the attic of the place i just moved into. its an old full wave dipole with a ring on the botton you can use to tune in the antena.
its very okd but still works I have the swr's down to 1:1 on the 11 meter band but it jumps to almost 2 on the 10 meter side.
any help will be greatly appreciated.
Thank you in advance for your time & cooperation.

What type of directional antenna? Wire, yagi, quad, hybrid?

If you're getting an SWR of over 2:1 on the 10m band, you may want to check below Ch 1 if you're able. You may end up shortening your antenna somewhat to accommodate both bands, OR you just may have a high "Q" antenna (more efficient, but you're stuck with a limited frequency range).

"Further is better" for separation between antennas, but then again I'm not sure it would make a whole lot of difference to have the vertical sitting on top of the yagi.

Good luck with the setup, post back here if more questions -- I'm sure someone will be able to help ya.

hi bob, the imax2000 5/8 vertical is about the best thing going right now for 11 meters. it works really well and is better built than the old antrons. if your looking for directivity then the trusty 3 element yagi is still the thing.

How simple do you want to get? Some wire strung up in a tree the right way is a great way to DX... Otherwise you can buy or make your own beam, or stick with a 5/8 wave vertical. All depends on what you want, and how much you want to spend!

Is he talking about a SW antenna or a CB antenna? If for CB I didn't know they had wires which could transmit.

of course they do whether it be a wire dipole, a long wire, or a random wire, inverted v or anything else. a antron99 is nothing more than a wire inside of fiberglass hooked to a matching circuit so are all the fiberglass mobile cb antennas

Oh yes, wire will transmit! You just have to have the room and the time to put them up, and you don't need much of either...

I used a wire antenna to work a person in Poland (from California) with 50 watts (on the ham bands). The principle is the same, regardless of what band you're on, though. What works for hams will also work for CB. The wire will be shorter for CB, too. Total antenna cost: $10.00 for wire and some coax that I got free from a networking job I did (ripped out some RG-58 and installed CAT-5e).

Wire does a great job!

That is pretty good for 50 watts. Anyways 50 watts goes a long way if the propagation conditions are good. Same with CB... you put out the usual 5 watts and it can go across the country.

Anyone ever hear of a "slinky" antenna? I've heard of using these as dual-polarized beams for UHF freqs but saw this on another board and it's a new one for me if it's for CB.

the use two slinkys as each leg of a dipole

The 'slinky' antenna is usually just a dipole, with slinkys replacing the wire elements.

I don't remember seeing any credible tests of it.... but almost anything made of metal WILL radiate to a degree -- making it easy to claim 'success' with virtually anything from shopping carts to chainlink fences to rain gutters. I've used rain gutters and barbed wire as an antenna - and they worked. How well?? Well, not as good as my 'real' antennas -- but again, virtually anything made of conductive materials will radiate to a degree.

The slinky's electrical length would be changing constantly as it shakes and wiggles in the wind (if used outdoors) unless both slinkys themselves are stretched out so as to have the coils NOT touching the next turn.

A real controlled range test would be needed to verify how well it compares to a wire dipole or other types. Some may have already been done, but I just don't remember seeing them published.

We all occasionally see claims for new antenna designs where the maker claims 'worldwide contacts'.. With the right propagation conditions, almost anything is usable for intercontinental contacts -- even at rather modest power levels. My rain gutter test a few years ago yielded contacts to Europe on only 20W.... however, at the same time, I was able to do the same on a vertical at 10W.

Members of the team was: 3FAT010 op.Eduardo and 3VAL001 op. Val
They made 120 QSO's into 38 different DXCC's and they made contact to 40 other FD-Teams during the 24 hours
The result gave the team 28.400 Points

On The 2. Place

14RC/FD001
Members of the team was:14RC092 op. Pat and 14RC362 op. Pierre
The made 140 QSO's into 32 different DXCC's and they made contact to 31 other FD-teams during the 24 hours
The result gave them 18.910 Points

On the 3. Place

19AT/FD001 (on the air they had to use 19AT684/FD001 as their callsign)
Members of the team was: 19AT684 op. Bart - 19AT448 op. Bob - 19AT226 op.fred
They made 119 QSO's into 30 different DXCC's and they made contact to 31 other FD-teams during the 24 hours
The result gave them 17.949 Points

You can see a list of result from all the teams on www.wwfd.dk click on past contests

We ofcourse give our big congratiulations to the ALL the teams that was a part in the first World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-meter and we hope to see and hear all the teams again in 2003 along with many new teams

WWFD.DK will send all the trophys direct to the winners in february/march 2003

I hear sometimes that you can use a slinky as a SW antenna. People come up with some interesting ideas, I myself is the type of person who is happy as long as I can just buy it, plug it in, and listen to
it. lol

I would like to see a pix of one of these slinky antennas when made!!!!!!!!!!!!!

remember the old song from TV from years ago

"A SLINKY A SLINKY IT'S A FUN AND WONDRFUL TOY FUN FOR A GIRL AND A BOY"

"A SLINKY A SLINKY IT'S A FUN AND WONDERFUL ANTENNA IT'S FUN FOR CB AND HAM OP'S"

for those of the yonger members you might not have no idea of what I'm talken about

442. info about the new IRC

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2002-11-21 23:48:16 UTC
From: Tom 47DX052
Topic: 442 Message: 442

Hi,

I had some big doubts about how the new IRC works in general so I decided to check it out via the royal danish mailoffice.

I did ask them these questions:

Wich countries do exchange the new IRC?

- and the answer was:

"According to article 22 in the worldmailkonvention all country that are member of UPU and that is pratical all country except Taiwan - It is free for all country if they want to sell the IRC - the following countries do not sell IRC:

Angola, Armenien, Bhutan, Centralafrikanske Republik, Demokratiske Republik Congo, Dominikanske Republik, Ecuador, El Salvador, Georgien, Holland, Kuwait, Kirgizstan, Laos, Libanon, Mongoliet, Mozambique, Namibia, Panama, Rusland, St. Christopher (St. Kitts) & Nevis, Saudi Arabien, Suriname, Swaziland, Tanzania, Turkmenistan, Vatikanstaten, Vietnam and Yemen (and Taiwan, as mention before is not a member of UPU).

I did also aks them this question:

Is it nessecary to have a "stamp" from the selling postoffice on the new IRC ?

and the answer was:

"It is not obligatoric for the selling postoffice to stamp the new IRC and therefore the new IRC should be exchange without any stamps - this info was NOT given to any of the danish postoffices - but we will send out a bulletin to explain the situation"

This information was nice for me - I am QSL-manager, and I have received a lot of new IRC without stamps, and my local postoffice could only follow the "old rules" - that's history:-)) So if you have any problems about IRC's I can only encourage you to send a email to mainpostoffice of your country - I am shure they will help you

Best regards

Yes thet are!!!!

Thats the biggest reason why I don't use them it only takes a few phone calls from people that live around you to get them to send a warning letter or maybe even knock on the door and take your setup

And not only are Linears illegal but just adjusting a setting inside your CB like a VR for turning up the radios RF power that makes the radio it self illegal or giving the radio more band spread (extra channles)

But the only reason I say linears are OK is because I kinda remember my younger days (hehe) when I started out it was really no problem back then getting heard all over the world and then I found out the people around me could hear me to so I found a good deal on getting rid of it and got a base staion called a SEARS ROAD TALKER nice radio had that for awhile then I found this guy in Rochester New York that sold Ranger RCI 2950's(group picture) at that time they were $350.00 if not a bit more can't remember . But now I got this radio and no one could hear me in there T.V's and phones I fell in Love with it and never ever wanted a linear again

But if anyone wants to know the linear I used to have was called a "BIG BOOMER" (Can't remember who made it)400 watts and it had 4 tubes , fan cooled and it weight like 30 pounds I sorta wish I had it just for display purposes

I have 148f here that covers most of the 10m band,i used it up there.Most of the ham clubs get those old Motorola radios tune them up to run in 2m and 440 band,if the fcc and ic did not like that,you would think by now they would put a stop to it.Yes i now this is only 11m form not ham radio talk,but you see what i'am trying to say about what gos on out there.It gos both ways in the radio hobbie.

I updated the group web page or you could yes rebuilt it http://www.geocities.com/toomyg155/index.html

Removed slow loading jave script , pictures and other stuff that would slow down loading time

The only thing that slows it down now is all the web ring data thats on the page I really don't want to remove that because it would make the web page less valuable to look at and I run my pc at 1024x768 screen resolution running Internet Explorer 6.0

I know some one out there runs netscape or IE6.0 with a different screen res

I just need to know how it looks on different computers

thanks

Hi there:-)

Last year the non-profit and club-neutral organization WWFD.DK launched the first World Wide Field Day Contest for the whole 11-meter community - and it was a big success. More than 70 team from nearly all clubs/groups World Wide was registered to participate in 2002 and we can already see that 2003 will be a new success:-)

The original idea was to make a contest between the many clubstations using the triple-zero callsigns. After some positive debate we realized that it was not the perfect solution, so we ended up with a brand new concept - we encourage you to study our website www.wwfd.dk

If YOU are a serious Club President or Group President we encourage you to point out one of you dedicated members to be part in the World Wide Field Day Contest Board, because WWFD.DK is a club-neutral organization and to secure the complete neutrality, the Contest Board (with members from many clubs) has great power in the organization.

The only purpose for WWFD.DK is to organize the one and only yearly World Wide Field Day Contest.
We are not looking for members as a club - we are a serious partner for all serious Clubs and Groups.

It is very important to underline that WWFD.DK is a non-profit and non-commercial organization. Ofcourse we are looking for sponsors that will donate prizes for yearly winners...

If you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to write at our mailinglist -or direct to our secretary via email : tom@...

Best regards and Happy New Year

Tom

Mine's barefoot and I get a kick out of it. It's a GREAT radio for experimenting with (how can you go wrong with all of four watts output), and it DOES get out! Wouldn't mind picking up a sideband rig one of these days--but the FT-100 gets bought first, heh heh!

SSB seems to be where the majority of the long distance DX takes place.

I do it all the time!!! But then again the state right next door really is right next door and only about 10 miles away. :)

Hmmm, if less than 250 miles out, you may be hitting the F1 layer. I think I end up doing that on the low bands. It's weird, I can hear Florida and Georgia and Tennessee just fine, but here in Alabama I can barely hear the folks 50 miles away. Sometimes even in town here, ground waves can't hold a candle to skip...

If we both crank up the power and point the antennas towards europe in the morning or the pacific in the afternoon i can work Dave 2-LD-002 in San Angelo Texas from here in Galveston no problem on back scatter. At times it sounds a tad warbly and the signals are low but it works and works well.

When it happens to me alot of time the people sound wardly like there under water or something then in a couple of hour it gone and the normal DX is back

I think it's called "short skip" I'm not sure

I think it's about time to fire up my Washington Base and see what I can do with it, it's been a year since I got it and I am not fully convinced that the radio is bad, it could just be the way I mounted the outdoor antenna. I was thinkin about buying a mobile CB antenna this spring/summer and take the radio outside in the front porch and operate it during the warm summer nights. I've known family member who claimed he had talked to truckers in Texas from his location in New Jersey with his base antenna. So I think if I had the mobile I could probably do some long range DX on SSB? CB really I don't think uses line of site since it is on HF and can bounce all over. What do you think? I've been motivated by all the posts here about what people had done DX wise.

i've talked to and confirmed over 110 countries on freqs just above and below the normal cb channels. it isnt real hard when the dx is in there but it will be tuff on a mobile antenna thats not even attached to a car. you would be much better off buying a antron 99 for about 50 bucks and mounting it about 20 feet high off the ground. thats real cheap and easy to do and it'll work

Yes buying a base Antenna like the Antron 99 would be the way to go

I'v seen alot of people try and try to get out with mobile antennas with little or next to nothing for talk power and I'v seen problems start happening to radio that transmit off a mobile antenna without being mounted to a car

Like the last post "BUY A BASE ANTENNA LIKE THE ANTRON 99 100% GUARANTEED TO GET OUT AND GET OUT GOOD"

I should know I'v used one for 15 years+ now

I did a search for the antron and it looks sort of like the one I got outside. Maybe it would just help to remount it somewhere.

maybe you have the radio shack antenna? its blue and in two sections and doesnt work worth a damn, same for he others that look like it aka the bandit, big stick, and others. spend the 50 on a new antron99 and you wont be sorry.

Yes what you most likely were hearing was that military sweep. I hear them alot while looking for pirates on SW. There is alot of "motor" sounds on SW, these are believed to be from US NAVY communications modems. They are heard all over the place and were finally identified by a member of a numbers stations group called Enigma 2000 which I used to contribute to.

Usually I don't hear these as "motor" sounds. Usually It sounds like a high pitched "bewbewbewbewbewbewb" which scans up and down.

Dear friends - please forward this message to all forums.

I am QSL-manager for John 309/47DX101, and untill today I have received around 900 QSL-cards, that´s very very nice:-)

I have received some reminders, and that is also okay - but the QSL-card is not ready yet. The QSL will be a nice doublecard, and for the moment the QSL-card is "under contruction", it will be ready to send out in medium April or begining of May

So please do not send any reminders:-)) the QSL is 100% - if you have any question please write to me in private via 47DX052@... I will do my best to help you.

Best regards

Ain't DXing wonderful??? Congrats on the contact, I know it's a lot harder on the CB bands than it is on the ham bands.

OK, my next brag...New Hampshire from Alabama today on 15m. Normally that would be a "so what" contact. He was pushing 60 dB over at 600-800 watts into a 6-element Force 12. I was 5x6 into his rig.

...And here's the good news...FIVE WATTS from my FOUR FOOT mobile antenna!!! This was an evening contact as the bands were slowly dying down for the night, so this means I must have been just under the MUF to pull that kinda stunt. Heh heh heh... -- Don think thats hard? try getting your named called on 27.025. if you can do that more than once in a life time then your doing something. hears a hint, your legal limit ham amp still wont be of much help. lol your qrp on a clear freq is'nt too hard.

Well, didn't break any pileups, I even had time during his CQ to change the "wander lead" on the Outbacker to 12m. The conversation wasn't 30 minutes, but wasn't 5 seconds either! Congrats on your contact into Japan & Philippines at the same time, it's about time we get some of these accomplishments on the forum!

And yes, the ham bands are generally quieter than the CB bands, I know I'd never hope to get that kind of distance on a CB with any of the setups I've had. But I'm still happy, it was the first time I'd heard anything from the Pacific come up above the noise level in quite some time.

now you may think i'm being silly but i'm very serious, if a ham operator was truely wanting to monitor the pacific dx conditions to north america on 12-10 metersthen the best spot for one to monitor would be 26.720 lsb. this is the new zealand legal call freq and all the stations there are running 12 watts into verticals. when you hear those guys comming in strong (theres never a lack of activity, if the bands open you will hear them.) then you can be sure the band is wide open that way. many many times i have worked 10 or 20 pacific stations in a night on 11 meters while tuning to 12 and 10 just to listen and i hear nothing. its like the hams run away from 10 and 12 as the sun sets and the signals fall below 30 over 9 but thats actually the time when the really long haul dx work begins. i guess there too lazy to pull rare signals out of the mud on 10 when they can get power house signals on 20. while you guys leave those bands wasted after abpout 6pm 11 meters is still hammering away across the pond usually until around 9 pm local time.

Fascinating, I never knew that. You're right, seems like there's always gobs of activity on 11m way past the 10/12m "bedtime".

I hear ya with the 30-over-9 crowd. That's crazy, you just don't need that much power.

9 p.m. -- I'll have to check that out. You can learn a lot from a CBer!

That's probubly because the MUF is still getting up just above that band even though we're on the down side of the solar cycle. I think a lot of people don't realize that. And that's what I'm taking advantage of on 12m!

Hi all

The planned Iota Tour 188DX/AF057 by 14DX461 Ludo has been cancelled.

Ludo has been waiting for the rest off his luggage since he arrived to Madagascar last weekend.
Now - Finally the Ludo's remaining luggage has arrived, but the unecpected luggage problem unfortunately has interferred with his planned AF057 activities.
Ludo will instead try to activate:

188DX/AF90/NB
Nosy Bohara island (Ste Marie island)
08 to 18 April 2003

188DX/AF90/NN
Nosy Nato island
12 , 13 and 14 April

Ludo is doing the AF090 activities parallel with his friend 14AT286 Jean, which will be active with the following AT callsigns.
188AT/AF090/NB
188AT/AF090/NN

Unfortunately a "joint venture" like. the recent 152DX/1 + 152FAT/0 and 177DX/1 + 177FAT/0 model, was not accepted by AT. Therefore Jean and Ludo will work the station on shifts, using independant logs.

Vy 73's
Tom

MNI. Thanks to 47DX101 John,19DX121 Mike and 14AT263 Bruno for the updated information from Ludo and Jean on Madagascar.

A little behind the times there Tom :)

They aren't so new now... they've been out for about 3 years already.
The newer DX models are made using mostly surface mount components so they hold up a bit better to vibration etc. They also improved the receive and rejection a little over the older versions.
They also changed the display lamps from colored 12v bulbs to green LED's that light up the display better and last longer than the old bulbs.
So the new versions are better... :)

559. 4 months to "take off"

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2003-05-04 01:33:33 UTC
From: Tom 47DX052
Topic: 559 Message: 559

Hi all (please forward this around)

I would like to share something with you all - and it is "ofcourse" something about the one and World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-meter:-)

There is and will always be someone that means we have enough contest on our band, there are aslo someone that means that contest is similar to QRM.

And basicly these people are 100% correct - IF and only IF you search for the negative stuff.-)

I will try to convince you all to see the World Wide Field Day Contest from a posttive prospective point of view.

This is the only Contest that give all operators from all clubs/groups, as well as independed operators, on the 11-meter band a equil oppertunity, to test there one skills when they sit in the other end of a pile-up.

The WWFD-Contest will also bring friends together - they will help each other to gather a serious team - they will have a lot of fun in the planning and ofcourse when they are together out in the field:-)

Last year there was 70 teams participating and not one of these teams had a negative point of view after the contest - the only negative thing was the probagation:-(

More than 90% of these teams will paticipate again in the second edition of WWFD along with several new teams.

The organization of WWFD.DK has made some contest-rules that will keep the "QRM" in a narrow part of our band - and remember this contest is only once a year and only for 24 hours:-)

The WWFD is ofcourse also a competition between the many teams from the many different clubs and groups. BUT - the compitition is also between teams inside a club and you will listen many different teams from the same club - again this year:-)

IF you still have a negative point of view about the World Wide Field Day than please consider that many operators are going to have a lot of fun for "just 24 hours" - I really hope that the negative ones can live with that:-)

I certainly look forward to this event and I encourage YOU to be a part of the great challange.

BUT remember that talent alone won't make you a success. Neither will being in the right place at the right time, unless you are ready. The most important question is: "Are you ready?"

Regards
Tom
Secretary
WWFD.DK

Hey !

Iam Morten 47 IR 142 - 47 RC 101 - 47 RK 142 (18 Years old)

I dicide to make a mailinglist for Young Dx-ers on 11 meterband (You must be under 26 Years to subscribe)

I Made the list to collect young DX ers together ! So we can discuss about DX or what we like to discuss !

I hope many YOUNG oprators will subscribe!

73 de Morten - Denmark - Please visit my website www.dxradio.subnet.dk

Dear Friends

The QSL for 309/47DX101 is stil not ready - I am ofcourse very very sorry for the delay - I really hope that the QSL will be reday to send out in the next 4-6 weeks.

I ofcourse receive some 2 QSL cards and reminders - I can only say that IF you have send 2 cards with contribution, I certainly return the extra contribution with the QSL.

Finally - please let other operators know that the QSL from 309/47DX101 is 100% and they do not have to worry.

What is the best antenna for 600 watt mobile use? Please explain why you think your choice is best. I have been using a 5' wilson whip about one foot behind the cab on a custom stainless steel bracket with good swr and low noise. I have had better swr with 102" ss whip but the noise level seems to be a little higher. Thanks for the suggestions.

I use the 102 whip and I like the way it sounds. I have used it with different radios and it seems to be the best one that I like there are others out there that can handle more power but the 102 is the best I think because there is no load to worry about. Guardian 301

I am just getting back into CB after about 10 years. I had a President HR2510 radio but it doesn't key up anymore so I just picked up a Cobra CB til I can get a new Lincoln (replacement for the 2510). I set up the radio in my truck, with a 102, it works fine but there is tons of static making 'talkable' distances very short. What can I do?

Your best bet for a mobile whip will be a 102" whip, mounted in the center of the roof, and kept as vertical as possible. That's pretty difficult at freeway speeds, but it can be done (if you're willing to do it) with a little tape and fishing line. Just be aware of the height of this thing!

You're right, you can crank as much power as you like into 102" whip and you won't have a coil to heat up. If you're using it behind the cab, you'll also have the added benefit of getting more antenna up above the roof line.

Good luck with your installation.

I have a Pro-39 in great shape with telescopic antenna, cel mod, 200 channel programable, with HYPERSCAN, would like to trade for a good magnum 257 type or similar am/fm/ssb radio. Or a Midland 79-290
Thanks

Hello all:

I have been a Ham for a number of years and have been around SWL, Scanners, CB's and Ham radios most my life from when I was a young kid and so if you are like me and DO LIKE RADIO then please give Ham Radio a look at if you have not already.... we all have many more things in common than we realize. If anyone is wanting to take a step into HAM radio and would like some support then give this site a try and let's see if we can help each other. After 25 years of Radio (which includes CB) I still have friends on both CB and Ham Radio that like to help each other and so do I....73

Good advice, but if you get your licence, remember to keep the CB and the SWL station! They're all fun!

Glad to hear you enjoy radio, Don, I do too. Give us your "brags" if you've got 'em. Best contact for me so far (yes, I'm a ham too) was 5w from Alabama into Japan, 12m, Icom 706MkIIG into a four-foot coil on top of the car. Things would be a bit more difficult with CB I would think, noise floor is hard to get past...

I've got some pix in the photos area, take a look if you'd like. "Bobtail's Stuff". Different antenna designs as well as my HF gear.

Hi Don KJ7GS:

Thanks for the reply..and hey you got a nice station as I use to have a Yaesu 767GX and it was a very good rig for me. Also FB on your antennas and I took a look....yep a sure like antenna building and as you know the antenna is the most important part of your system. I would say that your contact to Japan was very nice indeed at QRP levels and most of them in Japan are at limits over there of only 10 watts on HF so not bad at all! I usually am not surprised on HF if the Band Gods are with ya that on Ham Radio with lower noise floors and less traffic that conditions allow this more times than not to make some really nice contacts with simple antennas and low power. I am into digital modes of PSK/HELL/MFSK16 for weaksignal work and many times go over to simple wires (even grass wires) and talk into Europe or Russia with QRP to 1 watt....on 80 and 160 try MW to near nothing at times to play also...on VHF/UHF on digital modes of WSJT for Meteor Scatter modes. Yep...I like Radio also, but I still after 30 years still like talking to my buddies a few times a week on 40 and 16 SSB here on the ol CB and I doubt that will ever go away till I am 6 feet under. Thanks again for the reply Don and email anytime if you want some Ham chat at kb9umt@....

Hi,
I have a Yaesu Frg-8800 in good shape, about a 6 out of 10, but it works perfect.
I have 2 of them so one is going. It goes from below the am radio bands to 29.999 with am/fm/cw/ssb and bells and whistles.
I would like to trade for a base scanner, over 200 channel with 800mhz band.
Or any other goodies, like a 4900B Superstar maybe?
Let me know what you have.
Thanks

Hi all (please forward this around)

Do you know the difference between a "normal contest" and a Field Day contest?

Well the biggest difference is that you as a participater in a "normal contest" can be active from your own radioroom.

If you choose to participate in The world Wide Field Day Contest, you have to be out in the Field, you must build up a camp, with generators, batteries, antennas etc.etc.

AND - a "normal contest" very offen is held and by one of the many clubs, and most of the participaters are from the club that organize the contest - please do not get me wrong:-) There is absolutely nothing wrong with that, I know very well that many clubs/groups do also open up there contest for others.

BUT - the one and only World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-meter is NOT held by a specific club or group - it is held by the club-neutral and non-profit organization WWFD.DK

AND - the foundation for the idea of the World Wide Field Day Contest is that all operators world wide can paticipate with there own team as long as there are minimum 2 members in the team.

THIS - means that YOU can make your own team with members from your own club or group, you can also pariticipate if you a independt operator without any club-relationship., it also means that you can make team with members from different clubs.

AND - this is a very unique uppertunity to test your skills and ofcourse in a friendly competiion you can challenge other teams from other clubs and ofcourse in many different Countries.

SO - what are you waiting for:-) check out the rules and more on www.wwfd.dk you can register YOUR team online your team will get a special Field Day callsign automaticly.

If you want to have to further details or more info please write to the secretary via tom@...

Hi Tom

Great idea but not sure how you will organize it so many others know what the contest is about or how it works.....what frequency? Will there be awards? How will you make others know that are not polite and don't let anyone communicate? Good luck with your efforts and it sounds like fun!

If anyone is every interested in Ham Radio remember that these kind of activities are weekly occurances.....contests, awards, special events (Field day, Kids day etc) or stations (Military Sub day, Lighthouse weekend etc)....you are only 35 questions away from the entry level license and it is a life-time hobby just like my cbing is also....give it a try sometime!

Hi Don,

You can read all about the one and only World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-meter on www.wwfd.dk

Here you can see the rules - we ofcourse hope that other operators will respect this 24 hours contest - the rules of the WWFD Contest also limit the use of the band.

I Hope that that soem teams from the states will participate.

Hi Tom

Great idea but not sure how you will organize it so many others know what the contest is about or how it works.....what frequency? Will there be awards? How will you make others know that are not polite and don't let anyone communicate? Good luck with your efforts and it sounds like fun!

612. Friendly invite to a new group focused on Ham Radio/new/upgrades

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup

From: Don
Topic: 612 Message: 612

Hello:

Just a friendly invite to join/participate in a new group to any radio enthusiast that might want to add another hobby to the exisiting ones they have. This group is only a few weeks old but already has a good group of folks (around 120 members) that are trying to support each other in pursuing Ham Radio or upgrading their license. We think Ham Radio can be a great addition to any radio related hobby that folks might already have (SWL,CB,Scanning,Communication,Emergency,Electronics,etc). Our main focus will be on supporting those interested in getting licensed in Ham Radio, upgrading, or general questions on this subject. ALL are WELCOME and from time to time we hope to give away FREE dontated study material to help someone in the group (donated Tech,General,Extra,cw/tapes/CDs/etc). So if you have ever been interested in adding Ham Radio to your list of things you wanted to try there is no better time than now to start.....entry level Ham Tech license is only 35 questions...give it a try!

http://groups.yahoo.com/group/hamradiohelp/

de kb9umt Don
(last week's FREE give away was a "Now You're Talking" ARRL Tech study book....this month will be giving out to a winner a General Study book and by months end a 10ch VHF/UHF scanner for those that might not ever listened in on Ham VHF/UHF repeater traffic.....those that are Hams already do you have current but no longer needed study books to donate to someone?)

621. Adventures with Counterpoises

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2003-07-12 14:05:51 UTC
From: kj7gs
Topic: 621 Message: 621

Did some experimenting with a vertical that I thought I'd share here. I decided to bring the mobile system into the house, and that meant the magmount had to go on an air handler outside. Mediocre SWR, but functional. Being the perfectionist though, I opted for a better counterpoise, namely a flat strip of metal.

First I tried aluminum flashing. Kind of unwieldy, and the SWR was actually worse when I "sandwiched" it between the magmount and the air handler. So that ended up in the trash can and I started looking for copper instead.

Copper is expensive! Especially for the long, wide strap stuff. So I went surfing on the net and found - get this - Snail-Barr copper foil, on the gardening sites. Twenty feet of 3" wide strip. Perfect. Well, not exactly, but hold on!

SWR ended up the same as the aluminum flashing, about 2:1 at the band edges, vs. maybe 1.7 without the counterpoise. All that work for nothing? Nah. It was the magnet that was causing my problems. No coupling with non-magnetic material, so no connection! I put the antenna on the ground a bit further from the house, and placed the copper ON TOP of the (chrome) magmount, where solid "connection" could be obtained. Success!

So I learned a couple things that I thought I'd pass on. One, copper "slug-guard" foil is cheap and very effective if you want to mount your mobile antenna somewhere besides the car. And two, magnets must attract the metal in order to couple -- didn't know that!

Happy DXing!

Why isn't thePOLL feature activated on this web page? Polls are a lot of fun and give members something to participate in while on this web site. Also we can express our opinions without being identified or single out. Let's get this feature on this web site so the we all can feel free to start up a poll on subjects we would like to get opinions on relating to CB.

Thats the way Yahoo had it setup when the group was switched from club format to group format

I tried to turn it on but it's unavailable but I do have polls on our web page they havent been updated in awhile but might be worth checken out

I'd been wanting to keep the radio around while doing some of the housework, and noticed (HOW long have I been living here???) that the sink was metal, and connected straight to earth ground, and ...

Posted a picture of it in the "photos" area under Bobtail's stuff.
It works quite well, too -- made a QRP contact into Canada with it!

Dear Yahoo! Groups Moderator,

IMPORTANT NOTICE:
You are receiving this notice because you are a moderator of one or more groups. As part of our efforts to ensure that all Yahoo! Groups users enjoy the same high-quality service, we will implement the following service changes on Aug. 7, 2003:

- Message Attachments: Yahoo! Groups will continue to deliver all attachments sent via email, however, the attachments will no longer be archived within the Messages area. You may continue to upload files and images to the Files and Photos areas of your groups. Please re-upload any attachments you would like to preserve to the Photos or Files areas of your group. On Aug. 7, all attachments in the Messages area will be removed, and Yahoo! will be unable to retrieve such data.

- Add Members: The "Add Members" feature will now allow you to add 10 new members per day (e.g., the ability to directly add your friends and family to your group). You may still use the "Invite Members" feature to invite others to join your group.

- Files and Photos: Groups web membership will be required to access a group's Files and Photos areas.

Thank you for your support as we make these changes that will allow us to continue offering a compelling, high quality, free service.

For more details on the service changes described above, please visit our help section http://help.yahoo.com/groups/groups-56.html. Please do not reply to this message via email, as responses will not be read.

Sincerely,

The Yahoo! Groups Team

639. Do you want better probagations?

Hi all

Yes ofcourse we all want to have better probagations:-)) but it is not always easy to get what we want.

If You compare the missing probagation - with another problem like many farmers know: "missing the rain"
In the "old days" the farmers just called for "rain-maker"

Can we do the same with a "probagation-maker"?

:-)) ofcourse we can.

Just listen out Saturday the. 6 september 12:00 UTC untill Sunday 7. september 12:00 UTC

Here you will hear many of these "probagation-dancers" they have made some specials teams ending with /FD001-FD/999

If you also believe that it could be fun - than check out www.wwfd.dk and see a list of all the teams.

Regards
Tom

WHAT PART OF THE INTRO PAGE DON'T YOU GET IS SAYS

"If you got a group that you want to post please post it in the links section and not on the message board or it will be deleted
Thanks "

I saw that. I wasnt posting a group. Its a personal site. The message didnt say to not post personal sites so I didnt think there was an issue posting it because it isnt a group. Did I miss something on the page?

"inu6080"

No it's not you it's another member here that used to come in post his group url and then delete him self from the group then aweek might go by then he would sign back up then do the same thing over and over untill I banned him BUT now I see he's using another name

I don't see a problem posting a homepage on the board as long as it is related to the fourm topic. Better off posting it in the links section though...

Hey Bluemule,

Welcome to the group! Tell us about your setup if you would. You may want to post a few pix in the photos area if you've got that capability.

I'll tell ya one thing there Don after last nights blackout I made sure next time my radio will say on the air I can either use a 200watt power inverter (not sure how long it would run off a 12v car battery)thats so the base scanner can run and the CB or I can just run it off a 12v battery then only the CB would run

BUT how long Don do you thing a good car battery would last running a 200watt power inverter??????

Thanks for the welcome, i look foreward to talking to you all on the air sometime. I got ahold of a new Galaxy DX 2517 and had it peaked and tuned and it also came with the Silver Eagle mic. I have the Palomar Deluxe 35A for a little help lol. My antenna is just a Solar Con fiberglass stick that is 18' tall and i have that mounted to a 35' pole. I seem to get sood skip to the east coast ALOT and down south. Never really talked to anyone out west yet. Anyway thanks for the welcome and we'll catch ya laterz Shouldn't be that hard. You'll need a continuity tester of some sort (multi-meter should have one), and of course you're looking for 3 things -- push-to-talk, mic, and ground. Find Ground first. Check for continuity, each pin against chassis. Mic ground, if it exists, should have a small resistance to chassis ground. Your PTT pin will have a voltage against ground and should key the radio when contact is made. Your mic line will be a guess, but with only four pins on the plug it should be easy enough to find.

Give that a try and post back...

The site you posted may work, but best to verify it. Don't know what you mean by "needing someone to do it for you." I had a TNC in the past, but it's really a matter of reading the instructions, and ask questions here if you don't understand what's going on (no guarantees but we'll try to help). If you don't have instructions, you can probably get those on line.

If there's no one around to work packet with you via CB, you've got another problem-- but you could use it either for SWLing or ham radio if you'd like to get your license.

Does the Baycom work only packet? Have you thought about using a RigBlaster or other device with your sound card for the other digital modes?

Anyone know anything about reactance and how to cut it down? I picked up an antenna analyzer recently and it will show 50 ohms resistance but lotsa ohms reactive. I know the ground plane is fairly small (using a ladder just sitting on the ground). Coil perhaps on the shield side at the feedpoint?

RADIO SOUTH NORTH DX GROUP

Dear Radio Friend
May I take a moment of your time, to tell you a little about myself and the RSN dx Group.
My name is Janne and I live in the north part of Sweden.
I formed this group in January this year 2003. It has always been my passion to start a group on 11m and be successful, I am happy to say that after only 8mths we have over 900 members worldwide and growing very fast, with 7 websites and more on the way. We have soon our first RSN World Contest and have many plans for next year. All dxcc have their own directors. They are a great team and I am proud of them all.
Membership to this group is open for all people interested in radio communications and the internet.
Our only rule, that I enforce is that we do not talk religion or politics.
Our Motto is, Radio is friendship, Friendship is peace. This must be the future. If not for ourselves, then for the next generation.
Would you please except this email as your personal invitation to join our group. All is free to join. I need no money from you. Join us and see what we have to offer.
If you would like more information, or have any questions, don't hesitate, please email me, or check out our website.
Many thanks for taking the time to read this email.
I would like to take this opportunity to wish you and all your family all the very best wishes from myself and the RSN dx Group.
I look forward to your reply. Thanks again.

RSN DX GROUP INFORMATION BULLETIN

ATTENTION: TO RSN MEMBERS AND OTHERS

USA RSN DX GROUP WILL CHANGE IT'S NET CALL TO REFLECT THE UPCOMING DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME CHANGE AND SEASONAL DIFFERENCES - EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY.

Every Friday night @ 5pm local time in California a RSN Net Call-In will occur on 27.505 USB (or 26.320 USB Only if Heavy Dx Conditions are prevailing), check the web site at http://www.timeanddate.com/worldclock/ and use the "fixed time calculator" to coordinate this moment within your local time zone to that of the USA's West Coast. Since it is not possible for all time zones to hear California, RSN DX GROUP will also be hosting a world wide Net Call-In on 27.505 (USB OR LSB) at that same moment (using your own world clock adjusted time all will be on "air" at the same time). Everyone is invited to tune their stations and see what they can hear. If propagation is favorable in your area, please make a call and get acquainted with other members of your DX club. Radio is Friendship, Friendship is Peace.

This message originates from the world headquarters out of Sweden and was originally sent by 21 RSN 001 - Janne on 3 OCT, 2003 73 FROM 21 RSN 001 JANNE PRESIDENT & FOUNDER

I have a couple groups myself and people have tried to slip in things not allowed and the first time I am polite and if they respond in a like manner - no problem BUT if it happens again I delete and warn 3 strikes and its ban time. If you don't have a few rules and enforce them you can lose control then chaos follows then a group can implode-I know its happened to me. I've been accused of being a "Hitler" kind of group owner- not true I just like a civilized, orderly group and will do what it takes to keep things running smooth. - Dave

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2003-12-25 15:11:26 UTC
From: kj7gs
Topic: 734 Message: 734

Asking the radio geniuses out there -- I believe antennas have a resistive and a reactive component -- or is is found only in the coax? I've measured (at the transmitter input end) a resistance of 50 ohms with a zero reactance on my mobile antenna. Now, since it's a short antenna I'm sure the capacitance has been canceled out by the coil, resulting in with the coax "sees" as the 50 ohms impedance required to make the coax "think" that it's seeing an infinite amount of coax beyond the feedpoint, resulting in that 1:1 match. Is my reasoning correct here, or do I need to go back to the books and study a little more?

737. Heathkit sb 200 linear help??

Hi.
I just got my hands on a beautiful condition (like new) sb 200 heathkit amp.
This thing means business.
I was wondering if anyone has used this beast on CD (11 meter)?
If so, does it work well on AM & SSB?
Also, can I control the power output at all? I am driving it with my RCI-2990 (50 watt base). Is this enough to drive the SB 200?

It is pretty involved & I am not sure if it is worth it or if I should sell it & get a newer solid state linear.
Thanks
Ray

Essentially yes.

The base antenna I use is a Sirio Boomerang. It's basically a 5/8 wave DX27 with a ground-plane/mounting kit.
Good performance even though it is in the loft (unable to use an external antenna) but it is very difficult to obtain a reliable SWR.

I have known others use a Firestick with a ground-plane outside of their window with varying success.

I tried my Firestik as a base, but it didn't seem to work very well. I used a magmount on a flex-ladder as well as copper foil in various configurations for a ground plane, but had disappointing results. Any suggestions?

As I said, Sometimes you get bad results.

Instead of using a magmount fitting you should try using a body mount, the kind you drill a hole in the roof for.
This should make a better contact for the ground.

Hello all. I will be buying a Galaxy FC-347 frequency display for my Realistic TRC-458. I have been told the installation is very easy and straightforward. I was wondering if anyone has any experience installing the FC-347 to the TRC-458. Email replies are welcome. Thanks!

I take it the Galaxy FC-347 is a frequency counter of some sort that installs at RF output of the CB -- correct? I also take it you have "extra channels" on your TRC-458 that would be worth seeing on a readout of some sort rather than a paper chart off to the side...

On the regular 40 channels, you will make farther contacts. While contacts outside of North America are unlikely on the regular 40, you will most definately hear stations all over the states, and probably into Canada and maybe even some Carribean islands. If you get "extra channels" and go on sideband, you will talk to the world.

I have run SSB exclusively since the 80's, and have made contacts all over North, Central, and South America. Consider that you have essentially 80 more channels (on a "legal" radio), there is not as much congestion as AM. You have a little more legal power with sideband than AM. There are modifications which can increase your channel capacity and power, however care must be taken as it is easy to get into restricted freq's and the FCC is really hitting some operators hard for operating illegally. Unfortunately, DXing is much like the traffic in Houston, and there isn't much you can do but sit and wait, or muscle your way in.

Thanks for your response. Your right about Houston's traffic and the noise on the regular 40 is impossible. How or where do I find out about what the legal power modificiations as well as the freq mods. Thanks again.

You might lose a little bit of gain that you would have had with four elements, but otherwise you should be able to do just fine with 1 director and 1 reflector along with the driven element.

770. Need help hooking up frequency display to TRC-458

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2004-04-20 13:55:50 UTC
From: Andy 2LD751
Topic: 770 Message: 770

I need a little assistance. I am hooking up a PDC-256 frequency display to a TRC-458 radio.

The instrutions state that you have to solder the input coax connector to a 51 ohm 1/4 watt resistor, then solder the other end of the resistor to a 15pf disc ceramic cap, then solder the unconnected end of the cap to the VCO output transformer. Can someone help me out as to where this is soldered in the TRC-458? The board is a Uniden board with the 858PLL in it.

Next, the directions state that I should solder the shield of the coax to a ground point adjacent to the VCO output transformer. Again, can someone give me an idea of what a ground point would be in this area of the radio?

As far as the power goes, the black wire should be soldered to a "solid low impedence ground located near the modulation section of the circuit board" and the red power lead should be soldered to the "switched side of the 12 volt power switch". I just need someone to give me an idea of where these points would be.

Thanks in advance for your help.

Since people come and go on here fairly often, I figured I'd post this again...

I am looking for a CB tech in the Ocean County, NJ area. Specifically I need a TRC-458 base CB run through the alignment procedures (I have Sam's Photofacts available) and I need a Paradynamics frequency display hooked up.

If anyone is able to help me locally, please email me. Thanks!

I need to replace the lightbulb for the meter on my TRC-458. It's the white one that is supposed to be lit when the radio is receiving. It sits in a rubber grommet with two wires going into it from the bottom. It seems pretty securely placed in there. Does anyone know how to remove the bulb so I can replace it?

798. World Wide Field Day Contest 2004

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2004-06-13 23:07:03 UTC
From: Tom
Topic: 798 Message: 798

Hi to all (please forward this mail to other forums)

The one and only World Wide Field Day Contest will start Saturday the 4. September at 12:00 GMT finish Sunday the 5. September at 12:00 GMT.

All clubs and independet operators are more than welcome to participate in this yearly contest. The only thing you have to do is to register your Team on www.wwfd.dk

WWFD.DK is a non-profit and neutral organization, this means that we are not related to a specific club or group.

The only purpose is to organize the one and only World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-Meter band.

It's very important to underline that WWFD.DK is not seeking for members as a club, the intentions of WWFD.DK is to be a serious partner for existing clubs and to give members of ALL clubs a possibilty to strengthen the relationship among members in their own club and also to members of other clubs - we believe that it also will increase friendship for all the 11-meter community.

To support WWFD.DK can be done in many ways.
For clubs and groups, the strongest support is, that you encourage your members to participate and use the clubs "name" / "letters" for the callsign. For general operators, the strongest support is to participate.

If a Club or Group would like to have influence on WWFD.DK they are more than welcome to point out one member and request him to join the Contest Board. If your Club or Group will support WWFD.DK in this way it will be apriciated.

You are welcome to visit our website and study more about the one and onnly World Wide Field Day Contest for 11-meter band

Best regards
Tom
Secretary

799. Can I convince you?

Hi all

"As usually" it is time for me to try to convince you to create a team of friends and participate in the World Wide Field Day Contest 2004.

Some of the readers maybe are a little tired to read these yearly "convincing mails" but I really hope that you will see these mails as a true and honest way to promote something that I believe is of big value for our common hobby.

The World Wide Field Day Contest is not a "normal" contest. First of all the biggest difference is that the team of minimum 2 persons has to be out in the field. The team have to bring there own power (generator/battery) with them, they also have to build up the antennas etc.etc.

Secondly, the World Wide Field Day Contest is only running in 24 hours and once a year; this means that a team have a lot of time to organize everything.

Thirdly, the World Wide Field Day Contest is open for all and it cost nothing to participate.

The 3. edition of the one and only World Wide Field Day Contest will start Saturday the 4. September 12:00 GMT and end Sunday the 5. September 12:00 GMT

I don't know. I've heard the term "short skip" before, but I think that means single-hop contacts. I've heard of ground waves, but by definition they are absorbed into the ground over a certain distance, so there's no way that they could propagate. There were two terms having to do with this phenomenon, but for the life of me I can remember what they are. One had to do with absorption of radio waves, and the other had to do with line of sight communications. Somebody help me out here!

Topic: 829 Message: 829

Anyone ever try mounting a quarter wave vertical on the aluminum roof of a trailer? I tried it myself a couple of days ago, and wow! It makes an awesome ground plane. The only problem is that since it's nonmagnetic, it has a tendency to tip over in a strong wind. My solution so far is to take a grille of some sort and put it over the whole thing and then put some bricks or rocks on top of the grille to hold everything down. I'm sure a heavy steel plate would work, if I can find one around here. Any other ideas?

Even this steel plate will work on the underside of the aluminium roof providing the magnet is strong enough to pull towards it.

Well, today I bought a 102" whip and made a 1" coil on a 3" form to put with my Firestik. Firestik goes into a magmount, and along the base goes the 9' whip as a counterpoise. This may or may not bring the reactance down, I'll let y'all know what happens. This thing is going on a picnic table, by the way. If I can get the reactance tuned out, meaning just the vertical element radiating, this might be an answer for those that have plastic or fiberglass roofs on their vehicles. The 9' length is optional -- I should be able to shorten it down to about 6' I think, total length for the counterpoise. It may work, it may not...

Let me find out if this works first! The problem is, I'm not an electronics whiz by any stretch of the term. I know my Firestik is resident, and I know the dimensions of the 9' whip. Nine feet, LOL. I took a length of insulated wire and wrapped it around a 1 inch spray bottle, and measured the inductance with my antenna analyzer. The readout shows about three microhenrys, but with >650 ohms of reactance. I'm not sure if the inductance figure is all I need, or if the reactance will affect the "circuit" that I'm making in any way.

I'm trying to follow an article that I saw a couple years ago in a ham magazine, but I'm having difficulty in a couple of areas. #1, I'm using a magnet mount to hold the vertical antenna -- something that I figure will probably need to be done anyway on a typical mobile setup that doesn't have any metal to attach to, but might be done with Velcro or some other method of attachment. #2, I don't know what kind of inductance the antenna needs to "see" in order to cancel out the reactance. #3, I don't know the coil dimensions that I'm going to need in order to provide this inductance, and this is adding up to "trial and error" to try to get things working. I suppose I could rig up a tapped coil instead of the insulated wire that I have right now, but that still doesn't help me with figuring out what the radiating element wants.

This may take a while!

What I'm trying to do is cancel out reactance on the counterpoise -- by way of a coil since the radials would be too short for 11 meters. I heard that it was 3 microhenrys, but when I hooked the coil itself up to an analyzer, I came up with around that value but an "X1" value of >650. I'm not sure what whether that means I'm doing it right or not. The "less than 7" value (the these of the limits of the analyzer's acceptable values) is up at around 100 kilohertz. Anyway, it's not making much difference when I hook the coil up to the counterpoise. More to follow...

Well, the way I understand it, the vertical element needs a counterpoise. Radials don't radiate though, and that's what makes a vertical different from a dipole. All radials do is provide the return currents necessary for proper operation -- but they of course need to be the same length. Normally, you'll find a set of three or four with any quarter wave vertical. Each of those radials are 1/4-wavelength long. The reason you normally have three or four of them instead of only two is because they are 1/4 wavelength -- and are therefore resonant and will skew the signal pattern. And they sell. Two radials will work just fine if they're not 1/4 wavelength and nonresonant, but they can be brought back into resonance with a coil, just like you would with the radiating element itself. And the result is electrical resonance without the length resonance. Lots and lots of long radials do work, but they are totally unnecessary since all you want is current equality which is provided just as well with two radials as with 120.

So I have the vertical element, a Firestik. And I have the two radials in one 9' whip, giving the 1/8 wavelength per radial that I need. And I have a length of insulated wire that I'm using between the 9' whip and the shield side of the coax. Theoretically, I should be seeing 50 ohms of impedance and 0 ohms of reactance. But no such luck, SWR was around 3:1 and very little change from having no coil at all. I know the Firestik is resonant, it works just fine on the roof of my SUV. And I know the 9' whip can be nothing other than the correct length. That leaves the coil, so more experiments to follow!

So what you're trying to do is use a mobile antenna as a base antenna?

That's the general idea. There are no base 1/4 wave antenna packages that separate the vertical element and counterpoise, and mobile antennas are exactly that -- a quarter-wave radiating element that depends on the vehicle for its counterpoise. I'm following an article that might very well disprove the assumption that many radials are required for that kind of antenna. The current theory (pardon the pun) applies to very low frequencies, not to the higher HF -- including CB -- frequencies. If I can design a coil that will provide the inductance necessary to "lengthen" the radials without making them interact with the radiating element, then anyone with a vehicle that has a fiberglass body can still use a vertical and retain all the efficiency that their metal-car counterparts have.

Hi all (please to forward this to other forums)

We are happy to invite you and your club to participate in the thrird edition of the one and only World Wide Field Day Contest on 11-meter band.

The World Wide Field Day contest is open for all operators if you are a team of minimum 2 persons, you are welcome to check the rules and more on our website www.wwfd.dk

The World Wide Field Day Contest 2004 start Saterday the 4. September at 12:00 GMT and is finish Sunday the 5. September at 12:00 GMT.

The World Wide Field Day Contest is a 24 hours contest.and it is the only contest that give all clubs and also independent operators a great oppertunity to be a part in a fair competetion.

The World Wide Field Days Contest is held by the club-neutral and non-profit organization WWFD.DK

Hi all (please forward this message to other forums)

This upcomming weekend the one and only World Wide Field Day Contest will be on the air - the contest start saturday the 4.september 12:00 UTC and will stop Sunday the 5.september 12:00 UTC

This is the 3. edition of the WWFD and YOU can still register a team of minimum 2 persons just visit www.wwfd.dk it is important that your is out in the fiel, and use your own electrical power (generator or battery)

The probagations is not the best - but to be out in the field with a radio is always fun - and maybe some of the teams will be lucky and get 275DX/0 in the log - I know for shure that Christian will listen for the FD-teams.

Remember that this contest is for all operators and clubs,groups.

Hello Tom (WT155) The group owner here

Just thought I'd send a note asken if you know anyone interested in CB radio and DXing on the 11 meter band the bring them over our way

scanner listeners welcome to

Plus if you think of ways to better our group let Whiskeytango155 , Kj7GS or swler007 know and we will take it into account

Thank You for being a member and happy DXing ;-)

Tom(wt155) Group owner

P.S This note will be sent out once a month just as a group reminder and if you got other things you like to chat about other then radios then check out this group

Hi Ya'll,

I have a "bad" habit of buying and selling a variety of radio gear...shortwave, amateur and even a cb rig or two. Sometimes I get too many radios in one place and need to sell a few of them (running out of room in my shack.)
I recently aquired a brand new in the box Ranger RCI 2970DX150. This is a 150 W out, 10 and 12 meter rig. This is not the low power unit (2950 @ 25W out). AES sells this rig for $400.00 plus the shipping. I am offering this rig for $375.00 including the shipping...I will also consider select trades.

questions, contact me off line: em15hf@...

TOOOOO much money, I can buy them new for less than what you want for yours, WAY to much money, your radio is worth more inline with a $250.00 price range

-Please tell me where you can buy the 2970 for $275.00...the reason I set my price at 375.00 was because AES gets $400.00 for their "new" 2970DX150's. If what you contend is accurate I will definately reconsider my price and take my lumps to sell it...perhaps my intial is too high after all.

Do let me know...I have only seen it advertised in AES's catalog.

I agree that could be the case...but, not this time...it was and is so new that I was the first to open...it is "new" as you can get unless you buy it from AES.

Are you a player on this rig at the $275.00 figure? I just need to move it so I can conclude another deal I am working on.

Let me know.

Hello all,

Have you worked some of the following activations or operators that I was QSLmanager for?

47DX/SJ028 Eno Isl.
47DX/EU030 Bornhom Isl.
51DX401
75TSW/AZ001
96DX/1
151QT108
188DX/1
188DX/AF090/NB
188DX/AF090/NN
188DX/AF090/MI
309/47DX101

Have you send your QSL?

If you have NOT send your QSL I reccomend that you send it NOW - after the 31.12.2004 I can not quranty that I have more of the QSL-cards left because I will start to send out the rest of the cards as collection-cards.

If you have send your card and not received the card from me - please write me via email.

Best Regards

860. QSL-Status 275DX/0

From: Tom
Topic: 860 Message: 860

Hi all,

The 275DX/0 was absolutely one of the hotest DXCC´s on the air in 2004 and I would like to inform you that we will print a nice double-QSL for this activation, I also ask you to accept that it will take a few month before I can send out the cards.

There are a very important reason for this, for the moment Tokelau do not have their own flag, BUT they will in the next month or so, there has been a competion in Tokelau and they will soon decide who will be the winner of this "Flag-competion" by the way....Chris 30DX401 did also participate and have made 4 designs for the goverment:-)
I really hope that Chris will be the winner, and get his "own" flag on the QSL.

Finally I would like to gongratitulate the operators that have worked the 275DX/0 activation.

Best Regards
47DX052 Tom

Hi FMs,

I was trying to prepare an expedition with a couple of friends (30AT397 and 30AT239) somewhere but due to lack of propagation we finally decided to change our plans. Now we have decided to make a trip into USA and Canada.
We will be flying to New York in October, the 14th and then we will go to Rochester (NY), Toronto and Montreal up in Canada. Hope to spend 3 days in NY visiting the Big Apple before taking another plane to Rochester and then by car to Canada. It would be good if we can meet some radio friends over there. Would reach JFK at 19:15 East US time. For more information drop me an e-mail to my adress below. Regards from the team. 73!

I built it for the 2m world, but I wonder if it has applications for the CB band... Picked up a direction finding kit a few weeks ago and I think you can use it for any frequency -- the only exception is that I have to be receiving it in FM mode.

It's built from two vertical "dipoles" each a little over a yard long. The theory behind it is that it switches the receiving between each antenna about 100 times per second, enabling it to "hear" the direction of the signal much like human ears. Nulls are usually sharper than trying to use a beam, so it's a matter of looking at the left and right indicators, placing the direction finder at the null, and the direction of the transmitter will be straight in front of you. Pretty cool!

Took me about an hour to find the "Fox" last week when I tried it out -- looking forward to the next T-hunt whenever they have one, but I'm also interested in trying it on the CB band if I can find someone around here to experiment with me on it.

Remembering the Edmund Fitzgerald Special Event
N8F Whitefish Point 2004, 8th year

On the weekend of Nov. 4th thru Nov. 7th, 2004 the Stu Rockafellow Amateur Radio Society of Plymouth, Michigan will conduct a special event, "Remembering the Edmund Fitzgerald". The "Fitz" went down with her crew on November 10th, 1975 in a fierce storm in Lake Superior a few miles off Whitefish Point. This is the 29th anniversary of that terrible loss.

We expect to start operations shortly after 1700 UTC Thursday Nov. 4 and continue until 1700 UTC Sunday Nov. 7. We plan on 2 stations at the Point and 2 stations at Paradise, Mi., 11 miles South of the Point. Primary target frequencies are 3860, 7260, 14260 and 21360 kHz. Secondary frequencies are 18160 and 28360 kHz. Most operating will be on SSB, Check the special event sections of the Nov. issues of QST, CQ and World Radio magazines.

Hi all

Hi gents !

Just spoke to a nice man here in EU this morning but lost him in the qsb any one know this station and fellow gentleman called 1KW001 Luciano ?

He had a Ic 751A with a boster sound the one i serch for as I also have the 751..

I just got a new station to day the Kenwood TS 570D with a MC85 mic and try it out on 11 meter with the fist qso to mr lociano, I seems to like this radio more and more, any one else here have a TS 570D or tryed it ?

My radios to day are IC 751 / FT 847 / FT 817 / FT 100D / TS 570D / VX 5 and i like them all :-)

Twin cyclones menace S. Pacific
Wednesday, February 16, 2005 Posted: 0729 GMT (1529 HKT)

Weather experts warn a direct hit by Olaf would inflict massive

SYDNEY, Australia (CNN) -- A state of emergency has been declared in the Pacific island nations of Samoa and American Samoa as super-cyclone Olaf makes landfall, bringing sustained winds of 250 km/h (155 mph) and 15 meter (50 foot) waves.

The Australian-Pacific Center for Emergency and Disaster Information (APCEDI) reports Olaf is already affecting Savai'i, the western-most main island of Samoa.

"Olaf has slowed considerably in the last 12 hours, but it appears to be maintaining its overall southeastward movement," the center says on its Web site.

The cyclone would track north of Savai'i and Upolu -- Samoa's two main islands -- in the direction of Tutuila, the main islands of American Samoa, the center says.

"Olaf has been showing some weird movement patterns and may stall. If it stalls this could cause major flash flooding," APCEDI spokesman Kevin Vang told CNN.

He said it was uncertain when, or if, Olaf would hit populated areas but warned that a direct hit would cause massive destruction.

Schools, businesses and airports in Samoa and American Samoa have been closed and boarded up while low-lying areas have been evacuated.

A second cyclone, Nancy, is also affecting the region to the southeast of Olaf.

Nancy is already wreaking damage in the nearby Cook Islands -- uprooting trees, damaging roofs and flooding coastal areas -- and the center warns that the two cyclones present a "critically dangerous situation" for the three nations.

A further five Pacific countries have also been placed on cyclone watch.

The Cook Islands, which is yet to recover fully from the category 4 Cyclone Meena which struck on February 7, now faces the possibility of being hit by two cyclones over the next 48 hours.

The Cook Islands Meteorological Office said it hoped Nancy, now about 330 km (200 miles) north of the main southern atoll of Rarotonga, would weaken over the next 24 hours.

"At this stage Rarotonga and Aitutaki are in its way," the centre's Tekii Lazaro told Reuters.

The two Samoas have a combined population of around 230,000 people while the Cook Islands' 21,000 people live on 15 islands spread over 2.2 million square kilometers (850 square miles) of ocean.

Best way to find out will have to be getting on the air and listening around. Locals will sometimes get on in the evenings for chit-chat. I've only rarely seen radio clubs for the CB band, and those are very informal at best.

will be putting my first base DX station on the air 4-8-5. thats the day i get my mast up in the air. i will be running a sparkomatic cb 5100 base, (dont laugh, its a kick butt radio) a pyramid 22amp power supply, texas star dx250 amp, d104 astatic amplified mic, and an antenna specialist pb-350 base antenna. i have run many many mobil setups driving over the road, but now that i work local i am looking to make a few contacts in my area. if anyone is in this area or know what frequency the chatter is on in this area, i would like to hear from you. thanks to everyone in advance.

that dx 99v should easily swing 40watts. CW at exit 30 on hwy 81 in TN can do a good job on the dual final radios.
if your ever coming through johnson city the locals hand out on channel 13.

after installing my base antenna and setting my swr i was able to get a 1.15-1 ratio that i was happy with. then i added my amp. a texas star dx250 with 25amp power supply. tuned my base down to a 2.5 watt dead key, 10 watt swing. on low my swr jumps to 1.5-1 and on high it jumps to 3-1. but when i turn my amp off, my swr goes back down to 1.15-1 having said all that, i was wondering if anyone has any tips or ideas that would help bring my swr down when transmitting on high. thanks in advance.

Sounds like the box may need tuning. The silver dips on the output transformers may be weak. Also...look for smoked resistors.
This is assuming you have checked for bad coax or a bad ground.
Best of luck....

i know nothing about this inside of the amp. i bought this from a close friend who i have heard talk with it many times and all he said was that it needed was a 2.5 watt key.
also, i am running new coax. and as far as a bad ground, i am unsure what you mean. i was told tonight by another friend that i need to ground my mast and all my equipment.
this may be what you are reffering to. which i have not done yet.
i live in a trailer and am wondering how i might do this. anyway, i think the amp is doing ok as far as output, i have been getting out 100-150 miles on low. i live on a big hill. i just went and opened up the amp, and no burnt smells, no black marks, and everything looks to be in order. i guess they are 2 2290 transistors. well anyways thanks to all of you who take the time to answer this newbies questions.

This might sound stupid BUT when you dead key swr meter is gauged for the 2.5 watts it throws it out of whack with all the swing maybe a tone generator that brings your amp up to it's hight side then calibrate your swr meter and then check you forward power again then again were is your swr meter connected to in-between the CB and amp or after the amp???

another thing I just thought of isn't your patch cable have to be so long within certain freq's as far as the swr meter. the main one i use is in the radio.

but i also have 2 other meters that i use.
as far as the patch coax. i was told when running an amp, that i should run a 6 foot jumper

I have to tell you, after getting burned on used equipment a couple of times on ebay, I have found this shop to be a G-d-send to this hobby enthusiast. I highly reccomend his shop. He knows his stuff. He has been in the business since the 1960's. Yeah, it is hard to believe but I ran across an actual shop that specializes in CBs. The gentleman who owns it, Dave Wood, has repair services, New Gear (the latest), absolutely great used equipment, scanners, ham stuff, antennas, shortwave recievers, and all the accessories one would need to have a nice shack. I bought a used mint GE SUPERBASE from him and it is a great radio. The customer service he offers is always above and beyond. His shop is a haven for Cb'ers to chat. This testimonial is unsolicited. I just wanted to give folks a heads up. His shop is called CASCADE CB. It is located in Lynnwood Washington. (17602 HWY 99 LYNNWOOD, WA 98037.) (425-742-9891) (M-S 9-5) He also does alot of mail order. Check him out!!! He is awesome as his the shop!! Heck he even has free coffee and a wonderful store dog! (On weekends I've seen free doughnuts!!)

Welcome, Bo. If you're interested in properly protecting your station from lightning strikes, head over to the arrl.org web site and do a search on lightning protection. There is a series of 3 articles published a few years back that covers pretty much everything you need to know about it.

Hi everyone, I'm new to the DX 11m group. Looking forward to meeting others and having some fun. I uploaded some photos of my setup in the folder "joegnsv".

I started in CB in the 70's when I was a teenager, yea I'm an oldie now.

Thanks to the wonderful invention, Ebay, I have re-collected many of the amps and radios I had as a kid, and am now back online.

Using an Antron A99 with the ground plane kit, on a 50' tower. I am in Gainesville, Florida.

I go by GATOR1. If anyone wants to try to hook up on DX let me know where to find you and what you go by !

Thanks!

Joe

I am new to the group also, have been playing around with radios for a little more than 10 yrs. I don't have nearly as much gear as most of the folks here, but have about 6 moblie units, 3 unidens, 1 cobra, 1 galaxy, and my pride and joy a LafietTelsat ssb unit from 1977 with the factory mike. My base is a Galaxy 22b that dead keys .75 watt and swings a little over 45 watts. Atron 99 on a pole at the first wave. I go by Blue Top or 717. i live in GA and usualy am on 27.225 when i am around. Hope to hear from some of ya.

We should pick a time then and try to dx together. You being in Georga we might have a Chance !!

I have a cobra 2000, a Washington, Madison, Dwight, a little trc 30a, the first cb I ever

Owned, a trc 457, and a 2nd cobra 2000 as a spare. Several walkie talkies, but no

Mobiles yet. I haven't set one up in the car so far. I'm hoping to find a realistic Trc 449 or something with the 858 chip or a president Jackson dx radio perhaps.

I bet your telstat is great, I have been eyeballing those on ebay as they come across.

I really think I want to get a tram d201a and maybe a dak mark x :-) Oh well, I also

Have to deflect everything I get thrown at me by the wife for doing this so right now

I'm sort of busy dodging things , lol.

I'm actually on a couple of your items !!

Your 300a's starting bid is so high I doubt anyone is going to bite on that though, they're Selling after a bid war for less than you have your starting bid set.

Nice items though ~!

Joe

964. wire antenna for the aprtment dweller

I'm new to this group, but not to the art of CB radio. And thanks for accepting me. Anyhow, I've got 25' of 50 ohm coax with a connector on one end. I know its a little more than enough for an 11 meter wire job, I just need to see some pics on how to set it up- and how to properly strip off the outer insulation, pull back (how much of) the braided looking stuff. I've got a pretty good advantage as I am located on the next to last floor of my 15 story building and I have an aluminum railing, bolted to the concrete of the building at which I already have a 102" steel whip mounted on the flat side. i want to try the wire job to see how it will perform as my goal is to run something that the property management will see even less of. Hope to hear from someone well gifted in the art ASAP, thanks and 73's.

Hmmmm, there are coax stripping tools available if you want to chop up what you have, or are you wanting to use that coax to hook to a wire antenna?

Since you have a balcony, here's an idea: Get an alligator clip, find the right size and one will fit quite snugly over a PL-259 center conductor. Get two 9' lengths of wire and one 18' length of wire. Twist one end of a 9' length to one end of the 18' length and solder. Now clip one 9' length to the alligator clip on the center conductor, and you've got a top-fed antenna. Attach the other end of the 18' length of wire to one of the holes in the PL-259 and solder. Now you have two 9' antennas w' 18' phasing line for a poor-man's beam. You can use fishing poles to hang the configuration off the balcony. It's called a half-square antenna, I think you'll like it.

If you're interested I'll give you some more info about it.

Sorry, I guess I should have been more specific. I have length of coax of about 25' at the most- no less than 22' though that already has a factory connector on it (not the greatest in my opinion), its 50 Ohms. I was planning on stripping off whatever length of insulation was necessary off of that. I just didn't know how much I needed to strip off as well how much of the braided stuff to pull back. A good freind that I know locally told me that I needed to stip off a whole 9' worth of both, but I'm having trouble pulling back the braided stuff without tearing it apart- that's why I quit with only hacking off a few inches before I ended up wasting the whole length of coax that, well if I were lucky I could only have ended up using as a short jumper for something else.
Oh- and I am truly a "poor man" ha! So I also a appreciate the "poor mans' beam" sugesstion and will later get into that when the money allows. One of my goals is to show this one CB shop that the linear amplifier isn't really a necessity, especially when it comes to transmitting on sideband- because they like to take perfectly good sideband radios, hack the crap out of them by ripping out the audio limitting resistor, re-running a ground somewhere else to make radios dead key around 1 watt and swing about thirty watts (on AM!), thus making it sound like crap and/or absolutley horrible on side band and then laugh at those of that prefer sideband over AM- probably because sideband takes a little more brains than AM, and these people (the AM'ers) are usually intimidated by those with a slightly greater than average intellect!
Anyhow, if it is not too much trouble, if you could tell me what to do with this 20-some foot length of coax with one connector on it I would greatly appreciate it. Also I'm saving whatever (knowledge) you provide in a file along with my email, printing it and passing it to other radio freinds of mine that are financially in the same boat as myself, i.e., receiving SSD/SSI. Those i know from the radio that are "poor" simply because they don't want to work- they just sit around the house and practice their idiocy trying to be agitators on the radio- well, I'm sure you can guess that they're not getting any help from me. That might sound sort of mean, but hey, they're lazy and want everything handed to them.
Again, thank you very much for passing that nickle. And, if the atmosphere is doing its thing- or you have whatever "capability" I hope to hear you at 26.665 USB, or (sometimes I hate to admit it) I can be found at 27.165 Mhz AM, a.k.a. channel 17 in the regular 40 CB. They call me "Hell On Wheels- 343 around the Rubber City Buckey State." And of course, 'station 343' on that lower one USB. Hope to hear from you. 73's to you and yours.

Hey Charles,

Well, I poked around a little bit on the Internet and RG-8 coax strippers cost at least $40. Antenna wire from RadioShack costs about a third of that if I recall correctly, so I'd consider keeping the coax you have as a spare transmission line if you already have one, or experimenting with wire antennas since you now have "leads" that can be readily attached to a dipole configuration and then connected to your radio. It's probably not worth it to try stripping off 18 feet of that stuff -- I know I would just get frustrated with it.

And you're absolutely right about working with your antennas first before amplifying a signal. If the CB shop is trying to tell you that linears are the answer, that's only one side of the equation. Since antennas have reciprocity, unequal power on one end means someone isn't heard -- and that means no contact. Work the antennas and you get gain on receive as well as transmit. Know the science behind propagation in addition to that and you get to use "leverage" to do the exact same thing done by the use of brute force. Check out what the QRPer's do, it's pretty interesting. a mate contacting to Japan from Alabama a couple years ago -- on 5 watts mobile. Got the QSL card to prove it!

Thanks again for the advice, as well as the QRPer that made the hop from Alabama to Japan! However, unfortunately, the dedicated AMers around here are pretty bull headed- which I believe goes along with a narrowmindedness and lack of intellect. So the 'select few' of us sidebanders have colloquially (off the air) referred to AM as *sshole mode! That and they'll never have a QSL card or much less ever make a contact outside of the connected 48. Thanks again, I will probably get lengths of wire from my local Radio Shack or there is another wonderfull local electronics store that sadly is going out of business which I'm sure they'll be having a sale on such things.
And, again- right now there are only a couple of us using the lower channels and sideband around the Akron, Ohio area. We can be found at 26.6650 USB. It'd be great to hear you.

970. [DXers 11 meter CB radio group] Re: wire antenna for the aprtment dweller

Just bought a house and with it comes a ROOF and I'm in the process now of installing a Hustler 4BTV and if I can figure out a way to do a quick swap, in will go the Army Big Stick, hoo hoo! I think I'm looking at about 75 feet of coax from antenna to radio, so I'm thinking about ladder line & tuner to cut down on losses. I'll figure all that out later, I want to get on the air first!

However, unfortunately, the dedicated AMers around here are pretty bull headed- which I believe goes along with a narrowmindedness and lack of intellect. So the 'select few' of us sidebanders have colloquially (off the air) referred to AM as *sshole mode! That and they'll never have a QSL card or much less ever make a contact outside of the connected 48.

971. Emergency Antenna Made from 300-Ohm Twin Lead

Don't know if I ever mentioned it before, but I read an article a long time ago about making your own emergency antenna from 300-ohm twin lead and I thought I'd adapt it for CB use and post it here for those people that hit this site:

Take 31' 3" of twin lead (Beldon stuff), and split it lengthwise for 8.7 feet on each side to give you the 2 "legs" of a dipole and the remaining amount will be your transmission line. Tie the legs into one granny knot at the junction of the legs and transmission line -- this will be your "feed point". You may want to use a wire tie to make sure it doesn't pull apart any further than the 8.5 feet you've got. And that's pretty much it.

You should have 13' 9" of twin lead as your transmission line which will give you the 50-ohm impedance that you need to connect to an SO-239 connector to plug into some more 50-ohm coax going to your radio. You may want a length of fishing line to hoist the antenna in the air to the half-wave point, and perhaps some more fishing line to make the antenna into an "inverted vee" which will give you vertical polarization for channel 19. I'm not sure how broadbanded this antenna would be, but you can roll up the entire thing and fasten it with a few bread ties for each piece. Might come in handy some day.

From: bulldogdrummond2002

I need some help here. I ordered a new radio from 1 Stop Radios in Quentin Il. I have been trying for 2 days now to change something on my order. No luck. no one answers their phone either their regular number of 847 550 1500 or their 800 number of 888 588 1505.

The reason I am a little worried is I have lost some orders (money) using the internet.

Does anyone live close to their store?

I know sometimes stores have to close with no notice, death in family or sickness. Please if you can help, Thank you.

Hello Patrick, I did a quick Google on that antenna and it looks to be very broadbanded -- so if you have a use for that aspect of antenna design, i.e. operations far beyond channels 1-40, then it would probably be something you'd be interested in. However, a $10 hunk of RadioShack wire as a dipole would also fit the bill very well.

You have any means whatsoever of mounting an antenna outside of your apartment?

You mite missed it like I did that they have a 11 meters only antenna. Took some looking to find it. lol Oh, I have a apartment, porch ground plane antenna, but always looking for something better. The no ground antenna is about 6 foot tall. I should have my new radio by the end of this week or first part of next week. Then I can try several antennas.

Yes, I noticed that they had an antenna exclusively for 11 m, but my guess is that this is still a very broadbanded antenna which would cover far more than the 40 channels in the CB band. Last time I used just an 18' dipole it also easily covered the 40 channels that I used, so paying extra for a bazooka wasn't really worth it for me.

I take it you're interested in building some of your own antennas? There are several wire designs available, you may want to look in the "photos" area to see some of my own configurations.

PLEASE FORWARD THIS WARNING AMONG FRIENDS, FAMILY AND CONTACTS:
You should be alert during the next days:
Do not open any message with an attached filed called "Invitation"
regardless of who sent it
It is a virus that opens an Olympic Torch which "burns" the whole hard disc C of your computer. This virus will be received from someone who has your e-mail address in his/her contact list, that is why you should send this e-mail to all your contacts. It is better to receive this message 25 times than to receive the virus and open it.
If you receive a mail called "invitation", though sent by a friend,do not open it and shut down your computer immediately.
This is the worst virus announced by CNN, it has been classified by Microsoft as the most destructive virus ever.
This virus was discovered by McAfee yesterday, and there is no repair yet for this kind of virus.
This virus simply destroys the Zero Sector of the Hard

I have just purchased a Northstar 4000 radio on ebay.

Has anyone had any experience with this radio and if so can you give me any tips on it.

Does anyone have the instruction manual on this unit.

The Northstar is suppose to be a Galaxy DX44 clone.

They were a product of Wireless Marketing Corporation, who also sold the Cherokee Radio line.

It is my understanding that before they went out of business they sold the Northstar Models NS3000, NS4000,NS6000,NS9000 and NS9500.

I have purchased a Northstar NS4000 on E-Bay and should receive it this week to play with.
I now have the following units:
Uniden PC78LTW, Cobra 23 Plus, Robyn T123B, Gemtronics GTX2300, Sonar FS-23 with Siltronix 90-3 Extender, Sonar Model E, Sonar BR21, Skyfon OM-423, Midland 77-909, Courier ML-100, Midland 13-882B, Yaesu FT-1001EE, and Uniden PRO-520XL which I have collected over the years and all are functional.

This is the first of this type radio I will have tried.
I just like to tinker with them.

David.

With this (what I believe to be) a governemnt orchestrated low pressure sell over the Great Lakes, skip has been rolling hard around here, and although I'm bumpin' down 45w- swinging 2-250w, I've bustin through all over the country. And, yes, the government conpiracy theory as in all the years I have been a weather watcher- because as they say in Northeast Ohio, "You don't like the weather? Well wait five minutes, it'll change!" Well I'm sorry. I have never seen a high or low pressure cell hang around this long. And although its not raining hard, it's raining steady. Damage will ensue. Not as though I'm terribly concerned as I live in a 15 story building on the next to last floor near the top and using a 102" whip for a base station antenna. The SWR is flat everywhere.

Yes, but, here in the U.S. I've never seen a a Low Pressure system hang around and rain almost steadily for about two weeks, in the thirty years of watching the news and what I know for myself of meteorology.

Not sure what new one you're referring to, but MFJ makes a good batch of tuners. Just don't crank power through if you know it's going to be a ridiculously high SWR. It's gonna arc, and that's not good...

As off this weekend, I had to disconnect all of my equipment, take down the 102" mobile antenna I was using- and told that I cannot have neither CB or Amateur Radio in my one bedroom apartment in the 15 story building that I live in, in Akron, Ohio.
Not a sob story, but I am currently disabled, living on a fixed income and radio was my primary enjoyment. It was very unfortunate that a neighbor a half a mile away was transmitting an ungodly amount of power on a set of beams pointed directly at my building thus interferring with telephones, and televisions in my building still using rabbit ear as well as the TV antenna on top of my building.
I would hope that someone, anyone can tell me where I stand legally with all of this.
I have tried to explain to the management that it wasn't my radio, as well educate them about how modified radios and amplifiers can interfere with phones and TV. They didn't want to hear a word I had to say. Just simply exercised absololution.
And, can't help to smell the political aroma circulating through the atmmosphere but, welcome to the new AMERIKA. Aside from currupt politicians and government but, it is also the private citizen- your neighbors and coworkers that are out to step on one anothers' throats and stifle each others' freedom.

Is there anyway you can prove to these ungodly people that your radio won't interfere with other peoples stuff and/or maybe you could call the FCC and let them in on this over powered CB radio well theres really nothing you can do about your landlord unless you somhow change his mind, if he say that you cant have a radio then sorry you cant have a radio how ever if you can somhow get your landlord to let you prove its not you then you just might be in luck, i would take him the house with the beams and show him his antenna, and try to expain how much a set of beams amplifies the signle, if hes still listening then let him be in somone else house when you transmit to show him that its not you as far as the guy down the road there really not too much that you can do as the FCC dont butt in to 11 meter any more, about the most you can do is call the police on him as the police are the ones that took over the laws on 11meter well best of luck to you on this if you really want to stay in radio and your landlord still wont let you have a radio then your ownly option is to move

you said your disabled, how ever i dont know how much your disabled and dont know if you have a car or not but you are aloud to have a radio in your car as long as you dont use it on the property, i dont think he can make you not have a radio in your car as long as you dont transmit on his property

Some possible solutions for you:

- Go mobile. Nothing preventing you from loading all of that equipment to your car, and even though it may not have all the amenities of a base station, you'll at least be on the air.

- Go stealth. Very thin wires for an antenna, and you may have to spend an additional bit of money for an artificial ground and/or a tuner, but if you can "think invisible" and use a little ingenuity, you should be able to come up with some kind of a system that is out of sight, out of mind, yet still gets you contacts.

- You may want to consider getting an amateur radio license if you don't have one already. The higher classes will allow you to talk on the bands that don't shut down at night, or provide the opportunity for DX when it's not available on the 11m band. A hint though: keep your power levels low enough to not cause TVI or raise any suspicion as to your communications activities. It can be done, you just have to think out-of-the-box.

Good luck and 73, -- Don

Did I not say that my landlord/management said, "aboslutely no radio- that meant CB, HAM both.(?) Yes, I did neglect to mention that due to my medical condition that going mobile is not an option. The point of my message was to find out of it was legal for a landlord or propetry management to completely forbid me from my lifelong hobby because some other CBer a few blocks away pointed his beams right at my building and bumped down several thousand watts- thus skip was rolling good, but damn. Thanks to that clown whom didn't even make it through junior highschool and barely knows shit about radio, electronics or barely understands how the damn lights work in his welfare financed house works, his thousands of watts went through the phone lines in my building and I got blamed for it, AND I WASN'T EVEN FRIKKIN' HOME THAT NIGHT!
Now, again; can a landlord or rental property management forbid me to have any sort of radio whether its CB or Ham? Because that's what they have done. And, I'm not above getting a hold of the FCC and let them investigate this town (Akron, Ohio), bust everybody and nobody will talk!

The police in my town don't even know they have that authority. I've been living in the building and talking on a CB for over two years and now and only recently with 'numbnutts' down the street have there been any complaints about my radio. Sure, my radio- Cobra 29 LTD classic- dead keys half a watt and swings about 25, but I use a stock mic and never run any power- don't need to- my 102" steel whip is (was) clamped to balcony railing at which I had a flat SWR everywhere as well as upper and lower channels- 15 floors up, about 140'! I've never needed any sort of amplifier to hit skip- and the locals hate my damn guts because of that :) ! But if a landlord or private property management can can restrict me like that, then what kind of country do we live in? And, if I have to move- from my home- then that says that radio is a privilege- and if radio is a privilige- that goes along with greed, corruption, material wealth- crap- that I am totally against. And will die protesting. As far as 'numbnuts' down the street is concerned- he's done! i know he got whatever amplifier with his welfare check money and I know that his kids probably went hungry as a result. And the police have been notified. Hopefully they'll confiscate his radio, amp, everything, and he can sit in the county jail and bragg about his 'big ole radio' while Big Bubba is busting out is backdoor cherry. Ain't I nice! And I will testify against him.

Worm Attacks Yahoo E-Mail

Mass-mailing worm exploits a vulnerability in the Web-based e-mail, but its impact is low.

Jeremy Kirk, IDG News Service
Monday, June 12, 2006
A mass-mail worm that exploits a vulnerability in Yahoo's Web-based e-mail is making the rounds but the impact appears to be low, security vendor Symantec said today.

Advertisement

The worm, which Symantec calls JS.Yamanner@m, is different from others in that a user merely has to open the e-mail to cause it to run, said Kevin Hogan, senior manager for Symantec Security Response. Mass-mail worms have usually been contained in an attachment with an e-mail note encouraging a user to open it.

The worm, written in JavaScript, takes advantage of a vulnerability that allows scripts embedded in HTML e-mail to run in the users' browsers. Yahoo users should be able to modify their settings to block the zero-day exploit, Hogan said.

Symantec rated the worm a Level 2 threat, one notch above its least harmful ranking. Hogan said the worm did not appear to be spreading widely, and he did not anticipate the threat level rising.

How It Spreads
When activated, the worms then sends itself to other users in the victim's address book who also use Yahoo e-mail with the suffixes of @... or @yahoogroups.com. The worm mimics a function within Yahoo's Web mail called "Quickbuilder," which allows a user to add contacts in an address book from received e-mail, Hogan said. The process, however, is transparent to the victim, he said.

The harvested e-mail addresses are sent to a remote server. Users of Yahoo Mail Beta do not appear to be affected, Symantec said.

The worm also opens a browser that displays a Web page that does not appear to contain malicious content.

Although Yahoo's Web e-mail has not been fixed, users are advised to update virus and firewall definitions and block any e-mail sent from av3@.... The subject line of the e-mail with the worm says "New Graphic Site," and the body says "this is test."

Well, I have to say that I appreciate any attempts to answer my questions about what to do about having a radio where I live. However, I couldn't help to come to the conclusion given your answers that we live in a captilist society that is for the priveleged rather than a free Democracy for all.
When I am told that I have to move; "buy" a home to escape my landlords' rule, or get my Amateur Radio license- just to have a card that says the FCC granted me the "right" to- whatever, when I have no plans to purchase any equipment that is outside of CB yet with USB or LSB then again, it has become a privilege, not a right. Capitalism is not freedom. Capitalism breeds greed and makes criminals of the lower classes. Takes Justice to Just Us; (the rich, the few and the so called power brokers).
Watch the news once or twice a week people. Our days of liesure in a backyard, the grill going, and all of our othe little household projects- are dissolving- slowly but surely. And "WE" let it happen!
And soon, the simple pleasure of a hobby- like radio- ha- forget about it. Just as coomunist legislation is working diligently to take away our Right To Keep and Bear Arms, they are working just as diligently to make slaves for their Capitalist machine. And your children, and your childrens' children will be yoked for a piece of cloth- or better yet, the microchip that no buying and selling will be done without, but every move and activity tracked and any thoughts of rebellion zapped out through the magic of electronics. The sun is setting on Freedom and Democracy. In the immortal words of Benjamin Franklin: "Those who are willing to trade freedom in exchange for safety, deserve niether freedom nor safety." Yes, we do live in a capitalist society (I'm all for it by the way, but that's another forum), but your dissatisfaction with it won't change the laws about CB or the free use of ham radio equipment for that matter. My brother lives in one of those environments, and he hates the fact that he can't put up an antenna, but we have discussed stealth, and with a little bit of finesse in the install, no one would be the wiser. He opted for Echolink instead, but where there's a will there's a way...

Good luck with your political pursuits, I assume you're active in your local organization(s).

It is with great pleasure that I announce the rebirth of the American Eagle SSB CB'ers Club.

The club was originally started in 1982 by Dave (AE001) and his father Mickey (AE002), both who now reside in Wellington, Maine. The club has accumulated just about 930 members over the years.

In 2003 the club ceased daily operations until new management could be established, as the management in place at the time no longer desired to manage the club due to changing interests, and abandoned the club without finding new leadership to succeed them.

I am announcing that after 3 years of inactivity the club has new leadership and will resume operations.

After a freak happenstance meeting and resulting discussion, Dave (AE001) the founder of the club and I will be reopening the club and I will be assuming the day to day operations of the club. Dave has assigned me the call sign (AE003.)

American Eagle SSB CB'ers Club, founded by Dave (AE001) and Planetary SKIPshooters (http://www.SKIPshooters.com), founded by Eric (AE003 & Planetary SKIPshooter 717) will be run as sister clubs. That means if you join either of them you will be joining both of them (refers to new membership applicants).

I have designed a new website for the club which includes a message board for the members to communicate with each other. The new website may be found at http://www.AmericanEagleCB.com .

I invite all current members and prospective new members to visit the website.

73, and I hope to catch you all on the airwaves.

Getting out of CB here. Getting my Ham license soon. CBer's aroudn the Akron, Ohio area are generally white trash pieces of crap. If there isn't any DX to work they have to stir up the rumor mill, get crap started and everyone argueing and threatening to kill each other. It's stupid, and childish. Aside from ripping off innocent people on radio equipment that is purely junk and doesn't work. I bought a RCI2950DX off of a guy locally, and when I got it home and hooked it up. When i discovered it didn't work, I opned the case and discovered that all the circuitry had been replaced with rocks and dirt! That might sound funny here, but none of you could have any idea of the level of anger that I had reached. There are too many other examples too mention here of the BS! But I'm not the slightest bit to admit that after everything, I have to decided to evolve in Amateur Radio.

Yes, CB is the public, disease ridden toilet of Amateur Radio. the only good thing I can say- maybe not even now- is that I did acquire a good deal of knowledge goofing around with CB, building mine own antennas for the apartment dweller with a Fascist for a landlord and comabatting front end overload upon blasting through the TV's of my neighbors; however now, even in the Technician Exam it's clearly stated "officially" that all of that interferrence is up to the owner of the device that is being interferred with. So, with a Ham license at any level, i will legally be able to tell my fine ghetto neighbors to shove their interferrence complaints where the sun don't shine, my landlord to learn to love the art of copulation and, should one of the local CBer's in my town interfere with my radio on a neighboring bandwith such as 10 or 12 meters and i know whom it is! I'm going straight to the FCC with as much detailed information as possible, and would hope that i could be there to watch as all of their precious radio equipment which was very likely purchased wth county welfare dollars and SSI money, get confiscated as well as being handed a summons to find out how much time they'll spend in jail and how much more they're going to pay in fines and court costs.

So,yall have a fine one, I'm back steppin' into the mix- we go!

Gator 1 from Gainesville Florida waving a hand, good luck. I'm also getting a technician license on the 2nd of September,

And have TS 940 Kenwood , and a radio shack 2 meter radio and will be enjoying another class. I'll still DX though :-)

Kept a couple of good cb radios, though I sold most of them. We can still throw down the SB220 or the Clipperton on 11 meters though :-)

Have a good one, does anyone remember when cb'ers use to send each other qsl cards? i really liked that aspect of the radio, giving and recieving cards from people you modulated with. i was just wondering if anyone besides myself would still like to do this? i know that its not really the same just to send them if you havent talked to someone, but i have a drawer full of my personal qsl's that i'd like to send out to other operators who are willing to send thier's or even a state postcard. i think they are great to hang in the radio shack or in a photo album to show the people who come to visit, or even the curious kids in the niehborhood, maybe it would peak thier interest in something besides video games, because like it or not they are the next gen. of operators. so if anyone is interested let me know by e-mail or just send one to me and rest assured i WILL send one back.....73's SNAKECHARMER_331 (Snakecharmer_331 1000 west 21st. #12, c'ville In. 47331 or snakecharmer_331@...)

Hello & Good Afternoon,
I have a Messenger 1600 w/remote for sale. I bought it in approx 1999 and used it for about 2 years. It was never over driven nor abused. I did have it checked (My current vehicle does not have the batt cap to handle it), everything is working fine. It includes the remote, to which one switch (I think it's the on/off switch)needs to be replaced. I know what I paid and it is not that easy anymore to find these, but at the same time I'm not going to think I'll get my money back. I am asking for $900.00 or best offer.
Please feel free to email this addy, but I do only check this account every couple of days.

Thanks for looking

1080. Tr : Codification et référencement des S.O.T.A. sur le 11 mètres

A : Liste de Diffusion FFCBL; Liste de Diffusion QSLMDX; Liste de Diffusion RADIO-INFO
Sujet : Mailing List "Membres Sierra Golf" Codification et référencement des S.O.T.A. sur le 11 mètres

Salut à tous,

Suite à l☐intervention de 14 FR 001 Eric et de 14 FR 003 Guillaume me demandant de modifier le référencement des SOTA que le groupe SIERRA GOLF a mis en place, par souci de clarté pour tous, après réunion du HQ SIERRA GOLF je voudrais apporter quelques précisions à ce sujet.

14 FR 001 Eric et 14 FR 003 Guillaume voudraient que la classification des SOTA sur la division 14 se fasse à l☐échelle du département alors que le groupe SIERRA GOLF l☐a faite à l☐échelle de la division 14.

Etant donné que nous avons déjà appliqué notre codification aux SOTA que nous avons programmés pour 2007, que nos activations SOTA ont déjà débuté et que les QSL de ces SOTA sont déjà imprimées, nous ne pouvons pas accepter de modifier notre référencement des SOTA comme nous le demande le groupe Fox Radio.

Je rappelle que le groupe SIERRA GOLF est le premier groupe radio à avoir mis sur le 11m des activations SOTA Nous avons donc eu la tâche délicate de nous lancer dans cette aventure et d☐en fixer les règles, au moins pour la gestion interne de ces activations dans notre groupe, au plus pour ceux des autres groupes radio qui désireraient l☐adopter. Ce qui est fait n☐est plus à faire Commençons tout d☐abord par un petit historique de l☐affaire.

Comme il n☐existait aucune liste des SOTA activés, je dis bien SOTA activés puisque c☐est nous qui étrennons ces activations sur le 11 mètres, nous avons donc décidé que les trois derniers chiffres des calls SOTA seraient le numéro d☐ordre d☐inscription des SOTA dans la base de données des SOTA activés sur le 11m, ce qui par défaut correspondrait à établir un classement chronologique des SOTA activés sur la division 14. Cette base de données a été ouverte par nous, mais elle est à la disposition de tous, tous calls confondus, à des fins d☐harmonisation des calls SOTA.
Le document que nous avons intitulé « S.O.T.A. ☐ Codification et activation des Summits On The Air » a été créé le 22 mai 2006.
Dans un premier temps nous l☐avons diffusé «confidentiellement» à quelques OMs qui étaient au courant de notre projet, et notamment à ceux qui nous avaient aidés à le mettre en route, en nous fournissant par exemple toute la documentation nécessaire à ce sujet. Cette première diffusion restreinte a était faite pour soumettre notre texte à une première critique et voir ce qu□il fallait modifier et améliorer.

Nous avons ensuite publié notre projet d□activation SOTA, sur notre site web sur les forums radio et dans la presse spécialisée à partir du mois d□août 2006. Nous avons fait parvenir à tous ceux qui nous en ont fait la demande un exemplaire du document «S.O.T.A. □ Codification et activation des Summits On The Air».
Certains membres du groupe radio FOX RADIO en ont même été personnellement destinataires et nous ont adressé leurs encouragements et félicitations pour notre projet.
Nous avons bien reçu quelques critiques de bas étage de la part d□OMs malfaisants qui n□avaient rien à proposer pour faire évoluer le projet, donc ces remarques ont été classées « sans intérêt ».
Mis à part cela, personne ne nous a demandé de revoir notre texte et notamment pour ce qui concerne le système d□attribution des indicatifs SOTA Je peux même dire que les seuls échos que nous avons eus à propos de ce document, ont été des jugements favorables.
Nous avons attendu jusqu□à la fin de l□année 2006, délai que nous nous étions fixés pour permettre à chacun de nous interpeller sur notre réglementation des SOTA. Une fois ce délai passé et sans nouvelles observations de qui que ce soit, nous avons donc entériné notre règlement SOTA, attribué les trois premiers indicatifs à nos SOTA et mis à l□impression les QSL respectives. Le 01 mai 2007, les deux premiers SOTA étaient sur l□air et les premiers progressifs ont été distribués. Le 01 juillet 2007 le troisième SOTA SIERRA GOLF sera activé.

En prenant notre codification, telle que nous le faisons, la base de données SOTA est facilement exploitable selon le critère de tri appliqué :

Classement par n° d□ordre :
14 SG/ST 62001
14 SG/ST 01002
14 SG/ST 74003
14 FR/ST 59004
14 LB/ST 83005
14 AT/ST 38006
14 SG/ST 62007
14 FR/ST 59008
14 IF/ST 01009
14 GV/ST 38010

Classement par département :

14 SG/ST 01002
14 IF/ST 01009
14 AT/ST 38006
14 GV/ST 38010
14 FR/ST 59004

14 FR/ST 59008
14 SG/ST 62001
14 SG/ST 62007
14 SG/ST 74003
14 LB/ST 83005

Un classement par groupe radio et département etc. est possible également.

Le groupe SIERRA GOLF ne voit pas le problème que le référencement des SOTA à l□échelle de la division 14, tel qu□il l□a mis en place, peut représenter. D□autre part, nous ne voyons pas quel intérêt il y a de codifier les SOTA par département plutôt qu□à l□échelon national.
Notre idée était de partir sur un référencement unique des SOTA afin d□éviter une attribution anarchique de calls aux SOTA et d□inévitables confusions dans l□identification de ces activations.
Ceci dit, à chacun sa façon de voir les choses, nous ne cherchons pas à imposer notre méthode à qui que ce soit, nous la proposons simplement à ceux qui veulent bien l□adopter. La radio est un loisir et un plaisir et doit le rester !

Pour conclure, 14 FR 001 Eric, m□a informé que le groupe FOX RADIO a retenu la codification R.A. pour les futures activités de SOTA.

Nous lui souhaitons un bon DX.

Radio South-North...Radio is Friendship and Friendship is Peace! ! !

Did you ever hear about something like this? No?

Okay, then let me have a little of your time and attention to tell you more what's it all bout.

We are a CB-Radio Group<CitizenBand11m on 26/27MhzBand> to make Contacts and Friendships across the whole entire Wolrd!!!! I know all this might sound really big to you right now...and agree with you in this point, it is indeed!

Our great DX-Group was found by 21RSN-001 Op.: Janne from Sweden back in the Year of 2003. Our Lifetime Membership is freely and voluntarily to purchase. And here comes the major fun part of it:

It's a " FREE MEMEBERSHIP-with NO COST" for everybody and as long as you will be a part of our huge and giant Radio Family ! ! !

What we really try to do in this matter is a way much more than just talking to people around the Globe and exchanging stupid QSL-Cards for any Dx-Diplomas or something like thais. It's like a fun raising being together, to share the same hobby we got<CB-Radio> and keep this Spirit alife to something we are all believe in and what makes us feel good. Like I already said, Radio is Friendship and Friendship is Peace! Feel free to join us and help our Group to grow bigger and bigger...

Thanks for taking a few moments of your precious time to learn more about RSN-Dx Group!!!

Hi all,

Finally we finished the preparations for the DXRC Meeting webpage:
http://www.delta-xray.net/redir.php?URL=worldmeeting_wittenberg2008.php

You should find all important information there. If possible, please try to confirm your arrival as soon as possible. We might help organizing an airport transfer from Berlin to the meeting place. In case of questions just contact me in direct.

Looking forward to see you all soon in Wittenberg.

1140. QSL-Status from DXRC-Bureau

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2008-08-20 15:34:53 UTC
From: Tom 47DX052
Topic: 1140 Message: 1140

Hi All

We would like to give you some general information about the QSL-Status from DXRC-Bureau.

Members from Delta-Xray Radio Club have since April 2008 made more than 65 activations; DXCC's , IOTA's and IWI's

For the moment we are designing some of the cards, we have already ordered some of the QSL at the printer.

We have received a lot of QSL in the P.O.Box, and every day I prepare the incoming cards in order to send them out as soon the cards will arrive from the printer.

We know very well that operators on 11 meter band expect to get the return-QSL very fast, BUT it is my personal hope that we can get a mutual understanding among the whole 11 meter community, that there is different between sending QSL for a personal contact and a contact to activations.

It will take around 2-3 months before we can start to send out the many QSL's and I really hope for your understanding.

Remember you can save a lot of money on postages if you include several QSL's in the same envelope.

Best Regards

I'm a member of the RSN DX Group. Every 11 meter operator can join RSN DX Group. It's free and you don't even have to have a stack of rare QSL cards to be a member.

There are six "rules" in RSN DX Group:

1. Memberships will be Free for Life.
2. You will never be asked for money at anytime.
3. You can be a DX'er or Local QSO'er to join.
4. You can be a QSL'er or non QSL'er.
5. Membership is open people in all Countries
6. As long as you operate 27 MHZ From 26.000 MHZ to 27.900 MHZ SSB,AM,FM and packet radio.

If You feel like joining RSN, please visit the World HQ website at: http://www.rsndxgroup.org/

Hi all Dxers & listeners ,

The last month I was working very hard just to make & design the new Website of the "11 Live.net" , a Website which is developed for the 11 meters band community & it's listeners. It gives you the chance to Listen Live Streaming Stations of the 11 meters band from your PC (accessed via Internet).
The usage of the 11 Live.net is FREE under registration , however financial support is welcome for instance via membership at 11 Live.net Lounge

I am inviting you now to visit my new Website: http://www.11live.net

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A Hunters ,

I am writing you this message just to announce you that today morning I published all the Proofs & Photos of the last I.O.T.A activation 18SD/EU067/KYI from KYTHNOS Island by 18SD005 Mr Theo.

Unfortunatelly during this I.O.T.A activation Mr Theo had many problems by 18AS001 Panos who was causing QRM all the day and Panos was calling that this activation was FAKE.At the same period Panos was publishing stupid videos on the "YouTube" , telling that 18SD/EU067/KYI was FAKE and many more against to us!

Anyway , here are the PROOFS & PHOTOS for those people who have confusion about this I.O.T.A activation.
Anyone must know the stupid actions of 18AS001 Panos.

We repeat once again that all the I.O.T.A activations of the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Team are genuine under PROOFS & PHOTOS.
We use to post also direct letters to 1SD001 Mr Marco (for the validation of our activations)

For watching the PHOTOS of 18SD/EU067/KYI "KYTHNOS Isl." , please click on this URL: http://www.sdgreece.gr/modules.php?name=Content&pa=showpage&pid=103

Topic: 1284 Message: 1284

Hi all,

Especially for the WWRO Island Festival, I will issue frequent propagation forecasts on the [PSC] website starting on Friday evening, with a frequent [SPECIAL PROPCAST] in our Forecast section. If the geomagnetic fields remains as quiet as past few days, I can promiss very good to excellent propagation...

Visit [PSC] at <http://psc.suijs.info/> http://psc.suijs.info.

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

I would like to remind you that today evening it's my first trip to KEA Island and I will be active on the 11mt band like 18SD/EU067/KI.
This I.O.T.A activation will be active at irregular times or weekends by 18SD001 Mr JIM or 18SD101 Mr PANOS.
If the Propagation will be good tonight I will be active on the radio , otherwise I will be active for sure this weekend and Monday.
Just for your information this weekend it's the WWRO I.O.T.A Contest and my I.O.T.A is already on the list of the Islands which will take part.

Please stay "tuned" on 27,480 USB which will be my Monitor Frequency.
I hope the Propagation to help me to work as many as possible contacts in my LOG.
All Proofs (direct postcards from KEA Isl. , Tickets & Receipts) will be published on the S.D Greek Website: www.sdgreece.gr after the end of this I.O.T.A activation.

More info & QSL Preview are available here:http://www.sdgreece.gr/modules.php?name=Content&pa=showpage&pid=101

Hi all

Today our S.E.S (Special Event Station) of the 56th RALLY ACROPOLIS , RALLY OF GREECE ended with 197 QSOs in LOG.
The QSL Preview will be available this week via the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Website:
http://www.sdgreece.gr/modules.php?name=Content&pa=showpage&pid=108

Few words about the Results of the 56th RALLY ACROPOLIS , RALLY OF GREECE:

The 56th Acropolis Rally has been a salvation for Ford, who saw its drivers finishing at the 1st and 3rd position. That was the 13th victory for the team in the Acropolis' history. This year's event has also been full of emotion for the Greek fans of rallying, as a result of Lambros Athanassoulas-Nikos Zakheos victory in the PWRC. In general, the Rally has ended as one of the most fascinating of the last few years.

The base of the Rally has moved
-once again- this year to the Loutraki area, which has proved to be a perfect match to the Acropolis' character, as it has been formed throughout its long history. The new special stages demanded speed, brains and strategy, and really left the word "prediction" out of the winning equation. The second Day of the Rally -in the area of Corinth- has been the most crucial; Citroen WRT's drivers both retired during the Day, and Mikko Hirvonen took the lead. From then on, he kept a steady pace until the end, finishing 1st in front of "Club Hotel Casino Loutraki". Ford's second driver, Jari-Matti Latvala, didn't manage to avoid making mistakes on the first Day, while he was 1st in the classification. However, he took advantage of his opponents' bad moments and managed to finish 3rd overall, scoring precious points for his team, who made a comeback at the race for the title. Sebastien Ogier may have finished 2nd, but he was not nominated to score points for the Manufacturers' Championship. This year's Acropolis proved to be just perfect for those who stayed away of trouble, like Federico Villagra and Conrad Rautenbach, who fought each other for the 4th place; with the Argentinean driver winning the fight . Khalid Al Qassimi and Mads Ostberg also made no major mistakes and finished ahead of faster, but more unlucky crews.

The heat of the battle has been much more in the PWRC. Everybody's eyes were on the Greeks Lambros Athanassoulas-Nikos Zakheos, who chased their dream driving a Skoda Fabia S2000; and made it true! They hadn't driven a racing car since 2008 Acropolis Rally and till just a few days before this year's event. Nevertheless, they stood up against their opponents, the PWRC's best crews. Scoring top times from the start, they made no mistakes driving under pressure and they made it to the top by the end of Day 1. They faced bad luck in Day 2, when a problem at the electrics of the engine cost them some time, but they attacked during Day 3 and scored a clear victory over the Championship leader, Nasser Al-Attiyah, who was in need of title points, so as to increase his lead from Armindo Araujo.

Without a doubt, it has been a great end for the new, reborn, more mature Acropolis Rally. The town of Loutraki has hosted ideally the 56th Acropolis and now returns back to its normal way of life, keeping this year’s event as valuable experience for the WRC years to come.

The next Year we will wait for your call for the 18SD/RA57 , 57th RALLY ACROPOLIS , RALLY OF GREECE.
Thanks everybody who supported and worked this S.E.S this Year.

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A Hunters ,

I am sending you this E-mail from the Internet Service Room at my Hotel "LAGADA BEACH HOTEL" in MILOS Island.
Today evening I set up succesfully my base in the Hotel and I worked my first 38 contacts in LOG.
The Propagation was not good today (1st day of my activation)Hope it will be better everyday until Friday.....
I have taken wonderful photos with my Vertical Antenna in the garden & my radio shack in the Hotel.
My Photos & Proofs will be published on the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Website: www.sdgreece.gr after the end of my I.O.T.A Activation.
My Monitor Frequency will be: 27,600 USB (It's a clear frequency in my QTH: ADAMANDA in MILOS Island)

Hi all ,

First of all , the Propagation on the 2nd Date of my I.O.T.A activation was very bad.....Only 3 contacts in my LOG at 14/7.
The only good new is that me & my girlfriend we had a nice Meeting with 1SD Mr Samir , his wife Mrs Mariarita & their daugther Sabrina.
I invited them in my Hotel and we spent a lovely time with them.We took nice pictures all together and I will publish them on the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Website: www.sdgreece.gr after the end of my I.O.T.A activation.

Let's hope for better conditions for the next days.....On Friday 17/4 will be the last day of my activation from MILOS Island.

Thanks everybody who worked my I.O.T.A activation.It had a very big success (229 QSOs in LOG) under bad propagation!
Special thanks to 1SD007 Daniele , 14AT047 Yoann & 45SD123 Nemanja for their support during this I.O.TA activation.

This Summer 2009 , I made a good job I believe: 3 new Greek Islands On The Air from me:
18SD/EU067/KI "KEA Island"
18SD/EU067/MIL "MILOS Island"
90SD/EU015 "CRETE Island"

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

The 1st day (at 16/1/2010) of our I.O.T.A activation was not so good.We worked only 10 QSOs in our LOG , only from Africa , Reunion Isl. & Greece.
Tommorow morning we will be more active on the radio from ealier in the morning because we would like to work PACIFIC & ASIA if it's possible from our QTH.
We remind you that we transmit from a high Hill in SALAMINA Island on 350 meters above the Sea level , with vertical Antenna λ/2 and YAESU FT-857D with Maximun Power: 170Watt under modification.

So tommorow 17/1/2010 we will wait you on 27,625 from UTC: 06:00.
We hope & we wish for better propagation tommorow.

Hi all ,

Unfortunatelly the Propagation was not good and I did not work many QSOs in my LOG from ANDROS Island.
Anyway , my obligation anytime is that to publish my Photos & Proofs of my radio activities.
For that reason I am inviting you to visit the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Website , just to watch my new photos & Proofs of my last I.O.T.A (18SD/EU067/AI)

For watching the QSL card & new Photos of 18SD/EU067/AI "ANDROS Isl." , please click here:

Hi all ,

I need the address of 161EX016 Mr MARIUSZ.
I had posted him a letter with the confirmation of 18SD/EU067/MIL "MILOS Island" , few weeks ago and returned back to me.

His address was the following on it:
Mr MARIUSZ BLADEK
PO BOX: 64
C.P 00-908 , WARSZAWA-49
-POLAND-

Is it correct???
Any help is welcome....

Hi dear Thomas & all ,

From today the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Network is Online again.
It was offline for 5 days due to technical reasons (we made few modifications on the audio and now working 100% clearly and loud)
We worked very hard and from this moment is available again for any operator of the 11mt band....

ATTENTION:
If someone of you is not user of this Network , you are welcome to enter it now!It's easy & fast!
More instructions about this Network are available now on the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Website: www.sdgreece.gr

I have decided to quit this mailinglist, because more than 50% of all messages is regarding new members of clubs. I am not interested in who has joined which club, but in information that concerns everyone in this mailinglist.

It is turning into a contest "who gets the most new club members". Not worth a mailingslist, sorry...

Hi all Dxers ,

After the big success of our last Special Event Stations of the last 3 years for the Rally Acropolis (18SD/RA54 , 18SD/RA55 & 18SD/RA56) , we took the decission this Year to activate also the Historic Rally Acropolis which is a different Rally Event in different Dates than the normal Rally Acropolis.
Except of that the normal Rally Acropolis will not take place in GREECE this Year.....

So , the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Team would like to announce you that this Year we will activate our new Special Event Station for the 9th Historic Rally Acropolis.

From: 18SD001 Jim
Topic: 1510 Message: 1510

Hi all ,

I am looking for 1AT376 Mr MARCO from ITALY.

I had posted him my answer for his QSO with 97SD1401 Mr ILAN but this letter is undelivered (came back to GREECE today) for uknown reason.

As it seems there is not mistake on his address because I used his S.A.E (Self Addressed Envelope) and his address is also correct in the A.T Directory 2010.
If somebody can contact him and transfering my message it will be very appreciated by me....I can not do more things from my side....
I am working very hard as a QSL Manager and I can not care more about these subjects....

Thanks in advance ,

Hi all ,

I would like to announce you that the SUGAR DELTA GREEK Network will not be available anymore because there was not big interest of the 11mt bands operators about this system....
We spent a lof of money & time for upgrades on this system & it worked for 3 weeks...
Except of that there were only 5 opeators online almost everyday on this system....
Anyway , we made a test just to watch if there will be any interst on this system....

Have a nice weekend for all ,

Hi all Dxers ,

We would like to announce you that 18SD000 , the Greek Club Station will be very active this Year due the bad Propagation of the last 2 Years.
Now the conditions of the Propagation are better and we want to give the chance to more operators to work our Greek Club Station.

If someone will work our Greek Club Station , he will obtain 2 beautiful QSL cards (1 Double colour QSL card of 18SD000 + 1 S.D Flag QSL card of the Operator who will work during this Club Station)

FR - Message en QSP de Bastien - CRX Cluster

Bonjour à tous

Cette nuit j'ai mis à jour l'ensemble du serveur au menu :

- mise à jour complète du moteur PHP et de la base de données -> sécurité des données.

- mise en place de MEMCACHED pour les sessions -> boost encore la vitesse des pages.

En espérant que ca soit encore plus rapide qu'avant !

ENG - Message in QSP from Bastien CRX Cluster

Hi to all

During last night I have updated all the server menu

- PHP engine data bank -> Data security

- MEMCACHED have been added for the sessions -> boost the download page

Hoping that it will improve the system !

We used the original power of our President Lincoln because our amplifier RM KL400 was out of order... 10 watts were enough to log 203 stations, many thanks to all for your support !

We always had to change the frequencies because of the noise made by a station from Toulouse who use 1 KW and who disturb us since a couple of months...Thanks to him: tnx 14JY Yves our official disturber !

We came back home very happy, but something is sure, I will never climb again with an electrical generator it's too hard I'm waiting my 40 Ah battery, it will be better and cooler !

---FR---

Nous avons utilisé la puissance original de notre Président Lincoln (10 W) car notre amplificateur RM KL400 était en panne (il chopait tout le QRM S5-7 du groupe electro)... Cela a été suffisant pour monter le LOG à 203, merci beaucoup à vous tous de nous avoir soutenu !

Nous avons malheureusement subit notre désormais habituelle porteuse et son Kilowatt "14JY de Toulouse" mais rien ne pouvait nous arrêter et avons activé malgré la gêne, la hauteur étant plus forte que la puissance tout le monde nous écoutait et en tournant l'antenne nous sommes parvenus à éliminer le "QRM" de cet OM très peu délicat et qui enquiquine tout le monde depuis quelque temps dans la région et on ne sait toujours pas pourquoi d'ailleurs...

Nous sommes bien rentrés à la maison mais une chose est certaine, je ne remonterai plus jamais avec un groupe électrogène mes genoux ont morflé sérieux, j'attends la livraison d'une batterie de 40 Ah légére ce sera plus cool...

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2010-06-06 14:40:12 UTC
From: John 058
Topic: 1557 Message: 1557

Nous étions 7 pour cette nouvelle montée, 7 a en avoir bavé pour arriver jusqu'au sommet du Casque du Lhéris (Dept 65).

Nous pensions qu'en utilisant un autre itinéraire réputé plus simple nous arriverions au sommet sans encombres, il n'en était rien, bien au contraire...

Ce fut difficile voir très difficile car chaleur et inclinaison étaient de la partie et le chargement que nous portions été encore une fois trop lourd. HI ! 4 heures furent nécessaire pour atteindre le sommet, 4 pénibles heures de marche presque forcée !

Bref arrivé au sommet montage de l'antenne GP 20 mètres de Vincent qui activait sur les bandes RA et de la G4ZU (11 m) et nous étions tous partis avec passion pour monter nos logs respectifs et les enflammer, ce que nous fîmes avec grand plaisir !!

Les 5 Watt du FT817 prêté par Jean 166 ont suffit à loguer 70 stations dans le carnet de trafic, nous voulions alors remettre ça au lendemain et monter encore un peu les contacts de l'activité.

Mais l'orage grondait au loin, trop loin certainement, (D64), car malgré tout nous montions les tentes au pied du sommet dans l'espoir que cette belle nuit toujours étoilée nous ferait oublier ces lueurs et grondements lointains, malheureusement vers 2h00 du matin l'orage nous avait rattrapé et nous pûmes alors comprendre que la nature si belle la veille était devenue un cauchemar, la foudre tomba plusieurs fois tout à coté et tous blottis sous nos duvets attendions le passage du déluge...

Au matin tout s'était calmé mais cette belle aventure passionnée et trépidante, nous rappellera pour longtemps qu'il ne faut pas penser lutter contre la nature car elle est finalement plus forte que tout.

La prochaine fois nous descendrons c'est certain.

J'aimerai saluer le courage de la X team 65 et 31 ainsi que l'acharnement au micro de toutes et tous, nous venons de prouver une nouvelle fois qu'activités Radioamateurs et Amateur Radio sont possible dans une ambiance d'excellente camaraderie, à la cadence de notre passion commune.

A friend of mine has had a CB shop for over 40 years. He has so much stuff that you have to ask him what you are looking for in order for him to remember what he has. His place was a furniture store at on time, and this should tell you how big of a place he has. So he has just about any kind of hard to find CB radios and parts for your radio. Here is his CB shop. And yes he is still in business. Not a lot of CB shops still around. And one more thing, He also has Ham radios.

His CB shop is McClintock's Radio Electronics's
7963 East State Road 28
Elwood, Indiana 46036
765-552-3371

So just give him a call, he may have what you are looking for.

REACT Urges Opposition to FCC NPRM 10-119
Just released FCC NPRM proposing a complete rewrite of the entire Part 95 Rules:
NPRM FCC-10-106A1 (10-119)

The FCC NPRM requests comment and discussion of their proposed changes, which, among other things, propose to end the requirement for licensing in GMRS, LOWER the power allowed (to 2 watts for portables), potentially remove repeaters, firmly prohibit scrambling of any kind, and perhaps, prohibit use of radios dual/type accepted for part 90 and 95!

At a glance, the NPRM explores these main topics for the GMRS, FRS, and CB radio services:

* Eliminate GMRS licensing (aka "license by rule"), similar to the FRS and CB spectrum, or extend licensing term from five to ten years. * Relax eligibility requirements. Under the current GMRS licensing regulations, only those aged 18 years or older are eligible to apply for a GMRS license. According to the FCC, if licensing is eliminated, it will be very similar to the FRS service, which has no such age restriction, so they don't find a reason to continue the age eligibility requirement. * Move to narrowband 12.5 kHz spacing. Currently GMRS uses 25 kHz spacing. Moving to narrowband FM would provide better spectrum management. * Decrease GMRS handheld radio output power from 5 to 2 watts. * Eliminate the use of repeaters in the GMRS service. * Consideration of a petition from Garmin to allow the transmission of GPS location information and user-generated text messages on certain GMRS channels. These emissions are already authorized on FRS channels, but Garmin would like the FCC to consider allowing it in the GMRS spectrum. An example of such a radio that is on the FRS service is the Garmin Rino 110 <https://buy.garmin.com/shop/shop.do?pID=6404&ra=true#> . *
Prohibition of approval of dual VHF Marine/FRS radios. *
Clarification of regulations to explicitly allow hands-free microphones to operate in the CB band. * Decrease the allowable output power or prohibit the use of directional antennas for CB radios.

I think it would be nice for everyone to email pictures of your CB set ups. Might see something that other people may want to do. When we talk about CB radios and how much each and everyone likes them, i also collect CB items. I have a CB radio bedspread, CB radio bank, CB radio cups. So if you like lets share photos of our CB stuff. I would send pictures of mine, but i just wanted to see how you feel about it before i did. Ernie has a good set up.

Nous sommes montés en Andorre vendredi avec Dorota et avons eut la surprise de rencontrer 51GT/DX (nos amis Pierrot et Madeleine que nous avions rencontré sur le Dept 44) ils étaient en activation depuis le col d'Envalira (2400 m).*

*We went up to Andorra last Friday with Dorota and we were surprised to meet 51GT/DX (our friends Pierrot and Madeleine that we met on the Dept. 44) we met them at Envalira Pass (2400 m). **

Un peu plus tard ce fût le tour de 51AT110 Xavier qui est passé nous faire une petite visite et avec qui nous avons passé un excellent moment franchement !

A few minutes later 51AT110 Xavier arrived for a short visit and we spend all togethers a good time ! **

Après un sympathique apéro et un accueil très chaleureux, il nous fallait rejoindre notre bivouac pour une courte nuit.

After a nice drink and a warm welcome, we had to reach our camp for a short night.

Réveil à 6h00 (local) et préparatif du matériel, direction le sommet 300 m plus haut.
Waking up at 6:00 (local time) we had to prepare our equipment to trek to the summit 300 m higher.

2725 m au sommet dégagé 360 degré avec pour gardien le "Fonte Nègre" ou Pic Nègre d'Envalira, montage de l'antenne et installation de l'IC-7000 QRP sur batterie 40Ah LifePo4, premiers essais concluants avec le Royaume Unis ! GREAT JOB !
*
*2725 m, at the summit closed to the famous "Black peak" or "Fonte Negro d'Envalira", the G4ZU antenna was assembled we installed the IC-7000 QRP and his Lifepo4 40Ah battery, a first test was done with the UK + 20 db over nine ! GREAT JOB ! **

L'activation commençait mais après quelques heures sans trop de propagation nous dument redescendre, l'orage gagnant le pic et devenant très menaçant...

The activation began but after a few hours without too much propagation we had to spread down quickly because the thunderstorm arrived ... **

47 QSO réalisés avec des conditions de propagation minables et grâce à une belle "Onde de sol" qui nous a permise de toucher sporadiquement les 4 coins de l'Europe.

47 QSOs made with sporadic propagation conditions and thanks to a good "ground wave" that allowed us to touch four corners of Europe. **

Encore une belle activité sous le call Delta Alpha mais nous y reviendront très prochainement soyez en certains !

Another great activity with Alpha Delta callsign and be sure that we will come back very soon ! **

Nous voudrions remercier tout ceux que l'on a entendu mais que l'on n'a pas put loguer et aussi ceux qui sont passé entre QSB et orage !

We would like to thank everyone that has been heard but that we could not log in and also those that are passed between QSB and storm ! **

Would like your input on this. SWR is higher on channel 40 than channel 1. I know you are to cut a 1/4 of an inch off to get the SWR down.
Example
Lets say your SWR is 1.9 on channel 1, and the SWR is 2.5 on channel 40. Wilson antenna says to cut a 1/4 inch off the top of the antenna. Here is my question, Does it matter if you cut the top of the antenna or the bottom. Is there any difference on witch end you cut? If you cut the bottom and put it down into the load, is there a difference?

Good Morning my fellow CB'ERS
Skip here in Indiana sure was rolling in yesterday. I hope it was rolling in were you live. I was on 38 LSB and 25 AM and i talked all over the place. Sure was glad to see skip rolling in. I have had some people get upset with me because i said i was talking skip. Why i have no ideal. I have been on the CB for at lease 47 years and i have never got into any trouble for shooting skip. I sure hope you all have a great day and better yet a great CB day.

Astatic AST-878DM desk power mic. If you are looking for a desk mic i do recommend this mic. I have always been a big fan on the Silver Eagle mic, But i have to say this mic walks all over it. After i got mine a friend ask me about it and he order him one, and yes he also likes it very well. Some people i have talked to say it is the best sounding mic that they have ever heard in a long time. So if you are in the market for a power desk mic, i do recommend this one. You will not be sorry.

VIETNAM WALL

Vietnam Wall

First click on a state. When it opens, scroll down to the city and the names will appear. Then click on their names. It should show you a picture of the person, or at least their bio and medals.

This really is an amazing web site. Someone spent a lot of time and effort to create it.

I hope that everyone who receives this appreciates what those who served in Vietnam sacrificed for our country.

The link below is a virtual wall of all those lost during the Vietnam war with the names, bio's and other information on our lost heroes. Those who remember that timeframe, or perhaps lost friends or family can look them up on this site. Pass the link on to others, as many knew wonderful people whose names are listed.

Would like to say hello and tell you a little about me. I started out on the CB back in the 60's. Back than we did not use handles, we used our call letters. I hate to see the CB radio die out because of cell phones. Were i live there is not to many people on the radio anymore. Here is what radios i have.
Sonar i bought new. Uniden Washington, Cobra 2000, Cherokee Nightrider 100, I have two Uniden Grants in the boxs, Motorola Mocat 4020 mobile with its on power supply so you can take it from your car and into the house to use as a base station. Motorola 1136 40 channel base, RCI-2950DX. And a few more. I like collecting CB radios as well as CB items.
My Name is Alvin
My Handle is Big Al
My Call Letters is KLL-1150
And i live in Plymouth Indiana

Hows everyone doing? Not much skip here in Indiana in the last couple of days. Like i said i live in Indiana, I am about 20 miles from South Bend. I have a Cobra 2000 that i bought new back in around 1995. I have never had it worked on. I would like to have it tuned up. Not a lot of CB shops left here. There is one in South Bend called the CB Specialist and one in Claypool Indiana called the Sidewinder CB shop. I don't know anything about them and i was hoping someone out there would know anything about them. I don't want to take it to someone who is not going to tune it up right. A friend of mine has a CB shop in Elwood Indiana, but it is like over 100 miles away. Would like to take it a little closer to home. Like i said if you know anything about these CB shops please let me know. Thanks and have a good day and a GREAT CB DAY.

The"Nashville Rebel" owner of the White Squirrel CB Radio Club, invites all interested prospective members to sign up for the clubs email membership message board. Nashville Rebel validates the continued usefulness of CB radio and the commitment of the White Squirrels membership in his own extremly moving account, as follows:a few years ago I was contacted by a lady that was seeking help in locating her husband. He was a truck driver and she was trying to get a message to him and let him know that his mother had suffered a severe heart attack and had only hours to live.
He was supposed to be in the Virginia area. I sent a message to all my members to attempt to locate the driver using his Name, CB handle and name of the company he worked for. Many of the members got on their CB's and someone was able to contact the driver in Kentucky 13 Miutes Later,He was able to make it home in time to kiss his mother goodbye before God took her away.

Here is what a good Ham friend told me about a tune up on the Cobra 2000. And i do trust him. But i don't need my Cobra 2000 doing that many watts. I just want it turned to do 4 watts with some swing to it.

Morning Al,

I don't know who told you that but they are wrong and you are correct. After a good tune the Cobra 2000 can easily key much higher. I had the transistors in mine replaced and it is now pushing 400 watts. "Any" CB radio will benefit from a good tune up.

1668. Just a little story

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2010-08-10 11:26:06 UTC
From: Big Al
Topic: 1668 Message: 1668

I started out on a Sonar base and in my car i had a white face Johnson. If i am right there was black face Johnson's and white face Johnson's. I myself are a BIG FAN OF SONAR RADIO. I had the Sonar FS-23 back in the 60's. When CB radios was in hot and heavy back in the 70's i bought me a brand new Sonar FS-3023. I still have that radio and it still works as good today as it did back in the 70's. I even still have the box that it came in. Were i lived back than and like i said the CB was very strong. No one ever heard or seen a Sonar. I had people coming over all the time to look at it. One more thing about the Sonar was the channel rejection on it. It says it has a better than 80 DB rejection, but i think it had more than that. We put it to the test because no one believe me when i told them. So we had a mobile set right under my base antenna and just key up and start talking. Yes he did bleed me but i could still hear the person i was talking to.
The people could not believe it until they heard it and saw it do that. Back than if you run a linear you keep your mouth shut about it. FCC was bad back than on linears. Now days you can get on any channel and talk about your radio with extra channels and brag all you want about how much power you have. I hear that all the time on the radio anymore. Some people were i live is in a little town about 20 miles from me and all they know how to do is talk about how much power there radios are and how big there linears are. One night they had a contest to see who could cover who up with there linears. One guy that won the contest said he had to have a small linear in order to key his big linear. I guess he was telling the truth because he won and walked over everyone. My self i don't talk to them much because i get sick and tired of them bragging about there radios and there linears. Yes i do have linears, i have a Kicker K 500 and KL-203 and a Palomar 250HD. The only time i run one is on sideband to shoot skip. I don't even remember the last time i had the K 500 on. Now one guy that lives about 4 blocks from me runs his linear all the time. He even has it on to talk local. I guess he pissed someone off, because i heard him one day on the radio telling someone had cut his coax. If you have to run a linear to talk local, than i think you need to throw your radio out and get another one.

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

I would like to announce you that tommorow morning it's my trip to 59 Division "RHODOS Island" by plane.
I will arrive in RHODOS Island at UTC: 03:00 (in the midnight) and normally at UTC: 12:00 I will go to the Room of my Hotel.
My QTH will be in the village of KALLITHEA , on the north-east coast part of RHODOS Island.
My Working conditions will be: Transceiver: YAESU FT-857D , Max power: 150 Watt & Vertical Antenna by ALLAN λ/2.
My Monitor Frequency will be: 27,640 USB or 27,650 USB.

The most important thing for me is that to get permission from the Management of my Hotel , just to install my Antenna in a safe place.
In case I will get this permission , then I will install my Antenna immediatelly and hopefully I will be active on the radio tommorow evening.
I promise that I will do my best just to activate this interesting I.O.T.A activation.

More information about this I.O.T.A activation are available on my Website: http://18at122.gr (Just click "My I.O.T.A Tour on the left menu)

Good luck & hope to hear you from RHODOS Island ,

FRENCH

Salut à tous les dates du Field day ont été fixées, il se tiendra le Weekend du 25-26 Septembre 2010.

Il ne va sans dire que c'est une fantastique occasion pour tout les groupes pour faire un MAX de bruit, mais aussi et surtout de passer un excellent moment entre opérateurs c'est d'ailleurs le but ultime de ce concours.

Toutes les infos sont sur le forum (voir ci dessous) et une traduction en Français à été effectuée, il n'y a plus qu'à vous lancer et former vos équipes!

Si vous aviez le moindre doute vous pouvez me contacter je ferai tout pour répondre à vos questions.

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

I would like to announce you that I am everyday active from RHODOS Island , like 59AT/EU001.
My working conditions are: YAESU FT-857D , Original Microphone & Vertical Antenna ALLAN λ/2.
My Monitor Frequency is: 27,640 USB.

Today I worked 10 QSOs in my LOG due to the low Propagation.Hopefully the next 7 days it will be improved...This morning I posted my direct Postcards from RHODOS Island to 1AT084 Mr Giorgio & to few good radio friends.

I hope to hear you soon from RHODOS Island.

Bonsoir à tous, un petit topo sur la journéé d'hier; La propagation n'as pas été des meilleurs et surtout très instable. Premier contact à 08:45 local Rémy 14FDX169.
QQ rares ouvertures sur le nord France, petit pile up vers 11:00 mais malheureusement la propagation a chuté brusquement.
Je tiens à remercier tous les membres FDX qui sont venus me saluer et qui ont réussi à se nicher dans le log.
Au total 31 contacts, départ de l'Ile à 14:45 mon petit qui pêchait à côté en avait marre HI.
Je pense y retourner Mardi en espérant faire mieux.
Le log sera en ligne très bientôt sur le site FDX

Hi to all,
this is the report about yesterday from Naudin Island.
Propagation not so good today with more fading.
The first qso was with Rémy 14FDX169.
I have some QSO with north France with little pile up but the propagation was down suddenly.
I would like to thanks all FDX member who are in my log.
So this day i left Naudin Island at 14:45 PM with 31 QSO.
I would return to Naudin Island next tuesday.
The log will be online soon on the FDX site.

EMU - World Field Day 2010

Bonjour à tous, il y a eut quelques changements dans le règlement de l'"EMU Field Day", après une proposition de modification et un rapide vote de l'ensemble des groupes adhérant, il à été décidé d'accepter qu'un opérateur unique puisse activer (au lieu d'un groupe d'un minimum de deux personnes) force est de constater qu'il y a beaucoup de gens qui se voyaient dans l'impossibilité d'activer si cela n'avait pas été modifié.

La bonne nouvelle c'est que le projet s'ouvre donc à plus de monde et qu'il devrait y avoir plus de gens en fréquence pour cette belle occasion d'union des groupes !

Nous rappelons qu'il n'y a pas besoin de faire parti d'un groupe de radio ou que son groupe soit affilié à l'EMU, c'est donc très "open", 1*3OD002 Dario et moi même* attendons vos propositions d'équipe ou d'opérateur seul pour vous y inscrire.

I bought this brand new Dosy FC50 frequency counter from Redman CB shop. I paid 69.95 for it. The only time it was hooked up is when i checked it to make sure it worked OK. The only reason i am selling it is because i jumped the gun on buying it because i bought a radio off of ebay. The radio i bought was JUNK. So now i have this Dosy that i really don't need. Please feel free to make and offer or i would do some trading. It just depends on what you have that you want to trade.

Just wondering if anyone is out there. Don't see any post anymore. Did everyone sell there radios or put them up? Not much going on right now in Indiana. No skip as of yet, but i am sure some will come in. Lets keep the radio alive, don't let it die out. Don't let the cell phones take over. Lets heard from you, tell us of what kind of radio you have and what kind of radio items you have. Have a great day and a better RADIO DAY.

I have 4 Motorola Maxar 50 watt radios for sale. Will let all 4 go for $50.00 and yes they do work and all are on the same frequency's. I also have a Motorola power supply to make one a base radio. Will let the mobiles and power supply go for $60.00. Like i said all 4 and the power supply works. Radios are not beat up. Would also do trading.

1730. SOTA et accessibilité

SOTA et accessibilité

Bonjour, on m'a envoyé un mail il y a peu qui m'a quelque peu étonné et j'aimerai rappeler qu'activer un SOTA ce n'est pas qu'activer en respectant le protocole d'activation qui est établi (et notamment en utilisant une batterie ou une source soi disant non polluante (sachant que dans tout le cas excepté le solaire ou l'éolien, il faudra bien produire l'énergie (en polluant) donc ceci est largement contestable) non, à mon sens, activer un SOTA *c'est aussi et surtout monter à dos d'homme, activer un SOTA c'est allier le plaisir de randonner en montagne à la radio. *

Sachant que nombre de SOTA sont accessibles en voiture et qu'il ne faut évidement pas dévaloriser ceux qui bougent pour activer la bonne démarche serait de reconnaitre la difficulté que représente de crapahuter 300 m (A/PE001 Pic Blanc) ou 1300 m (F/PE103 Calabasse) de dénivelé sur une pente raide avec tout le matos.

*1300 m de dénivelé représentent +/- 6h de randonnée tout de même (en fonction de la forme physique de chacun et avec 20 Kg de matériel sur le dos) je vous laisse imaginer ce que cela représente d'avoir des gens qui nous suivent et nous sollicitent sur la fréquence.
Merci à vous de m'avoir lu.

Hi to all, with Dorota we will try to be active from the highest summit of the Pyrenees called: Aneto

QRZ: 30/14FDX161/P or 058/P on S/PO001 (not an official activation) we will be as "stroke portable"

Localization: Spain Maladeta mountains - Pyrenees (Aragona province)

Altitude: 3404 meters

Difficulties: A Glacier (25% of the trekking) - "Mahoma Pass" (a narrow passage about 30 meters to join the peak)...

So we will try because it's an hard climbing and if we can't we will go back home.

Material: IC-7000 - 40Ah battery - G4ZU beam or dipole or omnidirectional antenna.

http://maps.google.com/maps?ll=42.632161,0.657847&spn=0.1,0.1&q=42.632161,0.657847&hl=fr

Link: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Aneto

Hoping to hear you from this fantastic peak !

[SOTA--FRANCAIS] Sommet de l'Aneto sur l'air ? 4-5/09/2010

Salut à tous avec Dorota nous allons essayer d'être actif depuis le plus haut sommet des Pyrénées qui se nome: l'Aneto

QRZ: 30/14FDX161/P ou 058/P sur S/PO001 (Ceci n'est pas une activation) nous serons en "barré portable".

Localisation: Espagne - Massif de la Maladeta - Pyrénées (province d'Aragon)

Altitude: 3404 mètres

Difficultés: Un glacier qui fait environ 25% de la rando - "Le Pas de Mahomet" (un passage étroit d'une trentaine de mètres permettant de rejoindre le pic)...

Donc nous essayerons car il s'agit d'un rude rando et si il n'y a pas moyen nous rentrerons avec le mérite d'avoir essayé.

Materiel: IC-7000 - batterie 40Ah LIfePO4 - G4ZU ou dipôle ou omnidirectionnelle...

Carte: http://maps.google.com/maps?ll=42.632161,0.657847&spn=0.1,0.1&q=42.632161,0.657847&hl=fr

Just worked 328AT/CI096 "RAB Island" by 1AT464 Mr DARIO.
The QSB was very strong but finally I worked him and I recorded him also on video.
This video clip is available on my YouTube Channel via this link:

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

I would like to announce you that this weekend I will go to ANDROS Island , just to spend my short holidays of 3 days!
Tommorow evening it's my journey to ANDROS Island and hopefully at night I will be On Air.
Otherwise you will have the chance to work me on the radio during the weekend.
I hope & I wish the Propagation to help me working as many as possible contacts in my LOG.

EFD (EMU Field Day) - News - Nouvelles
*
*
*
*ENGLISH

Dario and myself fixed today a few things about the EFD event
*
*
*
*The subscription (to be a participating station) limit date will be:
23/09/2010
- 00h00 UTC (24 Hours until the beginning)*
*
*
*
About the logbooks and photos as proof (as a valid portable station) of any participating teams:

We ask people to send them as soon as possible but and until : To Be Announced (under EMU vote) (logbooks and proofs sent after this date will not been validated)
*
*
*
About the chaser logbooks they have to be sent as soon as possible and until : *To Be Announced (under EMU vote) *(logbooks sent after this date will not been validated).

We worked on an official logbook, it will be easier to work and to complete the QSL cards for the group Managers this logbook will be used bye everyone (Chasers and Teams).

The official EFD Logo was fixed and approved by all the EMU community (vote) and will be shown very soon on the EMU website.
*
*A common QSL card will be maid for all the interested groups (EMU affiliated groups everybody voted 100% for that) that's a great proof of unity.

We will work on a map to localize any EFD stations, we have the project to open a Youtube channel (for those who want to send their videos) and a photo album to show the proofs to the world !

With Dario, we opened an EFD mail and you can contact us using it: efdmanagers@... - It's already working !
*
If you are interested on working this event please complete the red infos below:

Avec Dario, nous avons fixé certains points au sujet de l'EFD*

La date de soubscription (pour participer à l'evénement) a été fixée: *23/09/2010
- 00h00 UTC (24 Heures avant le début du Field Day)*

Au sujet des logs des Teams ainsi que des photos activations (preuves d'activité portable):

Nous demandons à tous de les envoyer le plus vite possible et avant : Sera annoncé trés bientôt (en cours de vote EMU) (les carnets de trafic ainsi que les preuves envoyés après cette date ne seront pas validés).

Au sujet des logs des stations "chasseurs" ils devront de même être envoyés le plus tôt possible et avant : Sera annoncé trés bientôt (en cours de vote EMU) (les carnets de trafic envoyés après cette date ne seront pas validés).

Nous avons travaillé sur un carnet de trafic officiel qui devrait simplifier la tâche des Managers et que tous pourrons utiliser pour simplifier le de "croisement des logs" (pour les chasseurs et les teams qui activent).

Le Logo EFD officiel à été fixé par vote de l'EMU est sera présenté trés bientôt sur le site officiel EMU.

Une carte QSL commune sera crée et vendue à tout les groupes intéressés (sachant que 100% des clubs inscrits ont voté pour ce projet de carte commune) ce qui est une belle preuve d'unité.

Nous travaillons en ce moment sur une carte qui permettra de localizer toutes les stations qui activerons l'EFD, nous avons le projet d'ouvrir un compte Youtube pour y déposer les vidéos de ceux qui sont interessés ainsi qu'un album photos ou toutes les preuves seront affichées.

Nous avons dors et déjà ouvert un email administratif: efdxmanagers@... vous pouvez dors et dejà l'utiliser pour nous contacter Dario et moi même !

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

As usually I use to publish all my Proofs of my I.O.T.A activations , so I am inviting you tonight to watch my last Proofs of 18AT/EU067/AI "ANDROS Island , (10/9/2010 - 13/9/2010) , via this link (URL):
http://18at122.gr/18ATEU067AI_ANDROS.htm
Direct letter from ANDROS Island posted also to 1AT084 Mr Giorgio (for the approval of this I.O.T.A activation)

Unfortunatelly , the Propagation at this time was very low and better conditions from South America only!
The next time , I hope the Propagation to be better with Europe...hi hi.

Hi all Dxers ,

This week I obtained my new portable SSB Transceiver ALBRECHT AE-201S and I have installed it on my bicycle.

Today I added a new section on my Website: "My portable station" & I uploaded my 1st Video clip on this section.
You are welcome to watch the 1st portable station of the 11mt band in GREECE with the ALBRECHT AE-201S on my Website: http://18at122.gr (Just click "My portable station" on the left menu)

More videos will be published soon during my QSOs from my bicycle!
I am waiting for better Propagation , hi hi!

Thanks ,

ENG - Design challenge - EFD LOGO - RESULTS

After the vote of the EMU affiliated clubs the EFD Logo was fixed, it was not easy to because we had to choose between 3 nice graphic creations and it was not so easy because all were nice.[?]

Anyway: 13OD002 Dario's Logo won the contest and was accepted by all the "Emulian" community as official for the EFD !

Many thanks to Dario for this good graphic creation and congrats !

New activities will be updated during the weekend by webmmasters on the EFD page !

Link: http://www.emudx.com/projects/efd/teams/

FR - Concours de Design - LOGO EFD - RESULTATS

Aprés un vote de l'ensemble des groupes représentés à l'EMU, le Logo de l'EFD a été fixé, il a fallut choisir parmis trois superbes propositions ce qui ne fut pas simple.[?]

En fait celui qui a retenu le plus notre attention était le Logo de 13OD002 Dario qui a donc gagné le concours de crétion de logo pour l'EFD à l'unanimité de l'ensemble du comité des "Emuliens" (Union des groupes 11m ou "EMU").

Merci à Dario et bravo à lui pour ce très chouette Logo si représentatif de l'EFD !

De nouvelles stations participantes arrivent et seront postées sur la page de l'EFD dans le WE !

Travail commun (RA et 11m)

Comme vous le savez peut être "Free DXers" est une association qui de part ses statuts ouvre la porte à tout amoureux de radio quelle que soit la bande d'émission, aujourd'hui nous souhaitons prendre position plus concrétement encore en travaillant en harmonie avec nos cousins Radioamateurs, en tout cas avec ceux qui le souhaitent.

Plusieurs activités communes sont dors et déjà au programme et ce, grâce à l'aide de Radioamateurs membres de l'association mais également extérieur à l'association qui ont décidés de vivre leur passion commune pour la radio tous ensemble et de partager un peu plus encore leur expérience et leur amitié.

EFD - About Progressive Numbers - Au Sujet Des Progs - Dotyczace nr progresywnego

ENGLISH*

Hi to all this week we received many questions about how to log a station during the EFD.

It's easy, when you contact a "Chaser" you just have to give him a progressive number (TX) nothing else.

If you contact another EFD station you exchange progressive numbers (you give a prog : "TX" and you receive a prog : "RX").

That's why we modified the logbook you have two new columns (TX + RX).

This logbook have to be used by Chasers (from any groups) and EFD Teams (registered on the EFD page but affiliated or not to the EMU).

Chasers will only use the "RX" column and EFD Teams RX + TX.

If you need more info do not hesitate to contact us by email:

efdmanagers@...

You are also welcome to participate sending your infos untill today midnight (GMT).

Salut à tous, nous avons reçu nombre de question cette semaine sur comment loguer une station durant l'EFD.

En fait, c'est très simple lorsque vous rencontrez un "chasseur" sur l'air, vous lui donnez un numéro de progressif (case TX) et rien de plus.

Par contre si vous rencontrez une autre team EFD il vous faudra échanger les progressifs (vous donnerez alors un progressif : TX et en recevrez un de l'autre équipe participante : RX).

C'est pour cela que nous avons modifié le Carnet de trafic, vous avez dorénavant deux colonnes supplémentaires à cet effet (TX et RX).

Ce carnet de trafic doit être utilisé par les chasseurs et par les Team EFD pour faciliter l'administratif.

Les chasseurs n'utiliseront que la colonne "RX" et les Team les deux colonnes en cas d'échange avec une autre Team EFD.

Si vous avez besoin d'un complément d'information n'hésitez pas à nous le faire savoir, vous êtes bienvenue:

efdmanager@...

Vous étes également bienvenue pour vous inscrire avant ce soir 00h00 et participer ainsi sur le terrain a cet evenement si excitant.

POLSKI

Witam wszystkich, w tym tygodniu otrzymaliśmy wiele pytań na temat jak logować stacje podczas dni polowych EFD ?.

W rzeczywistości jest to bardzo łatwe, gdy bedziecie mieli takie stacje tzw. "myśliwych"ci co poluja to trzeba dać im numer progresywny i (wpisac w pole TX) i nic więcej.

Przeciwnie, jeśli bedzie to kontakt z innymi zespołami aktywujacymi EFD, to musicie wymienić numery progresywne (dacie wiec numer progresywny : TX i wy rowniez otrzymacie numer progresywny od drużyny uczestniczącej: RX).

Dlatego wprowadzilismy zmiany w Logbook, macie teraz dwie dodatkowe kolumny (TX i RX).

Logbook musi być uzywany przez stacje « mysliwych« i stacje aktywujace EFD dla ułatwienia pracy administracyjnej.

"Myśliwi"polujacy będą używali tylko kolumny "RX" a stacje aktywujace EFD beda uzywali dwie kolumny w przypadku wymiany numerow progresywnych z innym zespołem EFD.

Jeśli potrzebujecie dodatkowych informacji skontaktujcie się z nami, serdecznie zapraszamy:

Zapraszamy wszystkie stacje do rejestracji jeszcze dzisiaj przed godzina 00:00 polnoca i wzjecia udzialu w tym tak ekscytującym wydarzeniu w plenerze.

Hello All,
I am relatively new to CB's so please forgive my inexperience. I am currently using a recapped Cobra 139XLR that works amazingly well compared my previous radios. For an antenna, I am using an Antron A99 mounted on top of the roof of my house. I have recently purchased a POW B3 Linear Amplifier. I have been unable to find any information regarding this amp and would appreciate any information that you can provide regarding its operation. Any personal experience or feedback regarding its expectations would be greatly appreciated as well.
Thanks

* Many thanks to all !

Hi to all, Dario and myself would like to thank you for your implication in this first EMU event, the Field Day 2010 was a success not specially about the quantity of contacts, but certainly humanly and thanks to an excellent friendly spirit between all groups.

Weather and propagation conditions were bad on the North hemisphere, not the best on the South hemisphere, but nothing could stop your exceptional desire to rock the band from all corner of the world (under the rain, the wind) this is the best proof of your fantastic motivation.

This kind of action shown to everybody an excellent friendship and today, we can affirm that unity is on the good way. We shown thta it was possible to share our common passion with many other groups respecting in the same time 11m rules.

This success will naturally help us to prepare a few new projects; « Island Fiesta », « International Contest » and a few other activities which are on the way (have a look at the EMU website).

Now, we wait your logbooks (chasers and EFD stations) big or small one (even if you have only one contact) and we will be able to valid and reward whose who spent their free time scanning the band or activating in the field.

For the EMU affiliated groups, Darren 43DA001 and Chris 14W007 (EMU webmasters) wait your articles (in English) with a few pics in good quality, to write a your experience on the EMU website, you already can find a few one on the main page.

Merci à tous !*

Bonjour à tous, après concertation, Dario et moi même voudrions vous remercier toutes et tous pour votre implication dans ce premier événement de l'EMU, le Field Day 2010 a été un succès non pas en terme de chiffre, mais surtout d’un point de vue humain et ce grâce à un excellent esprit de camaraderie entre les groupes.

Les conditions climatiques et de propagation étaient mauvaises sur l'hémisphère Nord, moyennes sur l'hémisphère Sud, ce qui ne vous a pas empêché de bouger et d'activer depuis les quatre coins de la planète (sous la pluie, le vent) et cela dénote une motivation exceptionnelle bien plus importante encore que n’importe quoi d’autre.

C'est grâce à de telles actions, grâce à ce fantastique esprit de camaraderie que nous pouvons affirmer aujourd’hui que l'unité est possible, le partage entre les groupes dans le respect des règles du 11 m est sur la bonne voie.

Ce succès ouvre tout naturellement la route vers de nombreuses perspectives d’activités communes, « Island Fiesta », « Contest International » et bien d’autres projets sont déjà en cours de préparation (voir le site de l’EMU).

Nous attendons votre log (chasseur et stations EFD) qu'ils soient imposant ou non (même si vous n’avez qu’un seul contact) et afin de pouvoir valider les QSO des teams EFD ou des chasseurs et récompenser ceux qui ont passé du temps à guetter sur la bande ou a activer sur le terrain.

Contact: efdmanagers@...

Pour les groupes affiliés à EMU, Darren 43DA001 ainsi que Chris 14W007 (les webmasters du site EMU) attendent vos articles (en Anglais) et quelques photos, afin de pouvoir vous créer un petit article sur le site, déjà quelques-uns y sont publiés sur la page principal.

Lien: http://www.emudx.com/

Merci de nous avoir lu et merci à tous, chasseurs et team car vous avez contribué à faire vibrer la bande le temps d’un week-end, ce succès n’était possible qu'avec vous tous.

Hi Mr Aldo & all ,

I am writing you this message after the complaints of 1AT069 Mr Enio against to me.

I only asked via E-mail what happens with the situation of 111AT101 Mr Hail , why my good friend 18SD005 Mr Theo has not received any answer by 1AT156 Mr Mauro until now (1 year without any answer by 1AT156 Mr Mauro)
Mr Theo had posted 2 times contribution to him.That was my E-mail to the AT Mailing list.
This is not a reason for Mr Enio complaining me (why I sent that E-mail to the AT Mailing list)

It is not democratical 1AT069 Mr Enio stopping me sending E-mail's to the AT Mailing list about asking something which is relative with the AT Group & it's QSL Managers.
Who is responsible in this Group and which is the correct place of asking something which is relative with this Group?
Do you know how many complaints are in other Mailing lists about the delay of answers by 1AT156 Mr Mauro?

Anyway , I am a gentleman person and democratical too.
I do not allow someone (like 1AT069 Enio) to be so strict with me...
I am not a young child.

Tonight I decide to leave the ALFA TANGO Group....
The reason that I leave the ALFA TANGO Group is due to the bad behavior of 1AT069 Mr Enio and it's strict rules.
After 10 years I thought that the things have been changed but unfortunatelly this Group is stil the same!
You are not a democratical Group...Sorry!

The reason that I send this message in public Mailing lists is that because I want anyone to know the real reasons of leaving this Group.It is not secret for me!I don't like the secrets!

Topic: 1783 Message: 1783

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

Few minutes ago I talked on the phone with Mr Eugene from CORFU Island and he told me to transfer you his following message that around UTC: 14:00 he will be back at his Hotel and he will be more active with his new I.O.T.A activation: 18ET/EU052/CI "CORFU Island".
Today morning he posted his direct Proofs to me (I am his QSL Manager) and also to 1ET010 Mr Paolo.

Yesterday evening the Propagation was very strong in CORFU Island and Mr Eugene worked 90 contacts in his LOG.
This weekend it's a good chance for him to work more stations in his LOG because he will have more free time to spend for this I.O.T.A activation.
His working wonditions are: YAESU FT-857D , Original Microphone , Vertical Antenna λ/2 and Maximin Power: 180 Watt.
Remember his Monitor Frequency is: 27,520 USB

More info & QSL Preview are available here: http://18et002.gr/iotatour.htm
So I am wishing good luck to any operator who is interersting for this new I.O.T.A activation.

Topic: 1784 Message: 1784

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

I would like to announce you that 18ET/EU052/CI "CORFU Island" will be active only today because tommorow morning Mr Eugene will go to another place due to his job.It's a good chance for anyone working him on the radio today.Let's hope for better propagation later...

So I remind you that this I.O.T.A activation will be active today (all the day) on 27,520 USB.
This I.O.T.A activation will be active again at irregular times depends of the job of Mr Eugene in this Island.

More information about this I.O.T.A activation are available here: http://18et002.gr/iotatour.htm

We wish you good luck ,

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

Unfortunatelly the Propagation did not help our good friend 18ET003 Mr Eugene for activating his new I.O.T.A activation from SANTORINI Island (18ET/EU067/SI)

Anyway , 18ET003 Mr Eugene stayed in SANTORINI Island for 2 days due to his job and he will go again in this Island at January 2011 (hopefully with better conditions of the Propagation)

More info about this I.O.T.A activation are available via this link (URL): http://18et002.gr/18ETEU067SI.htm

[EIF 2011 ENG + FR] - EMU Islands Fiesta

Origine: Darren 43DA001
Traduction FR: John 14FDX058

A - English

Dear All,

Part 1 of the EMU Islands Fiesta will be held on January 8-9, 2011.

There are 4 categories:

1. Island Hunter – DXer who hunts island contacts (IOTA & IWI) from the home shack or from a portable location

2. Home IOTA Operator – DXer who already lives on an island and uses a special IOTA callsign for the weekend

3. IOTA DXpedition Operator – Dxer or team which travels to an island/s for an IOTA activity

4. IWI DXpedition Operator – Dxer or team which travels to an inland water island for an IWI activity

One of the objectives is to have as many IOTA references and islands on the band as possible over the weekend.

Anyone can participate – members of non-affiliated clubs, members of affiliated clubs, etc. Many great prizes are up for grabs, including IOTA Directories, log books, EMU merchandise, trophies, antennas and more!

For more information, including the dates of Part 2 of the Islands Fiesta coming up later in the year, please see the EMU website at http://www.emudx.com/projects/eif/ .

To participate in one of the above categories, please me in private at darren@... .

Thank you for supporting this independent event ;-)

Bonjour à tous,

La première partie du "Island Fiesta" de l'EMU aura lieu les 8-9 Janvier 2011.

Il ya 4 catégories:

*1. Le chasseur d'île Hunter *- C'est l'opérateur qui chasse et contact les île (IOTA & IWI) à partir de chez lui ou à partir d'un emplacement portable.

2. L'opérateur IOTA - Opérateur qui vit déjà sur une île et utilise un indicatif spécial IOTA pour le week-end.

3. L'expéditionnaire IOTA - Opérateur seul ou équipe d'opérateurs qui se déplace(ent) sur une (ou des) île(s) pour faire une activité IOTA.

4. L'expéditionnaire IWI - Opérateur seul ou équipe d'opérateurs qui se déplace(ent) sur une (ou des) île(s) interne(s) pour faire une activité IWI.

Le premier objectif est d'avoir un maximum de références IOTA depuis de nombreuses îles sur notre bande les week-end de l'activation et de faire l'apologie des IOTA.

Tout le monde peut participer à ce challenge - Dont les membres des clubs affiliés ou non à l'EMU (et sans distinctions).

De nombreux prix sont à gagner, dont: Répertoires IOTA, Carnet de trafic, ainsi que des trophées, (antennes, coupes et plus encore...)...

Pour plus d'informations, y compris les dates de la deuxième partie du "Island Fiesta" à venir plus tard dans l'année, s'il vous plaît consulter le site Web de l'EMU.

[ENG + FR] EFD (EMU Field Day 2010) - STATISTICS - AWARDS

Hi to all, I'm working on the EMU Field Day statistics, I'm a little bit late (due to my work) and apologies for that (end date was 10 of November) but be sure that all will be done very soon.

*FRANÇAIS - *Salut à tous, je travail actuellement sur les statistique de l'EMU Field Day et accuse un léger retard (due à mon travail) j'en suis bien évidement désolé mais ne vous ai pas oublié (la date de cloture était prévue pour le 10 Novembre) tout sera prêt au + vite.

I'm sure about something: Field Day was so FUN and a fantastic common work => TNX for that !
*
FRANÇAIS - *Je suis sure d'une chose: Le Field Day a été trés FUN est représente un fantastique travail en commun => TNX pour cela !

Certificates are already printed in full colour and will be sent in the end of the week* to all EFD participating stations.*
*
FRANÇAIS - *Les certificats sont déjà imprimé en couleur et seront envoyés en fin de semaine à toutes les stations qui ont participé sur le terrain à cet événement.

The classification for the Field Day chasers + stats will be published by *14W007
Chris* and 43DA001 Darren on the EMU website.
Awards will be sent as quick as possible to the best hunters and to congratulate them !

*FRANÇAIS - *Le classement concernant les chasseurs + les statisitques seront publiés par 14W007 Chris et 43DA001 Darren sur le site de l'EMU, les trophées seront envoyés au plus vite aux gagnants du concours pour les remercier.

Many news were published by EMU webmasters, just have a look at this fine work:

Salut je cherche des infos sur les IWI et notamment comment ce fait il que certaines IWI référencées soit considérées en tant que tel alors qu'elles ne sont que des presqu'iles ?

Je pensai qu'il y avait peut être la raison de la montée des hauts l'hiver ?

Si quelqu'un pouvait me renseigner à ce sujet je lui en serai reconnaissant car je n'y connais rien du tout.

I would like to announce you that today I received the new Echo Tango QSL cards under my QSL Management from my Printer in POLAND.
The last 10 hours I was working very hard just to answer 145 letters from the following activations: 18ET/EU052/CI "CORFU Island" , 18ET/EU075/SI "SALAMINA Island" & few QSOs of my last QSOs like 18ET002.

Tommorow morning (at 17/11/2010) I will post 145 letters to any destination worldwide.
If anyone of you will receive my letter , please let me know via the Mailing lists.
I would like to know that anyone received his QSL cards from my side without any problem!
Any comment about the QSLs is welcome of course!I need to know your comments!

Hi all ,

I sale my new Handheld Transceiver MAGNUM 1012 because I need money for X'mas gifts!

This handheld transceiver is in excellent condition (I received it 2 days ago from U.S.A) and I sale it with necessary optional accesories:

If you are interesting for my new MAGNUM 1012 , I sale it with the following optional accesories:
1. High quality handsfree (it comes from Germany in 2 days)
2. Optional big Antenna (1,5 meter length by Uniden) - very expensive and excellent Antenna for portable use in activations!

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

At 15/12/2010 , 18ET011 Mr Panos was very lucky during his new I.O.T.A activation from KYTHIRA Island , like 18ET/EU113/KI.
He worked totally 80 QSOs in his LOG into 2 hours of radio activity!The propagation was very strong at this time only for 2 hours!

I would like to announce that today I published on our 3 Websites , the Proofs & tickets of the Date: 15/12/2010 from this I.O.T.A activation: 18ET/EU113/KI from KYTHIRA Island by 18ET011 Mr Panos.

Attention: Tommorow 21/12/2010 , Mr Panos will be active like 18ET/EU113/KI from the rare Island of KYTHIRA.
This I.O.T.A activation will be active again at irregular times or weekends by 18ET011 Mr Panos.

You are welcome to watch the nice Material & Proofs of 18ET/EU113/KI "KYTHIRA Island" via this link (URL): http://18et001.gr/18ETEU113KI.htm

Are you a small business owner? If so, how is your business doing? Despite businesses that are a success, there are many business owners who want more. If you are one of those individuals, it is likely that you would do just about anything in your power to improve your business, especially if you sell a particular product or service. When working to improve their businesses, many business owners spend thousands, if not millions, of dollars on advertising. How would you feel if you learned that there was a free way that you could promote your business? More info:

Podcasting is easy to get involved in for anyone who wants to create a podcast. The first thing necessary is access to a web server. The user needs to be able to upload files to the server itself, so podcasting can't be done from a simple blogging or journal site. More:

Hi to all, with Dorota we will try to active again from the peak, the problem is the snow, so nothing is sure at the moment but by chance and if the weather conditions permit, we could be active from the White Peak on Saturday 19.

<-FR->

Salut à tous avec Dorota nous essayerons d'activer depuis le pic, le problème étant la neige, bien évidement rien de certain mais si les conditions le permettent nous chausserons nos raquettes pour une virée au sommet de Pic Blanc en Andorre le Samedi 19.

The Original Island Festival 2011 is going to be a fantastic opportunity for island hunters to log many new islands on 11 meter. Already 44 island activities have been announced to participate in the Island Festival the first weekend of June, 26 of the already listed islands are new ones on the 11 meter band! Head over to the Original Island Festival's brand new website to check the list of participating islands.
http://www.islandfestival.net <http://www.islandfestival.net/>
Are you tempted to activate an island yourself in the Original Island Festival? Everyone is welcome to join, read the rules and get in touch with the organizers today. If you are new to activations we are here to help you, just ask us!

Attention all 11mt band radio friends.Today someone bullshit sent the message to the RSN Mailing list:

18ET002 Jim Greece Anthens block all the times 27.555 usb him talk and stanby on T5 him dont qsy any freq him block 555 usb every day him was a big troubelmakers on 11 m band him giw out ET callsing on 555 usb him dont like to see RSN growing dont listnig to him big warning to all a use this mail 21rsn001@... what its that a hawe never sent out this what going on are that trubelmakers going on

I can confirm you that it is not true.I was not making QRM on 555.I always use to give QSY etc.I am always gentleman and I never make problems!
Everything it happens against to me , it happens for sure due to big jealous!Do not care about these bullshit!

Enjoy your DXing and be carefull these kind of messages ,

Hi Janne (21RSN001) ,

Please stop writing bad things about me...You do not know me personally and I do not allow you to write bad words about me in your RSN Mailing list.
I do not make QSOs on 27,555 (Never) and except of that my Live Streaming Station does not broadcast my voice.So you are not true in what you write.

When I am active on the radio , I use to give always my QSY frequency and anyone knows that.So please do not write things which are not valid.

Please be careful because the next time I will publish your bad actions & your stupid behavior everywhere on Internet in relative Websites with the 11mt band community.Stop stop stop your Bullshit actions 21RSN001 Janne....You are idiot!

I have sent this E-mail in public Mailing lists , just anyone to know who is 21RSN001 Janne....Congratulations for your stupid behavior!
(It was better not to block my registration on the RSN Mailing list)....You are not gentleman...sorry!
I never hide the truth dear.....

On my side I'm not interested to receive infos about all your last membership, if i want info I can have a look on your website.

But if you have DX info to share it could be more interesting.

To have a big DX group is nice but have an active group is better.

PSE stop spaming this newsgroup and give us interesting news about the activity of you group.

Hey all,
Less than 2 months before this great isle event !

Already 63 island projects from 18 DXCC's are online at the " ISLAND FESTIVAL " website: http://www.islandfestival.net <http://www.islandfestival.net/>

This 2011 edition is the biggest 11 meters isle event thanks to several island lovers !

34 new references are previewed at this date! The biggest isle expeditions of the past year are sure to be on the air the first week end of June ! Reserve this weekend 4th and 5th June 2011 in your radio shack, you'll have an island shower on your transceiver ! lol !

Have a look at the 2010, 2009, 2008 ISLAND FESTIVAL reports on the website:
http://www.islandfestival.net/results.php <http://www.islandfestival.net/results.php> . From year 2008, this event is growing year by year !

We are already very excited to be on air for these 48 hours, it's going to be one BIG Island party !

1960. [FRANCAIS + ENGLISH] - EMU - International SOTA Tour

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2011-04-13 15:50:02 UTC
From: John 058
Topic: 1960 Message: 1960

*[FRANCAIS + ENGLISH (at the end)]

EMU - International SOTA Tour

EMU SOTA Tour - (EST)*

A - VERSION EN FRANÇAIS

Comme vous vous en rendez peut être compte, l'EMU est en train de devenir une fantastique entité de groupement des clubs de radio sur la bande du 11 mètres. L'objectif premier des clubs affiliés est de travailler démocratiquement (par le biais de votes) pour créer des activations communes et ainsi avoir un maximum d'energie positive sur l'air tout en promouvant notre passion pour la Radio.

Il y a déjà toutes sortes de projets et d'idées de concours (IOTA (Island Fiesta) , Field Day (EFD 2011) , CONTESTS Internationaux, LOTA) et bien d'autres arriveront bientôt.

A ce sujet et si vous désirez suivre l'actualité de l'EMU en Français je vous invite à visiter ce lien:

http://radio-dx44.xooit.com/f235-EMU.htm

Pour le moment aucun projet de concours SOTA n'a encore été proposé, paradoxalement *de plus en plus de groupes de radio et d'opérateurs indépendants sont intéressés par ce type d'activité.
*
Nous avons donc entamé un travail autour d'un concours type: "SOTA Tour international" *avec les amis de la "Team Extrême FDX" et du groupe DX "Hôtel Alfa".
Nous pensons que ce concours pourrait intéresser d'autres groupes et opérateurs indépendants, nous nous retournons donc vers tout ceux que cela pourrait intéresser.

Nous avons conscience que d'autres groupes s’intéressent également aux SOTA et depuis longtemps, pour mémoire les "IAA", "SD", "SG", "DA", "OD", "FAT", "FR" et certainement d'autres ont pensés un jour promouvoir tous ensemble ce type d'activité qui allie randonnée, aventure, amour de la nature et surtout la RADIO !!

Le règlement est validé, la traduction vers l'Anglais à été faite (merci à 43DA001 Darren pour son aide) 109HA182 Silvius quant à lui s'occupe de sa traduction en Hongrois.

La porte est grande ouverte à tous comme au sujet de tout les autres projets de l'EMU et nous attendons donc vos idées, suggestions et votre aide.

---

EMU SOTA Tour - (EST)

B - ENGLISH VERSION

As you see, EMU is becoming a fantastic entity on the 11 meters band. Our aim is to work between affiliated clubs democratically (using a voting system) to create common activities having a maximum of positive energy and promoting in the same time our favourite hobby.

We already have many projects and ideas about contests and activities such as IOTA (Island Fiesta) , Field Day (EFD 2011) , Internationals CONTESTS, LOTA and a few others arriving soon.

But at the moment we do not have any SOTA projects purposed, paradoxically more and more groups or independent operators are interested on this kind of activities.

That's why we started to work on a contest called: "EMU SOTA Tour" with our *FDX X-Team friends and from Hotel Alfa DX Group.
** *
We think that this contest could keep the interest of many operators and groups all over the world.

We know that many other groups were active on SOTA and since a long time *"IAA",
"SD", "SG", "DA", "OD", "FAT", "FR"* have certainly think about doing this kind of common project having many nice interest like hiking, adventure, respect of nature and RADIO sure !!

Rules are validated, translation to English was done (TNX to Darren 43DA001 for his help) Silvius 109HA182 is working on the translation to Hungarian language.

Door is open and like each time with the EMU projects, we wait your suggestions, asks, and help.

Each day, a large number of internet users visit an online video website. In fact, many internet users visit more than one. Online video websites are websites that allow internet users to make, upload, and share their own unique video creations. One of those sites is known as YouTube. If you are looking to use online video websites, such as YouTube, for entertainment, you are in luck. Online, you can find thousands, if not millions of videos that are available for your watch, often free of charge. From: murtazanasir32

The sales of the new iPod video are surprisingly good, taking into account the fact that no research has been made for the customer market and their needs or requirements.

A possible disadvantage for the sales may be the fact that the negative advertising has been made. This negative advertising concerns the vulnerability of the screens, the easy scratching surfaces and other several features. However, the sales are up due to the great success among the teenagers, among very busy people who travel a lot. Read more: http://www.findbesttips.com/video/article-ipod-video-sales.html

2011. CONTRIBUTION

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2011-06-09 23:22:26 UTC
From: Tom 47DX052
Topic: 2011 Message: 2011

Hi all

Over recent times there has been running an online debate about the "concept" contributions. Accordingly, I have come up with some thoughts on how it affects the operation of DXRC-Bureau that I have been running for many years.

I will also tell a little about how the DXRC-Bureau now will offer you a way to save a lot of money - so that "the concept of contribution" will be 30-50% cheaper than today - at least when you need your contacts confirmed through DXRC-Bureau. There are many things which I will elaborate - and therefore the mail is very long and I urge you to read it thoroughly.

The DXRC-Bureau is working in very close cooperation with HQ of the Delta-Xray Radio Club, and we will not hesitate to give our members and non-members this superb service. DXRC is a solid guaranty for that.

We are innovative and have found the way to keep the cost as low as possible, not only for the DXRC-Bureau, but also for the many that send QSL Cards to the DXRC-Bureau. We all know that it can be an expensive hobby to send QSL an especially if you also include a contribution along with every QSL.

But first it is necessary to look at some very general things which concern all participating parties - the cost of sending letters, which is dependent on which country you send from and of course printing costs for QSL cards, where the price can depend on several things, for simplicity I use a "standard price"

The prices in Denmark to send a 0-50 gram letter as "Economic B" from Denmark to:

Europe Dkr. 9,00 Euro ?1,21 US$ 1,75

Outside

Europe Dkr. 11,00 Euro ?1,48 US$ 2,14

If the price for printing 1.000 QSL cards is 60? that will be a prices of 0,06 ? per card for you personally. This means that if you are a Danish operator and send 1 envelope contents 1 QSL cards and 1 SAE so you can easily calculate your "basic cost" to be around. 1,40? including the prices for buying envelopes - BUT without the contribution.

Imagine that a operator send QSL card 10 times in a period of for example a year to the DXRC-Bureau his/hers "basic cost" without contribution will be around 14?

There are several ways you can save money if you send your QSL card in the "normal way" YOU can save some money on your postage expensive.

You do not need to send your QSL to the DXRC-Bureau the same day or week you have worked the activations or operators we are manager for. You could wait 1-3 month or up to 6-12 months before sending your QSL's, send them all in one envelope and you will save a lot of money for the postage. Actually you do not need to send your QSL at all, you can just send log sheet with all your contacts, and you will save your QSL cards.

The total NEW way to save ALL your "basic cost" is to send an email including all your contacts to DXRC-Bureau@... and receive printed QSL-card(s) the traditional way.

For multiple QSL requests (many activations), please download and fill in our multiple QSL request form, and send to: DXRC-Bureau@Delta-xray.net and receive printed QSL-card(s) the traditional way.

What about the contribution you might ask? Well the contribution is of course extremely important to help the DXRC Bureau continuing their services, so we therefore offer you to send your contribution using your credit card or bank transfer via the PayPal system.

When deciding on how much contribution to send, please use your common sense, DXRC-Bureau is a non-profit part of Delta-Xray Radio Club; our aim is to provide members and non-members with an extremely high quality QSL-Management service.

Due to ever increasing and very high postage-charges, DXRC Bureau normally sends out batches of QSL's 1, 2 or maybe 3 times per year, we simply collect the incoming QSL Cards from the activations under our management, then periodically send several QSL Cards in one envelope. This is the only way we can save money, if we didn't, we could not get DXRC Bureau's economy to function at all.

As mention before; the way you can save money is on your "basic cost".

The "basic cost" for the DXRC-Bureau is of course different, for example the prices for QSL cards are basically the same. BUT we have to use another calculation method to figure out the correct "basic cost" for one QSL card. We print the amount of cards that is needed for a specific activation, for example an activation have 180 contact in the log, our experience tells us that we receive around 90 QSL request (50%) so it would be crazy to order 1.000 or even 500 cards, the "basic cost" per card would be to high - instead we order 100 digitally printed QSL cards for a total price around 20 ? in this way we can bring our "basic cost" down for this specific QSL..

Let me finish this long email with some personally comments about the "concept" contributions.

Please remember when an operator or a team decide to make an activation they normally do it because it's fun, to be in a big pile-up or as a competition, they never do it for "the money" if you believe that I simply just ask you to make a calculation of their cost. If you after doing that still believe they do it "for the money" nobody can help youJ

Maybe you think that the DXRC-Bureau is just a "BIG business" well, honestly nothing could be more wrong - in 2010 we managed around 50 activations and send out more than 2500 QSL cards.

I urge you to study the DXRC-Bureau guidelines on www.delta-xray.net click on GUIDELINES than click on MORE GUIDELINES than click on here under the "Guidelines concerning QSL-management"

Hello all,

If you have enclosed 1 Dollar/1 Euro in contributions with a QSL card and you now by some clubs are asked to send 2 Dollar/2 Euro - you, and surely are many others believe that it is too much to receive a QSL card - there are actually some who believe that it should be totally free of charge to receive a QSL because it is "just" a hobby. Now read my opinion!

At the risk of being called "purely business man" and other that's worse, I will humbly but certainly tell how I look at it, I have been running the DXRC-Bureau for many years and I have had this wonderful hobby over 40 years.

When a manager sends QSL 1 QSL cards in 1 envelope to you, for examples from Denmark there is some basic costs linked with it.

1 QSL cards for a activation cost at least 0.14 Dollar/0.10 Euro to print, sometimes it can cost up to 0.7 Dollar/0.50 Euro depending on how many QSL card the manager receives for a specific activation, an important factor is also how many QSO's that are in the log - because it decide how many QSL cards that has to be printed, and therefore the specific price to get 1 QSL card printed.

Postage price are the largest part of the basic cost for a QSL manager - from Denmark, it costs 1.71 Dollar/1.12 Euro to send a letter to countries in Europe and 2.10 Dollar/1.47 Euro outside Europe.

So if you've been so nice to include a S.A.E (Self Addressed Envelope) then the minimum basic cost of sending 1 QSL card from a manager in Denmark to you is 1.85 Dollar/1.22 Euro if you live in Europe and 2.24 Dollar/1.57 Euro if you live outside Europe - and remember this is calculated as the smallest basic cost.

So even though it is "just a hobby" then there is NOTHING in life that's free! I have always believed that's we all should use our common sense - and I still belive that!

BUT, YOU can save up to 50% - on YOUR BASIC COST - DXRC-Bureau offers a completely NEW WAY to receive QSL cards look more at this link:

2047. Contribution/PayPal

From: Tom 47DX052
Topic: 2047 Message: 2047

Hi all,

As you properly have heard, The DXRC-Bureau has implemented a new way you can request QSL from all DXRC activations - so YOU can save money on postage and QSL cards. The idea is that you send your log via email - and donate your contribution via PayPal.

PayPal is on of the biggest online-payment-systems and also very save to use - Therefore I recommend that you create your own PayPal account - where you can easily deposit money from your bank account.

I am very confident that other QSL managers in the future will offer this option - so if you do not already have a PayPal account use this link to find out more:

https://www.paypal.com/dk/mrb/pal=59Q5TJFPPDQEE

Does this mean that you absolutely must have a PayPal account to send contributions in this way - NO not at all - you can use a debit/creditcard for your donations - BUT having your own PayPal account will just make it easier for you.

Is it free to use PayPal?- well it is free to make and have a Paypal account - BUT when DXRC-Bureau receive contribution we have to pay a fee to Paypal - the fee is in 2 parts:

1. 4 percent will be drawn from the money we receive

2. Plus a fee of 0,35 Euro or 0,30 USD on the transaction

So if you donate 2 Euro via PayPal the DXRC- Bureau will receive around 1,5 Euro

Vy 73 de
Tom 47DX052
DXRC-BUREAU

Read about the 3 ways you can request your QSL-cards, please use this link:

Bonjour à tous, le SOTA Tour s'est fini la semaine derniére et nous attendons toujours nombres de carnets de trafic (bien que nous en ayons RX pas mal déjà)

* <sotamanagers@...> Le Comité de l'EMU avait proposé de laisser un mois de délais aprés la fin d'un concours.
*
*Nous avons donc décidé de mettre en application cela et d'attendre jusqu'au : 11/11/2011 pour publier les résultats et décerner les prix.
1 - Téléchargez le carnet de trafic (fichier Excel) *

Hi dear friend Tomas (14HF002) ,

As I had told you I was waiting to watch Proofs & especially videos of this DX-expedition with radio equipment in the Monasteries area.Only Proofs were not valid like a visitor. The most valid Proofs are the video clips during this radio activity from the Monasteries.So it's was 100% genuine!

Today I watched them on the Youtube and the H.F Group in my opinion is the 1st DX Group which made this DX-expedition absolutelly genuine!

My personal congratulations once again to the H.F Group and also to 18HF126 Mr Eugene.
Anyone from a rare DX-expedition must work on the same way like H.F Group.
I have told that many times in the past and all present Greek operators working on the same way....
I am very proud as a Greek operator once again!
CONGRATULATIONS!!!

Hi all Dxers ,

There is a big confusion about all the radio activities of 254 Division.(Past , present & future activities)
I kidly ask anyone here to read carefully my attached file on this e-mail just to understand what's going on with all the radio activities from this prefix which is part of our lovery country: GREECE.

The following attached file is my answer to the H.F Group (after 254HF/0 the last October) , from me and behalf of all the Greek operators of the 11mt band.
We want anyone to know the truth about this prefix....

If someone has any doubt about this attached file , he may send his questions directly to Monk Apollo: sv2asp@...
This e-mail is typed also on his letter!

I am proud as Greek operator to express my opinion everywhere and in public!
The Mount Athos is not a game!
The comments are yours.....

Activer au Maroc ?*
Bonjour à tous, j'ai un amis DXEUR indépendant qui souhaite activer depuis le Maroc.

Est ce que quelqu'un pourrait me dire si il y a vraiment des risques et si il existe des solutions pour acheminer du matériel sur ce QTH ? Comment faut-il s'y prendre ?

J'ai essayé de contacter Rod 14FT817 deux fois (car il est allé activer plusieurs fois là bas) sans sucés.

Si quelqu'un pouvait me renseigner je ferai le QSP.

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

I am inviting you on my Website just to check the Online QSL Status-Online Logbook of my last 2 I.O.T.A activations from GREECE:

For the Online QSL Status of 18AT/EU067/NI "NAXOS Island" , please click here: http://www.18at122.gr/naxosLog.htm
For the Online QSL Status of 18AT/EU075/SI "SALAMINA Island" , please click here: http://www.18at122.gr/salaminaLog.htm

In my opinion the Online QSL Status-Online Logbook help all the 11mt operators who would like to check if they are in my Logbook or in case they would like to know if their letters arrived to me and I replied them.
Just for your information my Online QSL Status-Online Logbook of my I.O.T.A activations are updated everyday!

Hi all Dxers & I.O.T.A hunters ,

We would like to announce you that today evening (at UTC: 17:00) it's our trip to ANDROS Island for our upcoming I.O.T.A activation.
Our arrival in ANDROS Island is expected to be at UTC: 19:00 (duration of this trip: 2 hours) from RAFINA Port.

Normally the propagation this evening (when we will arrive in the Island) will not be open so we will be on Air for sure tommorow morning from ANDROS Island.
Anyway we will try to be on Air also later this evening (if the propagation allows it to us)

More information about 18AT/EU067/AI "ANDROS Island" are available here:

[FRANÇAIS] SOTA Tour 2012 - L'aventure continue

Bonjour à toutes et tous;

Avec une poignée d'amis nous souhaitons continuer à promouvoir notre passion pour le SOTA.

Nous avons donc décidé de créer un site dédié à ce type d'activité sur notre bande favorite.

Ce site va nous permettre de continuer à organiser le Concours SOTA tour, tout en gardant un maximum de neutralité.

Lien vers le site Internet : http://sota11m.free.fr/ (cliquez sur le drapeau en haut à gauche pour changer de langue)

Nous avons créé il y a peu un newsgroup dédié au SOTA sur 11m, un outil qui permet de discuter avec ceux qui le souhaitent de l'événement, du site, ce afin de nous mettre d'accord et surtout pour avoir un maximum d'objectivité.

Nous vous invitons à vous joindre à nous afin de donner vos avis, idées et ainsi proposer vos activations SOTA pour l'année 2012.
Bien évidement, chaque groupe garde sont autonomie (sa propre gestion), le but serait d'entendre plus monde, depuis plus d'endroits différents et de pouvoir ainsi donner plus de points aux chasseurs de SOTA.*

Si vous avez des projets de SOTA cette année, ou des idées, vous êtes plus que bienvenue.

Pour plus d'infos contactez-nous : sotamanagers@gmail.com

[ENGLISH] SOTA Tour 2012 - Adventure continues

Hello to all;

With some friends we would like to continue promoting our passion for the SOTA.

We finally decided to create a website dedicated to SOTA activities on the 11m.

This website will permit to continue to prepare SOTA Tour with a maximum of neutrality.

Link to the website :* http://sota11m.free.fr/ (click on the flag on the top left to change language)

We created a newsgroup dedicated to SOTA on 11m, to have a maximum of objectivity and if you are interested to help, to give your ideas, we invite you contacting us.

Sure every group will active with his respective callsign (own organisation), the main goal would be to have more friends active from different regions, different summits on their respective group, and to give a maximum of points to the hunters.

If you have SOTA projects this year, ideas, you are more than welcome.

More infos contact us : sotamanagers@...

J'ai un amis qui doit aller aux Baléares en vacances à la fin du mois qui aimerait y être actif à condition qu'il n'y ait pas de risque de confiscation du matos.

Si quelqu'un peut m'aider..

Bonne soirée

18AT/RA58 "S.E.S" Special Event Station for the 58th Rally Acropolis , Rally of GREECE by 18AT119 Mr Theo & 18AT122 Mr Jim

QSL Manager: 18AT122 Mr JIM VORIOU IPIROU 17
C.P 15237 , FILOTHEI
-GREECE-

More info available here: http://www.18at122.gr/18atra58.htm

Few words about this big Event:
All the main contenders of the World Rally Championship are in the entry list of the Acropolis Rally 2012!
The Acropolis Rally of Greece will typically start on Thursday, 24 May at 17:00, with the ceremonial start in front of Zappion and 55 crews taking part in it. After the Argentina Rally, the teams and crews will have to prepare for the toughest event of the WRC calendar, which is bigger in both its length and days being held.
The World Championship leaders Loeb-Elena, in the Citroen DS3 WRC, will try to win the Greek event, after two occasions when they didn't grab the victory in our country. The Citroen debut of their teammates Hirvonen-Lehtinen is also very interesting, since the Finn duo were the winners of the 2009 Acropolis Rally edition, when they were driving for Ford. So their first Acropolis entrance in a Citroen is really important. For ford WRT, it is worth watching Petter Solberg, who has returned to a factory team after three years rallying as a privateer, as well as of course the Ford team leaders Jari-Matti Latvala-Miika Anttila, who are returning in the Ford Fiesta RS WRC, after the drivers' skiing injury, that kept them out of the Argentina Rally. It is also worth noting, that the Greek spectators may not be able to see Dani Sordo-Carlos Del Barrio in a Prodrive prepared Mini JCW WRC, but the newest car of the WRC category will be in the Greek Special Stages, driven by Armindo Araujo-Miguel Ramalho and Paulo Nobre-Paula Edu. Except from the crews mentioned above, there are more, important, WRC cars in the entry list. Some of them are the young and talented Ott Tanak and Evgeny Novikov, co driven by Kuldar Sikk and Denis Giraudet respectively, for the M-Sport Ford WRT, the Portugal Rally winners Mads Ostberg-Jonas Andersson in another Ford Fiesta RS WRC, as well as Thierry Neuville-Nicolas Gilsoul in a Citroen DS3 WRC.
Except from the WRC cars, in the Acropolis Rally will participate 10 crews of PWRC Category, as well as 11 crews of WRC Academy, who will enter the event in identical Ford Fiesta's R2 during Thursday (Kinetta), Friday and the first leg of Saturday. In the entry list, there are also 7 Greek crews, headed by 2011 Greek Rally Champions Lambros Kyrkos-George Polizois, in a Mitsubishi Lancer EVO 9.
The Acropolis Rally 2012 that will be held from may 24th to 27th will host crews from 32 countries that will compete in 22 special stages of 410 kilometers in total. Stay tuned for the 58th rendez-vous of Greece with the World Rally Championship!

Good luck ,

Bonjour Gérald, André, et la liste, nous n'avons pas encore pratiqué les Alpes avec Dorota, nous espérons gouter aux joies de gravir des sommets alpins cet été (ou au moins un si le temps et le climat nous le permettent).

Quoi qu'il en soit, je trouve que cette activité SOTA est un fantastique pôle pour nous retrouver (toutes bandes radio et modes d'émission confondus) c'est l'occasion de passer du bon temps tous ensemble sans barrières. C'est ce que j'apprécie,* je déteste le principe de "caste" que nous impose la société moderne, basée sur l'apparence et l'illusoire virtuel *(Facebook, Twitter entre autre...).

A mon sens, c'est la difficulté qui nous unit, et un amour certain pour la montagne, la radio est presque en second plan.

Ce type d'activité se mérite et comme l'indiques Gérald ou d'autres, "il faut savoir renoncer" car par moment, cela peut être risqué. *Nous parlons bien ici de risques importants, de risques vitaux.
Pour mémoire, lorsque nous sommes redescendu du pierrier de la Maladeta / Aneto en 2010 avec un certain sentiment d'échec, nous avions vraiment psychologiquement du mal, ne serait ce que pour poser un pied devant l'autre. Lorsque l'on arrive à ce niveau de fatigue, on est alors certainement proche de la limite physique.

J'ai une admiration sans failles lorsque je vois ce que certains(es) alpinistes parviennent à faire, à cet effet, je vous invite à lire cet article :
http://radio-dx44.xooit.com/t3431-Expedition-Xtreme-sur-le-K2-a-8611m.htm

J'ai un peu l'impression que dans ce cas là, c'est le psychique qui nous guide, comme ci le corps ne faisait plus que reproduire des mouvements machinalement. Cela arrive rarement mais lorsque ça arrive, c'est très éprouvant, *le fait de renoncer et une décision lourde (moralement), qui fait du mal à une personne engagée, mais cela démontre aussi une grande sagesse.*

Ce genre de vidéo représente parfaitement l'ascension d'un SOTA difficile et comment ce type d'activité peut passer d'une source de plaisir intense devant des panoramas superbes en pleine nature, à un véritable calvaire..

C'est aussi la raison pour laquelle si peu ne se lancent dans ce type d'activité*,* là je parle de gros dénivelés à 8-10pts ("F", "DL", "EA..."), bien évidement* et pas d'une activité radio portable sur une colline à 8-10pts "culminant" à 900m en "G"*... Bref... Et peu importe finalement, nous formons une entité a part entiére, les SOTAïstes tissent des liens d'amitié, cela va à l'encontre d'un système qui nous divise. *

Gouter aux joies de la simplicité, du partage, d'un fierté mêlée au bonheur de gravir un beau belvédère est plaisant, envoutant et peut devenir une véritable drogue, une véritable fièvre... *

Ou lorsqu'on a terminé une rando on réfléchit déjà à la suivante. Pis encore on randonne, on en bave, on sue et on regarde un sommet proche en se posant la question suivante : Comment y monter ?

Paradoxalement, le SOTA est beaucoup moins chassé (ce qui me parait un lourd tribu) que d'autres type d'activité...
*
Alors pourquoi ?*

Et bien peut être comme certains amis disent si bien on a la : *"SOTA FEVER" !! (La "fièvre" du SOTA)

SOTA quand tu nous tiens...* [?][?][?]

Merci encore à André pour tout ces moments partagés et à ceux qui vont arriver cet été, nous avons hâte d'y être et d'en baver HI !

Mont Valier F/PE-031 on air ?

FR - Bonjour à tous, nous allons éssayer de monter au Mont Valier F/PE-031 (2000m de dénivelé) demain matin pour éssayer d'être actif Samedi.

La météo n'étant pas favorable rien n'est certain, nous verrons sur place si cela est réalisable au pire cela nous fera une jolie balade.

ENG - Hi, we will try to reach Mont Valier F/PE-031 (2000m of difference of level) tomorrow morning ans try to be active Saturday.

Weather condiitons means bad we will see if it's possible to do it, at worst it will do us a nice ride.

Hi all Dxers ,

Me and Mr Theo we would like to announce you that our succesful S.E.S (Special Event Station) 18AT/RA58 of the 58th RALLY ACROPOLIS , RALLY OF GREECE , finished today with 574 contacts in our Log , into one month with great propagation!

Thanks everybody who worked our Special Event Station this Year and we hope to work you again the next Year under the call sign: 18AT/RA59.

The QSL Preview , Videos and the Online Logbook of 18AT/RA58 are available here:
http://www.18at122.gr/18atra58.htm

The new double QSL card is already in printing procedure and the next 2 weeks I will start answering all the letters of this Special Event Station , so please be patient!

Have a nice weekend ,

Good evening all fm's ,

Today I received back one letter from SPAIN for 30RPA188 Mr Paco.
I had posted my letter for him for 18AT/EU067/AI "ANDROS Island".
This letter was undelivered and came back to me today...

Does anybody know the address of 30RPA188 Mr Paco?
I want to confirm his address once again.

Any help is welcome!

2229. INFO - FDX QSL Bureau - US

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2012-06-28 18:56:53 UTC
From: Michael Fdx
Topic: 2229 Message: 2229

FDX QSL Bureau
English version

1 - ADDRESS

FDX BUREAU
BP: 70113
31772 COLOMIERS Cedex
FRANCE

Contact : fdxadmin@...

Who take care of it ? The Midi Pyrenees Team Aim ? The FDX QSL bureau have been created to limit expenses of those who contact our activities.
You can confirm up to 4 FDX activations (DXCC, IOTA, IWI, SOTA, MOTA, COTA, LOTA..) with only one normal contribution, if you have between 5 and 8 activations, we ask 2 normal contributions, betweent 9 and 12 activations 3 normal contributions are necessary.

2 - HOW IT WORKS ?

A - You have contacted between 1 and 4 FDX activations during the year ?
- You have to send a QSL card with a small logbook including all the the contacts infos (or one card per activation it's as you want).
- You have to include 1 self-addressed envelope (easily readable) + 1 normal contribution

What is 1 normal contribution ?

- 1 valid French stamp (preferred)
OR
- 1 valid international coupon (preferred)
OR
- 1 US Dollar (if you do not have French stamps or IRC)
OR
- 1 Euro (if you do not have French stamps or IRC)

B - You have contacted between 5 and 8 FDX activations during the year ?
- You have to send a QSL card and a small logbook including all the the contacts infos (or one card per activation it's as you want).
- You have to include 1 self-addressed envelope (easily readable) + 2 normal contributions

B - You have contacted between 9 and 12 FDX activations during the year ?
- You have to send a QSL card and a small logbook including all the the contacts infos (or one card per activation it's as you want).
- You have to include 1 self-addressed envelope (easily readable) + 3 normal contributions...

And so on...

3 - CONDITIONS

- The contribution(s) have to be valid (IRC, price of the stamp..)
- For more than 4 cards you have to send 2 contributions because of the weight of the mailing.
- All your cards have to be sent in a envelope and not separately (too boring).

Free DXers don't ask to people to pay the QSL cards or the cost of our expedition (this is paid by the activating teams) we ask you to pay the mailing.
We do not have financial means to pay returnings of those who "forget" their contributions, as we do not have renewal and we are a free association.
We think that activating teams (who already pay for QSL cards, transport cost, logistic...) do not have to pay besides for your mailing.

4 - PARTICULARITY - ABOUT SOTA TOUR

About the SOTA Tour you can send QSL + your LOG (including all the summits you've contacted during the summer) + 1 normal contribution that will permitt you to confirm all the SOTA activities made under FDX + MEX + CRX callsign.

QSL Bureau FDX

1 - ADRESSE

FDX BUREAU
BP: 70113
FRANCE

Contact : fdxadmin@...

Qui s'en occupe ? La Team Midi Pyrénées
But ? Le QSL bureau FDX a été créé pour limiter les frais de retours de ceux qui envoient leur courrier.
Vous pouvez donc confirmer jusqu'à 4 activations FDX (DXCC, IOTA, IWI, SOTA, MOTA, COTA, LOTA..) avec une unique contribution, entre 5 et 8 activations vous pouvez envoyer 2 contributions normales, entre 9 et 12 activations 3 contributions normales...

---
2 - FONCTIONNEMENT ?

A - Vous avez contacté 4 activations FDX, sur l'année ?
- Vous pouvez envoyer une carte de QSL et un papier (log) incluant les infos des contacts établis (ou une carte par activation, comme vous le souhaitez).
- Vous incluez 1 enveloppe self-adressée (lisible) + 1 contribution normale

Qu'est ce qu'1 contribution "normale" ?

- 1 timbre Français tarif valide (préféré)
OU
- 1 coupon international valide (préféré)

OU
- 1 Dollar US (si vous n'avez pas de timbre FR ou d'IRC)
OU
- 1 Euros (si vous n'avez pas de timbre FR ou d'IRC)

B - Vous avez contacté entre 5 et 8 activations FDX, sur l'année ?
- Vous pouvez envoyer une carte de QSL et un papier (log) incluant les infos des contacts établis (ou une carte par activation, comme vous le souhaitez).
- Vous incluez 1 enveloppe self-adressée (lisible) + 2 contributions normales
C - Vous avez contacté entre 9 et 12 activations FDX, sur l'année ?
- Vous pouvez envoyer une carte de QSL et un papier (log) incluant les infos des contacts établis (ou une carte par activation, comme vous le souhaitez).
- Vous incluez 1 enveloppe self-adressée (lisible) + 3 contributions normales
Et ainsi de suite...

3 - CONDITIONS

- La contribution doit être en cours de validité (IRC, tarif du timbre..)
- Respectez le nombre de contributions en fonction du nombre de retour sinon le poids sera trop élevé pour vous renvoyer le courrier avec toutes les confirmations.
- Les cartes doivent être dans une seule enveloppe et ne pas avoir été envoyées séparément (trop fastidieux).

Free DXers ne demande pas aux gens de payer les cartes de QSL ou les frais liés aux activations (ceci étant payé par les gens qui activent)mais simplement le prix des retours courriers.
Nous n'avons pas les moyens financiers de payer les retours de ceux qui ne mettent pas de contribution, car nous sommes une association sans adhésion.
De plus, nous pensons les gens qui activent et qui payent déjà les cartes de QSL, les frais de transport et de logistique pour les activations n'ont pas à payer vos retours courrier en plus.

4 - CAS PARTICULIER - SOTA TOUR

Attendez la fin du SOTA Tour (15/10/2012) pour envoyez une seule carte QSL + un LOG (indiquant tout les sommets contactés (tout groupes) durant l'été) + 1 contribution normale, ce qui vous permettra de confirmer tout les SOTA activés pour les groupes FDX + MEX + CRX.

14TC001 Patrick "le hibou"
Repose en paix - Rest in peace

He was a good friend and I know that he was sick, I'm just sad and I hope he will join the DXers paradise.

Our latest QSO was not long ago during our holly-days in Spain, I am pleased to have an ultimate contact with him.

With Dorota, we wish all the best to our friend Patrick be sure that we will keep good memories of you.

Sincere condolences to the family and 73's from your friends of the waves.

John and Dorota

PS : This to remind that life is short we have to give our best

<----------->

Il était un bon ami et je sais qu'il était malade, je suis juste triste et j'espère qu'il rejoindra le paradis des DXers.

Notre dernièrs QSO fut il n'y a pas bien longtemps lors de nos vacances en Espagne, Je suis heureux d'avoir eus un ultime contact avec lui.

Je souhaite tout le meilleur à mon grand ami Patrick avec Dorota nous garderons un bon souvenir de toi.

Nos condoléances sincéres à la famille.

Ultimes 73 de tes amis des ondes.

John et Dorota

PS : Ceci pour rappeler que la vie est courte, nous devons faire de notre mieux

Good morning all Dxers ,

This week I answered all my letters of our S.E.S (Special Event Station) for the 58th RALLY ACROPOLIS , RALLY OF GREECE.
The new double QSL cards arrived at my hands the last week and I worked very hard just to answer them soon!
On Monday 30/7/2012 I will post all my letters and hopefully at the end of the next week anyone will receive this wonderful double QSL card of this Rally.

More info about this Special Event Station are available here:

Good evening all users & listeners of the 11mt band ,

I would like to announce you that since today 5/9/2012 , 18AT122 Jim's Live Streaming Station will be OFF AIR because I have moved at my new home and there is not anymore any radio at my old home.

Hopefully at the end of September my Live Streaming Station will be ON AIR again from my new base.
So please be patient and I will send you a new announcement when my Live Streaming Station will be ON AIR again!

eQSL pour le 11m

Bonsoir depuis quelques jours, Michael (74LD101) à mis en place un système d’échange d'eQSL via un petit programme qui est téléchargeable sur son site.

Lien :
http://qrz11.phpbb8.de/useful-tools-f28/qrz11-logbook-with-eqsl-function-t190.html

Une fois le programme téléchargé et installé, ce dernier se connecte sur la base de données de QRZ11.com afin de procéder aux échanges de données.

Une petite révolution pour le monde du 11m qui a désormais son premier véritable système d'échange de QSL par Internet.

N'hésitez pas à demander des infos et à apporter vos idées sur le forum de QRZ11.com il vous suffit de vous y inscrire :

http://qrz11.phpbb8.de/ucp.php?mode=register

*73 et bons échanges à tous !

I am briefly going to introduce/reintroduce myself as I either may not have been active on this forum in a long time, and am new to it, or some of you may know me from a different forum.

My name is Eric Extreme and I am from Auburn, Massachusetts. You may have heard me DXing on the airwaves using the call sign 2 American Eagle 813 or simply American Eagle 813. Locally I am known as "Extreme".

I have been involved with the hobby since 1992 (20 years going strong!)

I keep all of my DXing logs and hobby history online on my website at http://www.ExtremeRadio.us (no it is not a company and doesn't sell anything. It is just my personal story/log website)

I spend most of my time on 27.385 LSB (38) and 27.555 USB (52). Sometimes I may also be heard on random AM channels between 22 & 28 DXing.

I hope to catch some of you on the airwaves. If you here me out there please give me a shout or let me know that you heard me out there.

[FR + ENG] SOTA QSL &FDX Cards -> QSP PSE

FRANÇAIS :

Bonsoir juste pour vous dire que certains retour sur la division 55 sont bloqués du fait que la carte QSL des SOTA n'est pas été imprimées.

En fait je n'ai plus trop de temps à consacrer à la radio et je n'ai donc pas pus créer la maquette du SOTA tour 2012, du coup les cartes QSL qui ont été envoyées groupées avec d'autres activations FDX sont bloquées en attendant que cette maquette soit imprimée.

La maquette sera faite au plus vite et en fonction du temps qui me reste, j'ai déjà demandé l'aide d'un vieil ami et qui est d'accord pour m'aider.

Désolé pour le contretemps, merci de QSP.

ENGLISH :

Good evening i would like to inform you that some QSL are bloqued at FDX bureau because the SOTA QSL card have'nt benen printed.

I do not have so much free time to do radio and I was not able to create the latest 2012 SOTA Tour QSL card, that's why all the cards sent in the same time of some other FDX activities are blocked, because we need to print this QSL in first.

The QSL will be printed as soon as possible, depending on my free time, I already asked to an old friend to help me on this work and he accepted.

Sorry for the delay TNX to QSP.

Hi all (please fell free to forward this to other forums)

There as been some problems to sign up for the Island Festival 2015 - these problems are now solved.

It is a great pleasure to announce that we again offer all operators access to

The Worlds biggest In-The-Field Contest:

The Island Festival 2015

The Island Festival takes place

- from June 6th 0:00 GMT

- to June 7th 23:59 GMT

In total: 48 hours of radio activity.

You can from today sign up your team at www.Islandfestival.net here you also can find all other info about rules etc.etc.

Best wishes

Some info from The Island Festival 2015 Team

There is only 5 weeks until this fantastic yearly event will be on the air.

New Teams are signing up every day.

Again this year there will be a lot of new island on the air.

You check www.islandfestival.net and see the teams, and you can also register YOUR Team and be a part of the Island Festival 2015 from 6. June 00:00 GMT to 7. June 23:59 GMT

Best wishes

Tom 47DX052

Member of the ISF2015 Team

Some background information:

The Island Festival was created under the umbrella of the WWRO, the World Wide Radio Organization in 2008. From 2011 the management of the Island Festival has been transferred to its own organization and The Island Festival is today totally independent of WWRO or any other organization. Summaries of each years event is found on the www.islandfestival.net website.

The intention of the island festival has never changed; we want to activate 11 meter band with "non-sofa" island activities, we want to go out in the field, to travel over bridges and waters to an island to give island hunters the opportunity to log that island

Go alone, go with friends. Or join another planned activation and meet new friends. Simply just activate an island - or stay at home and work the many activated islands.

Every year we will find winners - and publish their achievements in the famous "Final Results" document, setting new standards for this kind of events.

Organizing Team 2015

Organizing the Island Festival is a big task and all work is contributed on a voluntary basis. If you would like to help out, please contact us.

2316. ISF-2015 New Category for Teams

Yahoo group: dxers11metergroup
Date: 2015-05-22 16:38:26 UTC
From: 47DX052@Delta-Xray.net
Topic: 2316 Message: 2316

Hi all

To lift the motivation for Activators in the Island Festival-edition we few days ago re-introduced the Classification "Club Classification": The club (with all teams from a club) making the most points will win this category.

Now we introduce the new sub-classifications (=categories) for Activators Classification:

One day category (Activators)

Rule:

If you cannot participate as an Activator (single or with friends) over both days, you can participate in the contest and still have the possibility to win the category: "One day Activators" For Teams active only ONE DAY (Either Saturday OR Sunday). During sign up you must decide if you participate in the One-day Category or for all 48h contest.

If One-day Category: During sign-up, please inform if you participate Saturday OR Sunday.

Intention:

We want to motivate Activators to activate as many islands as possible. For those Activators that can not participate during all 48 hours (both days) but like the "contest" element of the Island Festival can now still have motivation to Activate an island - even when its not for all 48 hours.

Merci pour les QSO depuis ces cimes! / Thanks for the QSO made from this summits!

Nous quittons la division 330 aujourd'hui pour rejoindre la 161, avec quelques activations sympas en perspective (et peut-être une activité depuis la 315 (rien de sur)), en espérant vous écouter nombreux sur l'air!

We leave 330 division today in the direction of 161, with some exciting new activities (and perhap's from 315 division (nothing sure)), hoping to hear you soon on the air!

Hello Tom (WT155) The group owner here

Just thought I'd send a note asken if you know anyone interested in CB radio and DXing on the 11 meter band the bring them over our way

scanner listeners welcome to

Plus if you think of ways to better our group let Whiskeytango155 , Kj7GS or swler007 know and we will take it into account

Thank You for being a member and happy DXing ;-)

Tom(wt155) Group owner

P.S This note will be sent out once a month just as a group reminder

and if you got other things you like to chat about other then radios then check out this group
